UNDERTAKERS

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jones of Portland were guests at the A. O. Whitcomb ranch in Garfield over Labor Day. Mr. Jones and Mr. Whitcomb are old time railroad friends, having been together in the employ of the C. B. & Q. Ry., for many years prior to Mr. Whitcomb's moving here.

Leader Honored

An enjoyable surprise party was held last Saturday evening at the Garfield Grange Hall, in honor of A. C. Davis, leader of the famous Garfield Band.

Mr. Davis is moving with his family to Milwaukie and his absence from the community and especially from the leadership of the band will be keenly felt.

About fifty friends and members of the organization took part in the evening's good time, which ended up with refreshments.

S. Pesznecker on behalf of the people of Estacada, Garfield, George and Currinsville presented to Mr. Davis a silver plate, suitably engraved, and to Mrs. Davis a beautiful locket, as a token of the esteem in which they are held by their friends.

Fry Liberated

Perry Kitzmiller, superintendent of the Eagle Creek Trout Feeding Ponds reports having sent out several cans of fry for restocking nearby streams. R. J. Palmateer and Tom Carter of Garfield hauled 2550 eastern brook trout to Delf Creek and a like number of rainbow to the upper waters of Eagle Creek. A similar supply was liberated in Clear Creek near Elwood through the efforts of Chris Bittner.

R. E. Clanton, Supt. of the State Fish and Game Commission and A. Wallace, a well known Portland sportsman visited the feeding ponds last week and are enthusiastic over the success of this form of trout propagation.

Ready to Grade

Contractors W. H. Young and Harvey Mattoon, who were awarded the contract to rebuild about one third of the Trachsel cut-off road, have already finished the clearing and are now ready to begin the grading.

The contractors are trying to obtain a new survey of that part of the road from the end of their work through to the Springwater Hill road, as they claim future work will be greatly expedited if the curves near Trachsel's house are eliminated.

5600 lbs. Per Acre

John Marchbank of Estacada, who is one of the best gardeners in this territory has this year produced 1400lb of garlic on one quarter acre of his place. This product is now quoted at 6c per pound, but last year at this time was worth triple that amount.

Joe Nicholson of Garfield is enthusiastic over his newest crop, being Soudan grass, of which he has a small experimental piece, Joe figures that his present showing will average a yield of six tons to the acre. This grass is admirably adapted for fodder and in Texas, where the crop is more generally grown, it yields three cuttings per acre of from 9 to 15 tons.

The 1915

Manufacturers and Land Products Show

Will take place at the

Armory Bldg. in Portland

October 25th to November 13th

The Portland Railway Light & Power Company

has reserved an exhibit space 50x15 feet, in which will be shown a display of the land products grown in CLACKAMAS COUNTY, along the Estacada interurban line.

The company will spare no expense to make this exhibit of value to this district, with an agricultural display, supplemented by a monstrous map of the country tributary to the Estacada line, with photographs and other concise information.

We ask the help and co-operation of every resident of this section. Sort out a display of your best agricultural products for use at that time, as the exhibits from the county fairs will not be in good condition for this display and fresh produce will be needed.

If you will help make this exhibit a success, save up your prize products now and feel free to offer suggestions.
