Yoncalla Still Faces Water Plans Problem

The Yoncalla City Council Tuesday night worked to iron out some of the kinks in preparation for work on Yoncalla's new $138,000 water system.

One problem is in the purchase of land for a proposed dam and reservoir. Elmer Hofstetter, owner of the land at the proposed site, wants $10,000 for it. But only $1,000 has been budgeted, and the officials said condemnation proceedings may have to be started.

Councilmen also talked over the proposed supply line to the city, placement of a 250,000-gallon storage tank and a filtration plant.
