Didn't Want Veal.

A New York man named Ambrose, whose domestic surroundings have not been as ambrosial as they might, is suing for a divorce. His case appears to be one that calls for sympathy. On June 4 last he asked his wife what she would like for dinner. She replied roast beef. He could not get beef, so he bought veal. The wife indignantly refused to eat veal, and went in search of a policeman to have him arrested. Of course the arrest was not effected, but the question arises whether in this free country a man's liberty may be menaced because he buys veal instead of beef for dinner. If so this is crowding an American citizen pretty close. There may be several reasons why he can get veal and cannot get beef. The butcher who trusts him may have veal and not beef; or if he has beef he may prefer to keep it for the man who pays cash. He may buy veal because it produces less wear and tear on his wife's store teeth, or he may buy it as a matter of saving his own natural ones. For these and various other reasons a man should be protected in the right to buy a veal for dinner if he has to.

The Art of Blushing.

The blush must be an indication of genuine feeling of one sort or another, and cannot be summoned at will by the artful belle who has every other charming and bewildering device at her command. Yet the acquiring of the blush is not entirely hopeless. The blush is produced by genuine emotions, and until one can experience sensations of self-distrust, shyness and retiring modesty, one can never hope to obtain the blush as an accomplishment and "bid the cheek be ready with a blush modest as morning."—Boston Courier.

Having Admitted the Strength of the Evidence a Prominent Physician takes Logical Action.

The following letter tells its own story. The signature will be recognized as that of the Physician-in-Chief of the De Quincy Home, and author of "Drugs That Enslave," "The Hypodermic Injection of Morphine," A Manual of Nursing," and many other popular and valuable special medical works:

191 WEST TENTH STREET, NEW YORK, August 11, 1880.

MESSRS. SEABURY & JOHNSON,

Gentlemen:—Like most of my profession, I am cautious about pinning my faith to any new medicine or curative agent. But your BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine. Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of your other plaster and antiseptic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson's was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of Lame Back, Local Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experiment with it personally. I find BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTER an exceptionally cleanly plaster to use, and rapid in its action.

Many tests of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients have convinced me that there is no single article so valuable for popular use, nor so helpful in the diseases I have named.

Should you desire to do so, you may use my name to that effect.

Very truly yours,
H. H. KANE, A. M., M. D.

The genuine have the word CAPCINE cut in the center. Price 25 cents.
