Keep Clean and Live Right.

Health experts talked staight from the shoulder to the students of the Oregon Agriculture College at convocation this week, as to rules of hygiene and sanitation. Dr. E. J. Stewart, of physical training for men, spoke on baths; Miss Miriam Thayer, director of physical training for women, spoke on air, exercise and proper clothing; and Prof. T. D. Beckwith, head of the department of bacteriology, talked on disease and its prevention.

"Baths as taken by the students are not always beneficial," said Dr. Stewart. "Sometimes they do more harm than good. After violent exercise on the field, in the gymnasium, or even after a brisk walk a student may have so stimulated his physicue as to have brought it to the point of exhaustion. If he takes a hot bath after it the effect is further exhausting, as it stimulates him still more. The proper temperature for a bath after such exercise is merely tepid, about the same as the blood in the body, 98 degrees. Such a bath has the effect of soothing and reducing pressure on the spinal column and the brain, acting as a general restful agent.

"Shower and plunge baths should be taken with care. A plunge in water 70 to 75 degrees acts as a bracing tonic to a robust person. The action of water under 70 degrees is to stimulate heart action. If taken suddenly has a tendency to shock the nervous system, and therefore a person who is not robust should never take a cold bath unless under doctor's advice. A tepid bath, which is soothing rather than stimulating, is good for all ages and ages. The athletes who have become bruised and take a warm bath, 95 to 105 degrees which has a soothing tendency. Every one should take a bath of some sort every morning if it is only a rub-down with a wet towel, with a brisk rub afterward to stimulate circulation."

Miss Thayes says, speaking of physical education in the home and gymnasium, "No matter how much you develop your mind, you will never attain to our highest educational efficiency unless you have the health to use it. I have noticed many students' rooms in which the windows were not open. We were meant naturally to live out of doors. Every student and member of the faculty should have all the ventilation possible in class rooms and home. When possible you should sleep out of doors, or make your rooms as open as you can to fresh air.

"The subject of diet is also important. Fried foods and pastries not make muscle, strength and good dispositions. Good food, substantial and wholesome food, what you need. Almost every student, or teacher for that matter, eats as slowly as he should eat many headaches and ailments come from eating too fast and failing to chew the food properly. I will speak to you later on hygenic and sanitary clothing. The boys who have their fine sensible military clothes, do not need much advice.

"There is a living cause for almost all diseases, popularly known as germs," said Prof. Beckwith. "The normal human body is in the pink of condition when free from these living germs of disease. Fortunately there are in the body certain organisms which tend to kill off germs, but they are only effective to a certain point, and when the number of germs becomes too great these natural safeguards are broken down and we suffer from disease. There are four ways through which germs enter the body: by the mouth, by the skin, through abrasions or wounds, through the skin, through the mucous membrane of the reproductive organs. Among the diseases entering through the mouth are typhoid, dysentary, tonsilitis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and typhoid. They must have a method of transportation, such as the water, other drinks, and food. The water supply of Corvallis is one of the purest we have ever had to deal with. 60 per cent of the wells in the city are bad, so I would advise you make sure you are using city water, not well water. Look into the kitchen where food is cooked and see there are not germ diseases there. Know that the milk you drink is not from tuberculosis diseased cows. And, finally, live clean, morally and cleanly if you would not be one of the 90 percent in the United States who are infected with venereal diseases, grouped under the name of the Black Death."

Stallion Registration Board Reports.

The first annual report of the Stallion Registration Board of Oregon, prepared by the secretaro, Prof. E. L. Potter of the Oregon Agricultural College, is now off the press, and it is full of interesting facts.

Besides a complete directory of all the licensed stallions and jacks in the state, classified by counties with the names of their owners and a statement of their breeding and any special defects, there is a table showing just how many of each breed there are in each county, how many are grades, mongrels, or pure blooded. Another table classifies the animals as to breeding and soundness, showing the number of each breed having spavin, roaring and other defects, a total of 9 per cent unsound out of 1.135 animals.

The total number of applications received was 1,238, and of these 1,135 have been granted licenses, 103 being held up, some because no fees were paid, some because of the death or sale of the horses, lack of inspection, necessity of further information, or other cause. In some cases the pedigrees were found to be entirely fictitious, or to have dates changed or forgeries. Certificates of registration were refused them, as were also certificates issued by the American Horse Register, American Percheron Register, American Pacing Register, Standard Jack and Jennet Register, the Dominion Draft Horse Association, and the Hartman Stock Farm Registry Record Co. In the latter case pure bred licenses were issued after the foreign certificates were presented, and in some other cases animals thus listed have afterwards been properly recorded. Unauthorized certificates issued by S. D. Thompson, certificates of Arabian horses, and miscellaneous unauthorized certificates were also refused.

A large number of owners, finding that the law barred the certificates they held did not present them for registry. Some horses advertised as pure bred had no certificates to support the claim, and sometimes the owners have tried to secure a pure bred license without a certificate. In no case has a pure bred license been issued by the board until a certificate from a recognized association has been presented at the office of the board, examined and approued.

There are 21 graduate veterinarians in Oregon who are authorized to inspect stallions and jacks for state license, and to receive applications for license. The fees for licenses, transfers and duplicates amounted during the year to $12,361, and the disbursements of the board to $7,691.17, leaving a balance on hand, not including outstanding obligations. of $4,669.83.

It is interesting to note that Idaho has registered 3 stallions in the Oregon registry, California 4, and Washington 9. Of these 6 are Standard bred, 1 Shire, 1 Percheron, 1 Clydesdale, 2 Mongrels, 1 German Coach, 2 Belgian, 1 Grade-Trotting and 1 Grade-Percheron. They are used along the Oregon line.

Will Run For Surveyor

A recent letter from Chas. E. Beery written at Denio states that word has reached him recently to the effect that he does not want the office of county surveyor. This Mr. Beery wishes corrected as he is the regular nominee of his party and has no intention of withdrawing. He has been very busy during the entire season working on a big irrigation project down close to the county line and has had no time to get out around among the voters. Mr. Beery wishes it understood that he is a candidate and wants the votes of the people. He is a very competent man and will make an excellent officer. (Paid Adv.)

REASONS FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Women must obey the laws and pay taxes just as men do. They suffer as much from bad government as do the men. Therefore they should vote on equal terms with men. Mothers who want to make their children's surroundings better and women of leisure who attempt to serve the public welfare should be able to support their advice by their votes.

Women need to be trained to a higher sense of social and civic responsibility, but they also need the spur that is found in the opportunity to give proper expression to that sense when developed.

Women are consumers but in addition to that, over 8,000,000 women in the United States are wage earners and their health and that of our future citizens are often endangered by evil working conditions that can only be remedied by legislation. Both consumers and producers need fuller representation in politics.

In the states where women have enjoyed municipal suffrage, the verdict of the mayors has been that women are public-spirited and take an intelligent interest in public affairs. Would Oregon women do less than these?

RESULTS OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Women are only forty-two per cent of the population of Colorado, but they cast forty-five per cent of the vote of the state.

In Denver the women cast fifty-five per cent of the vote in the large residence wards and only four per cent in the "slum" wards.

There is no nation, no state, no city that has enfranchised women where the vote of the disreputable women even remotely approaches that of the women of good repute. Almost 30,000 women voted at the last election in Denver. Of these only 400 could be connected with any bad element.

In Wyoming, where women were first enfranchised and where ninety per cent of the women vote regularly, there is a larger percentage of married women than in any other state except Idaho.—also a suffrage state,—while divorce in Wyoming is only one-eighth as great as in similar states where women do not vote. Equal suffrage builds rather than disrupts the home.

Another suffrage state, Utah, has the largest proportion of home owners of any state in the Union.

In Seattle there were never a hundred women devoting themselves to the suffrage campaign, but 22,000 women registered at the first election.

Eighty per cent of the women voting in the last election in Seattle were married—the women of the home.

In the Los Angeles election in 1911, when practically the entire adult population voted, there were approximately 70,000 women who registered, and of these ninety-five per cent actually cast their ballots, in many wards outnumbering the men.

To all Oregon voters:

VOTE 300 X YES.

WHY NOT MAKE $200.00 A MONTH - - That's $50.00 a Week, almost $10.00 a Day

Selling Victor Safes and fire-proof boxes to merchants, doctors, lawyers, dentists and well-to-do farmers, all of whom realize the need of a safe, but do not know how easy it is to own one. Salesmen declare our proposition one of the best, clean-cut money-making opportunities ever received. Without previous experience YOU can duplicate the success of others. Our handsomely illustrated 200-page catalog will enable you to present the subject to customers in an interesting manner as though you were piloting them through our factory. Men appointed as salesmen receive advice and instructions for selling safes, giving convincing talking points which it is impossible for a prospective customer to deny. Why don't YOU be the first to apply from your vicinity before someone else gets the territory? We can favor only one salesman out of each locality.

Our New Home. Capacity 20,000 Safes Annually.

The 20th anniversary of our company was celebrated by erecting the most modern safe factory in the world. Wide awake men who received our special selling inducement, rendered it necessary to double our output. We are spending many thousands of dollars enlarging our sales organization, but to learn all particulars, it will cost you only the price of a postal card.
