Opening of New Dallas Gym Highlights Tuesday Cage Play

Tuesday night's mid-holiday high school basketball action is on the sparse side for number of games scheduled. But one in particular draws the feature role for the week.

That one is due at Dallas, where the Dragons will celebrate the long-awaited opening of their new gym in a game with the Tillamook Cheesemakers. Bee teams will open play in the 2,000 seat arena at 6:45 o'clock. The varsities then take over, and the Dragons cagers will at last be free of their infamous "Black Hole" playing area at the old high school in Dallas.

A Monday night clash has Amity at Falls City, and on Tuesday night Amity plays at Perrydale.

Other Tuesday nighters, none of them league excursions, find North Marion at Canby, Forest Grove at Central Hi, Albany at McMinnville, Philomath at Sheridan, Newberg at Molalla, Eugene at Marshfield and Sherwood vs. Toledo at Waldport. Sherwood plays Waldport High at Waldport Wednesday night, and on Thursday night Shedd is at Scio.

For other than both Oregon and Oregon State, on the road this week, the collegiate menu for teams of the area is skimpy also. A Monday nighter finds Portland Outdoor Store AAUs at Linfield, and Southern Oregon's Red Raiders at Lewis & Clark in Portland.

On Tuesday night the Everybody's Drugs of Eugene play at Linfield, and Southern Oregon opens a two-night stand at Forest Grove with Pacific University.

The Willamette Bearcats go back into action January 1-2 with Central Washington here. OCE also has a January 1 assignment with St. Martin's at Monmouth.

Most of the preppers will again be idle the coming weekend, but swing into full action once more on Tuesday, January 5.

Cup Outcome to Hinge On Seixas-Hoad Battle

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE, (AP) — America's Davis Cup fate may be known by Monday afternoon.

The opening match of the high tension challenge round sends Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas against Australia's power-hitting young ace, Lewis Hoad, and most everybody agrees next year's residence of the international tennis trophy probably hinges on the outcome.

The second match at Kooyong's vast 17,500-seat stadium pits razor-sharp U. S. champion Tony Trabert against Australia's little all-court wizard, Ken Rosewall. The American is heavily favored.

The Seixas-Hoad match will start the festivities at 1:15 p. m., Monday (7:15 p. m. PST, Sunday).

The United States pins its hopes on a Seixas victory over Hoad. Seixas has beaten the blond youngster six straight times—four times this year—and only once was he carried as many as five sets.

Up To Seixas

If Seixas fails—and you can get 4-1 here that he will—then Australia will become an overwhelming favorite to retain the cup, regardless of the Trabert-Rosewall outcome.

Australia, with two experienced doubles teams, is a strong choice in the tandem event Tuesday and then on Wednesday it's Trabert against Hoad and Seixas against Rosewall.

Hoad beat Trabert in their only meeting in the semifinals of the New South Wales Tournament about a month ago and Rosewall, with his passing shots, has tamed Seixas the last six times they have met.

So it's easy to see the importance of the opening day's matches before the largest crowd ever to witness a tennis match.

Cage Tourney Opens Monday

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The nation's basketball extremes, high scoring Mississippi and stingy Oklahoma City University, headline the eight-team field in the 18th annual all-college basketball tournament starting Monday.

The tourney, one of the oldest holiday cage meets, opens with OCU meeting Furman and Oklahoma A & M playing Mississippi. Tuesday night finds Wyoming and Cincinnati playing in the first game and Santa Clara and Tulsa meeting in the nightcap. Consolation games are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday afternoon with the finals on New Year's Eve.

The Oklahoma Aggies, the only team to compete in all the all-college meets, are favored to take their 11th title.

Browns Liked Today in Pro Payoff Battles

Both teams worked out Saturday over the scarred turf in Briggs Stadium.

Buddy Parker, Lion Coach, expressed displeasure over the condition of the field.

It is soft and mushy in spots and hard in others. There's very little grass left and there's nothing but mud along one of the sidelines. The groundskeepers said this will be covered over with dirt by game time.

"I don't know if we'll use cleats or sneakers," said Parker. "I'll make up my mind before the game."

It was 28 degrees and the Lions used cleats in Cleveland last year when they upset the Browns 17-7 for the NFL title. That game marked the second straight year Cleveland was beaten in the title game. Los Angeles whipped them 24-17 in 1951.

So it's not hard to see why the Browns, and especially Coach Paul Brown, are determined to win this one. They want to avoid being tagged "the Brooklyn Dodgers of pro football."

Parker says defense likely will decide the game.

"Both teams are great defensively," said the Detroit coach. "And that's what should decide it."

There will be "sudden death" if the game ends in a tie after the regulation 60 minutes. Acoin will be flipped to determine who kicks off and the teams will play until somebody scores.

Cleveland enters the game with an 11-1 record losing to Philadelphia in the final game of the season. Detroit's mark is 10-2, with most of the victories coming by narrow margins.

Gophers Win Again

CINCINNATI (AP) — Minnesota won its seventh straight basketball game Saturday night, tripping Xavier of Cincinnati 67-64.

The Gophers, ranked eighth in the nation, overcame a 40-29 halftime deficit for another of their come-from-behind victories.

VANDALS IN TOURNEY

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Idaho State boxing team was enroute to New Orleans Saturday, headed for its first appearance in the Sugar Bowl tourney against Louisiana State University.

With only one titlist returning from last year's NCAA championship squad, the Idaho State mittmen face eight bouts Monday night with an improved LSU team.

Max McGee of Tulane scored twice for the Rebels, once diving over from the one and later on a fourth period pass from Jackie Parker of Mississippi State.

Don Ellis of Texas A & M, Clyde Bennett of South Carolina, Charlie Oakley of LSU and end Mack Franklin of Tennessee each added one touchdown, Franklin on a spectacular 44-yard pass from Ellis.

All of the Yankees' scoring came in a wild second quarter that ended with Fred Prender of West Chester, Pa., Teachers crossing the line as the horn ended the half. He had taken the ball on a 15-yard pass from Rados.

Sorrentino connected with Jack Cross of Utah earlier for a 20-yard scoring pass, and Bob Leberman of Syracuse drove on the ground from the 6.

Hannah Lauds Pasadena Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The Rose Bowl football game with UCLA had the official blessing Saturday of Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College.

Dr. Hannah was chairman of the president's committee of the American Council of Education that came out with a recommendation two years ago for the elimination of spring practices and postseason football games.

"That's all water over the dam now," Dr. Hannah said. "I was just spokesman for the group. I thought then as I do now that unregulated bowls could be undesirable.

"I do not then and do not now oppose the Rose Bowl. I have a great respect for the way the Rose Bowl is operated since control is vested in the Western Conference and Pacific Conference. I have no criticism of the Rose Bowl now."

New Features Incorporated In Five Lines

DEARBORN, Mich. — Ford's 1954 line of trucks, powered by five new ultra-modern short-stroke, low-friction, high-economy" truck engines and featuring the first tandem axle unit ever built by Ford, will go on display in dealers' showrooms across the country Wednesday, January 6.

The five truck lines, including 24 series and more than 220 models, range from 4,000 lbs. to 40,000 lbs. rated gross vehicle weight. They again feature Ford's "driverized" cabs which last year helped bring Ford a record 150 per cent truck sales increase over the previous year. And Master-Guide power steering now is available on the Big Jobs with Fordomatic fully-automatic transmission on all light duty models.

New to the line are the Series T-700 and T-800 tandem axle trucks with gross combination weights up to 60,000 lbs. They are factory built with all components engineered for tandem operation.

"The 1954 Ford truck story is one of more power, more economy and more durability, with a Ford truck to meet every hauling need," L. W. Smead, Ford Division general sales manager, said.

'54 Ford Trucks Go on Display Wednesday

DEARBORN, Mich. — This new T-800 Series tandem axle truck is the first tandem unit ever built by Ford. It handles payloads (with body) up to 29,943 lbs. As a tractor it pulls a gross combination of 60,000 lbs. within legal limits of most states. Ford's new 1954 line of trucks goes on display Wednesday.

Accident Oddities Prove Even Lawnmower Can Fire a Bullet

By LARRY ELDRED

CHICAGO (AP) — It's getting so a person just isn't safe anyhow anywhere. For instance:

You can get shot by your lawnmower, a rake or a deer.

Your baby or your dog can drive off in your car and wreck it.

Your sweetheart can make you do the same with a kiss.

On the other hand, you can be saved by the seat of your pants—but literally.

These are gleanings from the crop of accident oddities of 1953 in the December issue of Public Safety, published by the National Safety Council.

Housewifery came early to four-year-old Joan Williams, Texarkana, Ark. She became so attached to the kitchen sink when she stuck her finger down the drain that both sink and she had to go a hospital to be separated.

Robert Heinbaugh, Painesville, Ohio, had pains a - plenty when his lawnmower happened to run over a bullet which went off and shot him in the big toe.

For John Plumbe, Santa Cruz, Calif., was his rake which did him wrong. He was raking rubbish into a bonfire when he himself got raked by a blast from a shotgun shell which was picked up with the rubbish.

A deer fell to the gunfire of Shirl Kelsey, Payson, Utah, who then knelt beside his downed quarry. There was one kick left in the deer, however. A hoof hit the gun's trigger and Kelsey was shot in the thigh.

And probably the last shot rang out from the Civil War, declared ended in 1865. A souvenir shell from a long-ago battlefield fell from the fireplace mantel in the home of Ishmael Lynch, Port Gibson, Miss. Holes suddenly appeared in floor, walls and ceiling as the shell exploded, but no casualties, either Union or Confederate.

Speaking of shooting, imagine the surprise of Horace Boutwell, 13, Houston, Tex., who fired his air rifle and got hit by a .22 casing with the same shot. He had placed a .22 caliber rifle cartridge on a saw horse, backed away, aimed, fired. His dead-center shot sent the cartridge casing whizzing back into his shoulder. From his hospital bed he said, "let's see Wild Bill top that."

Then there was Mary Jane Rodden, 2½, of Memphis, Tenn. The family car stood in the driveway when Mary Jane climbed in and started making like mommy. With no place in particular to go, she crashed into the Rodden living room. She was unhurt; not so the house and car.

Anthony Widby, Detroit, went a little farther afield. He was only 2 when he drove his family car into the home of their next door neighbor.

And in Lincoln, Neb., the pet pooch of Mrs. Jewell Norman tried his paw at driving her car one day when she left the motor idling. He backed it resoundingly into another one parked nearby.

In Windsor, Ont., Eugene Duda's car jumped the curb and knocked down a lamp post. "It wasn't his fault," Betty Loveless told police. "I kissed him."

David Causey, Tuscaloosa, Ala., had his car go out of control one day when he was out driving. It came to rest nosing over the side of a bridge above a railroad track. Causey was pitched out but on the way down the seat of his pants snagged on the underpart of the car. Thus he dangled 60 feet above the tracks until rescued.

"Best seat I ever had," he said.

Congress to Get Report on Idaho Dams

By JOHN KAMPS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress soon will get its first chance to compare potential dam sites in the Snake River basin, including those in the controversial Hells Canyon area, Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho) said Saturday.

The senator said the Army Engineers in January will send Congress reports on recent surveys of dam-building possibilities in the Snake River and its tributaries. He told a reporter:

"For the first time, as a result of these investigations of additional sites, it will be possible for the Congress to have a basis for comparison and to determine which constitute the best possible sites for development of the upper watershed of the Columbia River basin.

"It would be imprudent and contrary to public interest to concentrate on one site without giving consideration to the potentialities of all possible sites for multiple purpose projects."

The "one site" to which Dworshak referred is at Hells Canyon, where a federal project has been proposed and where the Idaho Power Co. is seeking permission of the Federal Power Commission to build one of three proposed power dams.

The Army Engineers and Federal Reclamation Bureau recently completed a survey of the middle Snake and Clearwater Rivers. Dworshak's amendment to an appropriation bill early this year made $140,000 available for the investigations.

"I believe it is important to have maximum water development in the upper watershed of the Columbia basin, where flood waters can be controlled," Dworshak said. "In the past, such projects have been concentrated in the lower basin where it is difficult to control floods.

"When the reports of the Reclamation Bureau on the possibilities at the Mountain Sheep site and the Army Engineers on the Clearwater are submitted to Congress it should be possible to get a comprehensive picture of the entire area."

River Pilots Chief to Quit

PORTLAND (AP) — A 57-year career on vessels in the Columbia and Willamette rivers will end when Capt. Clyde L. Raabe, 75, retires at the end of this year as president of the Columbia River Pilots.

Raabe started as a deckhand here. The first vessel he piloted was the stern wheeler Gypsy which operated in shallow Willamette waters between Corvallis and Eugene.

During World War II he piloted more than 600 vessels on trial runs from the three Portland-Vancouver area shipyards.

Raabe will continue as a member of the Port of Portland Commission, which he has served since 1943.
