Charter Given Lions Club at Myrtle Creek

sense of solidarity, a sense of humor and a sense of direction. A club is strong only as a whole club, he said. It weakens when it breaks up into small groups.

The social security act of 1935 shows "the recognition of government of the insecurities of life," he stated. "Group solidarity is built upon consolidation." He quoted Franklin Delano Roosevelt, who said, "We have to create the science of human relationship whereby people can live together in peace."

Although emphasizing the importance of humor in our every day life and in club work, he dwelt more strongly upon his third point—the need of an organization to develop a sense of direction. He advised setting one's sights pretty far ahead, but not too far, and work towards a definite goal. A sense of direction grows out of what you are doing, he said. In working with a teenage group, he suggested that the group be gotten first. Then start a program. Don't start the program first and "cram it down their throats."

Beauty Contest Noted

Announcement was made by Forrest Losee and Al McBee of Roseburg on the forthcoming Miss Roseburg contest, the winner to be entered in the Miss Oregon contest at Seaside in competition to determine the Miss America entry. Each Lions Club in Douglas County was extended an invitation to ener a candidate. Entries must be single girls 18 to 28 years, and judging will be based on beauty, personality and talent. Nearly $1,000 in prizes have already been donated for the participants, they said.

Toastmaster Elliott called the meeting to order, followed by the singing of "America" and salute to the flag. Rev. A. R. Rutledge pronounced the invocation. In behalf of President Harger, Elliott welcomed the visitors, and the response was extended by Losee. An introduction of guests reveled 10 from Grants Pass, 3 Central Point, 1 Medford, 2 Gardiner-Reedsport, 8 Riddle, 11 Canyonville, 3 Drain, 2 Junction City and 20 from Roseburg.

The entertainment part of the program included two vocal solos, "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling," and "Serenade to the Bells," Pauline Kusler; piano selections, Jack Knapp, who entertained on service shows while in the Army; tap dance the Thomas twins; vocal solo, "Indian Love Call," and a piano selection, Pat McGuire; hula dance, Marianne Shirtcliff and Carol Jones; guitar selections, Hugh Simpson.

The banquet was prepared by the Eastern Star Social Club and the Rebekahs. Girls of the Job's Daughters served.
