State Sets Musical Streamliner

A superlative cast of entertainers, including Marjorie Woodworth, William Marshall, Jerry Bergen, George Givot, Edward Gargan and Norma Varden, is featured in the new Hal Roach musical comedy, "Flying With Music," which starts a run at the State on Wednesday. The streamlined production was directed by George Archainbaud, and among the new song hits introduced are "If It's Love," "Rotana," "Pennies For Peppino," "Caribbean Magic" and "Song of the Lagoon."

The story of "Flying With Music" unwinds in the Caribbean, where the beautiful blonde heroine of the story is seeking a dreamlover. A tiny West Indies town, a lush tropical jungle, a primitive native settlement and a blue Caribbean lagoon were all constructed with utmost fidelity for the requirements of the script.

Another outstanding set built on the stages of the Roach studio for this Latin-American musical was an ultra-swank, streamlined Clipper-ship, modeled after the huge flying boat which link the Americas, and revealing all the luxury which this type of travel affords its passengers. The ship operated from a landing dock surrounded by thousands of gallons of water.

"Health is as important in production on home front as it is in armed forces. Ships, guns and planes must be built. Supplies must be kept rolling. When work stoppages result from ailing teeth, valuable man-hours of labor are lost."
