Dirge.

[The recent death of Leigh Hunt makes appropriate the publication of the following lines, written by himself. They are a fitting dirge for the author.]

Blessed is the turf, serenely blessed,
Where throbbing hearts may sink to rest;
Where life's long journey turns to sleep,
Nor ever pilgrim wakes to weep.
A little sod, a few sad flowers,
A tear for long departed hours,
Is all that feeling hearts request
To hush their weary hearts to rest.
There shall no vain ambition come
To lure them from their quiet home;
Nor Sorrow lift, with heart-strings riven,
The meek, imploring eye to heaven;
Nor cal Remembrance sleep to shed
His wrinkles on the slumberer's head;
And never, never Love repair
To breath his idle whisper there.

LITTLE GRAVES.—Sacred places for pure thoughts and holy meditation are the little graves in the church yard. They are the depositories of the mother's sweetest joy, half unfolded buds of innocence, humanity touched by the frost of time, ere yet a single canker worm of corruption had nestled among its embryo petals. Callous, indeed, must be the heart of him who can stand by a little grave-side and not have the holiest emotions of the soul awakened to the thoughts of purity and joy which belong alone to God and heaven; for the mute preacher at his feet tells him of a life begun and ended without a stain; and surely this is the spirit land, enlightened by the sun of infinite goodness whence emanated the soul of that brief sojourner among us. How swells the heart of parent with mournful joy while standing by the cold earth-bed of lost little ones!—mournful because a sweet treasure is taken away, and joyful because that precious jewel glitters in the diadem of the Redeemer.

THE DYING YEAR.—How plain it is the year is dying, and how beautiful the shades that fly under the dark clouds that cross the sun's path. How pleasant, too, the sunny pieces of the broken days that fill the measure of the passing season. Such is all life, and dying is as much a part of it as any. As we move on toward the point where the down grade ensues, the years spin around and crowd each other so, that it seems the multiplying generations following, jealous of the time we are occupying, were urging the car, bright bannered and gold fringed, in which some years ago we started on a pleasure trip.—Sierra Democrat.

☞ Impossibilities are not asked. The errors of ignorance, if not willfully persisted in against knowledge, are to be pardoned—these are a part of the natural ladder by which man is to climb above imperfection—thorns and pebbles in the path over which he runs his race to perfection. Man knows instinctively what he would have his fellow men to do to him, and the Golden Rule, by which the conscience is kept clear, only requires that we shall do the same in return.

☞ With our finite understandings we comprehend sacred things just as a child, which has just acquired a knowledge of the alphabet, might be supposed to read a volume—what manner of insight into its contents would we gain?

☞ It is well, says Chateaubriand, to prostrate ourself in the dust when we have committed a fault, but it is not well to remain there.

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.

PROSPECTUS.
VOLUME FIFTEEN BEGINS SEPT. 11, 1859.

MECHANICS, INVENTORS,
Manufacturers, and Farmers.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has now reached its Fourteenth Year, and will enter upon a New Volume on the 11th of September. It is the only weekly publication of the kind now issued in this country, and it has a very extensive circulation in all the States of the Union. It is not, as some might suppose from its title, a dry, abstruse work on technical science; on the contrary, it so deals with the great events going on in the scientific, mechanical, and industrial worlds, as to please and instruct every one. If the mechanic or artisan wishes to know the best machine in use, or how to make any substance employed in his business—if the housewife wishes to get a recipe for making a good color, &c.,—if the inventor wishes to know what is going on in the way of improvements—if the manufacturer wishes to keep posted with the times, and to enjoy the best facilities in his business—if the man of leisure and study wishes to keep himself familiar with the progress made in the chemical laboratory, or in the construction of telegraphs, steamships, railroads, reapers, mowers, and a thousand other machines and appliances, both of peace and war—all these desiderata can be found in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, and not elsewhere. They are here presented in a reliable and interesting form, adapted to the comprehension of minds unlearned in the higher branches of science and art.

TERMS:—One copy, one year, $2; one copy, six months, $1; five copies, six months, $4; ten copies, six months, $8; ten copies, twelve months, $15; fifteen copies, twelve months, $22; twenty copies, twelve months, $28, in advance.

Specimen copies sent gratuitously for inspection. Postage stamps taken for subscriptions.

Letters should be directed to
MUNN & CO.,
128 Fulton st., New York.

Messrs. MUNN & Co. are extensively engaged in procuring patents for new inventions, and will advise inventors, without charge, in regard to the novelty of their improvements.

BEFORE AND AFTER USING

DR. JACOB WEBBER'S SANGUIFIER,
Or Invigorating Cordial.

What though the sun in beauty shine,
And you have countless hoards of wealth;
What though the world—all, all was thine.
If you but want the blessing, Health.

An Honest Appeal!

To all with bad or failing health.

ARE you languid, inanimate, restless, appetite poor, digestion bad, and pains in the limbs, body back, and head? Reader, much of this is caused from cold caught unwittingly, or, in seven cases out of ten, sluggishness of the liver and blood, and want of natural perspiration, indiscretion in the use of food and drink, or from a dryness in the atmosphere—which is a very unhealthy part of this climate—many of the awful, sudden, and sudd n deaths that occur here must be attributed to this. Now, reader, I have made this my study for many years, and I do assure you that my DR. WEBBER'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL SANGUIFIER will cure these causes—it will insure animation of the liver, blood, and brains—it strengthens the nerves, and gives to the sufferer a lightness of spirits, a mental and bodily feeling of strength that is delightful. The many respectable persons who have been benefited by and certified to its extraordinary qualities in curing any of the following diseases, must satisfy all but the self-wise and ignorant skeptic—dyspepsia, or indigestion, loss of muscular or bodily strength and mental energy; fever, ague, or chills; rheumatic, neuralgic, or other pains; depletion and weakness of the natural functions, debility from disease, dissipation, too much doctoring, debauchery, and other causes; in case of excitement from constant intemperance, and where delirium tremens has occurred, I have seen it change the sufferer in half an hour from the most horrible state to calmness and placidity. It can, indeed, be conscientiously recommended to all suffering, and the proprietor regrets deeply that it is necessary thus to advertise it, in order that its merits may be known.

Intemperance and Debauchery,
Constitutional Weakness, &c.,
DECLINE OF NATURE, PREMATURE OR NATURAL WEAKNESS OF THE FUNCTIONS, NERVOUSNESS, WEAKNESS, CONSTIPATION, WAKEFULNESS AND EXHAUSTION:
Dr. Webber's Sanguifier
is a divine remedy. See affidavits & certificates.

A case of Chills, Ague Tremors, general debility & ill health soon cured.

Mr. Uriah Weeks, who arrived from Panama March 2d, completely prostrate, weak, and scarcely able to move; had the Panama fever three months; had pains in the bones, chills, no appetite, strength or energy; he used Webber's Cordial two weeks, and felt so strong and well that on the 17th he went to the mines, where he is now working.

SARSAPARILLA AND BITTER DRINKERS, READ!

DEER SIR, AND GOOD FRIEND.—I herewith inform you that I have taken in seven months over sixty bottles of Sarsaparilla, Bitters, and other remedies for confirmed Dyspepsia, Weakness of the chest, indigestion, and a general feebleness of my system, without getting any particular relief.—Two bottles of your Cordial have benefitted me so much that I am a different being. Please to send two bottles more, which I feel sure will effect a perfect cure. If this will benefit you or the afflicted, you are at liberty to publish it.

That we purpose selling for at least ten per cent
Cheaper for cash than we could on time;
This is certainly better, the buyer will find.

Here ladies can find all they may require,
From fine silk dresses to plain bonnet wire;
The gentlemen also can here be rigged out
With fine doe pants, vest, shirt, and a coat.

The farmers also should here come and see
If we have not got good sugar and coffee,
Tea, rice, starch, tobacco, salt, and soap,
Nails, cups and saucers, salaratus, and rope.

Come farmers, try us, and then you will see
If we do not do just as we agree;
We promise to sell goods at prices below,
With freight only added, which is right you know.

For fear you forget just where we reside,
Post & White's Book Store is on the east side;
La Forest & Bacon is the name of the firm,
Our motto, small profits but a quick return.

Bring on your cash, your eggs, and your butter,
And if it is raining don't stop for the weather.
All indebted to us, you come along too,
The cash we are needing, your custom also.
