Stewart Field opened Saturday night, July 12, before a paid attendance of 578 fans and a total attendance of some 800 fans. This number of baseball-hungry fans were on hand for a non-counter with Albany.

After this game it was again apparent that this area is one of the finest in the state on an attendance basis, as the fans flocked to the new field for two more non-counters and two district doubleheaders. A winning team brings them out. But the fact that Roseburg has been gifted with good Legion baseball teams for more years than many remember is also a chief factor in the Roseburg area attendance figure.

Approximately 3,900 fans watched the eight games played on six dates at Stewart from July 12-20. That's a tough mark to beat at a field only partially completed.

AFTER THE DISTRICT One doubleheader with Springfield Wednesday night, the next important contest at Stewart Field is the Area Four Legion title game between Lockwood Motors and either North Bend or Klamath Falls. This will be the first game in a two-out-of-three series and should completely eclipse the total attendance for any one of the games last week at Stewart.

This Lockwood Motors team which has raced to 17 wins in a row and a season mark of 22-4, hasn't compiled those marks on any flukes or push - over teams as some may think. A check of past tilts will find some of the top teams in any given area in the state playing the Roseburg juniors.

THE GUY who knows the club better than anyone, Bill Harper, feels this year's edition of the Lockwood Motors team is again receiving top chucking. But, in addition to this, timely hits from any part of the batting order have been factors — not just the big sticks at the top of the order.

In conjunction with this thought, the Lockwood pitching staff has compiled an ERA of 1.81 and the team is hitting as a group at a good .261.

IN AUTO RACING, the Pacific Racing Assn. has just released the current point standings. As expected, Art Pollard and Jim Standley are still fighting for the top spot, with Pollard leading the pack by a slim one-point margin over Standley.

This area is as good an auto racing spot as baseball as witness the large turnouts at the Roseburg Speedway for the twice a month Saturday night racing program.

Here are the current point standings:

Driver	Tot. Pts.
Pollard, Art	103
Standley, Jim	102
Dage, Whitey	61
Metzger, Bill	45
Plant, Ford	27
Cummins, Jim	25
Wilverding, John	21
Hult, John	20
Hutchings, Holland	19
Kress, Leonard	18
Fisher, Ernie	8
Byed, Zane	7
Robert, Chuck	7

THE OREGON State Game Commission has released the news that hunt applications are now available at license agencies throughout the state. Big game seasons include the unit deer management areas, controlled deer seasons, unit elk and controlled elk hunts and the antelope hunts for which applications will be considered at drawings in August and September.

To be considered in the public drawings, hunters must have applications in at the Portland office of the game commission on the following dates:

Aug. 6: Drawing for all antelope hunts; Hart Mountain controlled deer, and the Wallowa and Snake River pack area controlled deer hunts.

Aug. 18: All management unit deer hunts.

Sept. 15: All elk units and controlled elk seasons; the Corvallis, Astoria, Goose Lake, and Mill Creek controlled deer seasons.

The NBC Oregon State baseball tournament, set for Drain, has been changed to Aug. 1-2-3, at the Black Sox ball park. Fans will see top teams in the state vying for the trip to the National finals at Wichita, Kans. starting Aug. 15.

ONE FINAL NOTE on Legion baseball. Here's the way the playoffs shape up after today:

Area One: Bend vs. John Day, a two-out-of-three series.

Area Two: Tigard, Seaside, and either Jefferson or Franklin of Portland, in double - elimination series.

Area Three: Oregon City, Albany and North Salem in a double-elimination series.

Area Four: Roseburg, Klamath Falls and North Bend in a pair of two-out-of-three series.

RECOVERING — Roy Campanella demonstrates the beginning of what he hopes will be a successful comeback, at Bellevue Hospital in New York. With help of therapist Roberta Brodsky, Campanella, paralyzed from the chest down since an auto accident last January, exercises his shoulders and arms with a weighted pulley. When staff members at the hospital congratulated him on being able to pull the 10-pound weight easily, he joked: "Well, I've been resting for months."

Roseburg, Drain Shooters Place In PITA Tourney

RENO, Nev. (AP) — George Sherwood, Roseburg, Ore., won a four-way shootoff for final day honors in the Pacific International Assn. trapshooting tournament Sunday.

Sherwood hit 25 targets straight for first place after tying with Dr. Walter Sanders, Ontario, Calif., Earl Kent, Klamath Falls, Ore., and Ned Cox, Madras, Ore., with 99x100. Dr. Sanders hit 24 targets in the shootoff for second place.

Mrs. Gloria Mapes Kraemer, Reno, was high lady in the day's shooting with 98 at 22 yards. Mrs. Donna Wooley, Drain, Ore., was second at 19 yards with 95.

Former Green Bay Packer pro footballer Dan Orlich, Reno, fired 1,023x1,050 during the five days to win the meet title.

So. African Betters 440 Hurdles Mark

CARDIFF, Wales (AP) — Gerhardus Potgieter of South Africa, sidelined last year with a broken neck, bettered the listed world record for the 440-yard hurdles Tuesday with a time of 49.7 seconds. He was competing in the British Empire Games.

Potgieter holds the listed mark at :50.7, set in South Africa early last year before he suffered his injury in a football game.

Glenn Davis of Ohio State has done the event in :49.9. Davis is holder of the 400-meter hurdles mark at :49.5.

David Lean of Australia and Michigan State University, was second in :50.6 — also better than Potgieter's listed world mark.

Stephanus De Plessis, 28-year-old South African school teacher, set a games discus record of 183 feet, 6½ inches in capturing the title. The listed world mark is 194 feet 6 inches set by Fortune Gordien of the United States at Pasadena, Calif., Aug. 22, 1953.

17-Year-Old Wins Women's Title In Oregon Coast Golf

ASTORIA (AP) — Match play continued here Tuesday in the men's division of the 48th Oregon Coast golf tournament, after the men stepped aside to let a 17-year-old girl gather in the glory in Monday's play.

June Robinson, the Oregon girls' champion from Tillamook, shot a 73—just one stroke away from the women's course record at the Astoria Golf and Country Club—to win the women's medal.

Senior men as well as the women played their qualifying rounds, with Joe Herron, 50, Portland, setting the pace in the 50-and-older bracket. He shot a 74, two over men's par.

In the men's championship flight, the 32 top qualifiers from Sunday's opening round started match play. Virg Mitchell, Portland, had the day's best round of 69 after playing out his match. He defeated John Bubalo, Portland, 4 and 3, in match play.

Ralph Dichter of nearby Warrenton, the men's medalist and former winner of this tournament, had no trouble stopping Portland's Hal Laman, 6 and 5.

Phil Underwood, 19-year-old Portland swinger, eliminated Roy Renoud, Portland, on the 19th hole.

Behind Miss Robinson the other women had more trouble with the local course. The only other qualifier to break 80 was Mrs. R. L. Borst, Portland, with a 78.

Shirley Siegmund, Eugene, and Mrs. Jens Lerback, Astoria, were tied at 83. Ruby Calderwood, Eugene, and Mrs. Omar Spencer Jr., Portland, both had 85s.

Next with 86s were Mrs. Burns Hoffman, Astoria, Mrs. Tom Georges Jr., Tualatin, and Mrs. Hunt Lewis, Portland.

Hoffmeister Gets Suspension For Failure To Report

The U.S.-Soviet track meet will be held next Sunday and Monday.

Brown-Lane Title Tiff, Folley-Rademacher Match Upcoming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Joe Brown makes his fifth defense of the world lightweight boxing title Wednesday night at Houston against Kenny Lane, a clever southpaw from Muskegon, Mich.

The 32-year-old champ, who never has let a challenger go the limit when the title was on the line, is expected to be a 12 to 5 favorite in the 15-round match.

Brown's career record for 96 fights is 70-15-9 with two no contest matches.

Lane, 28, who has been cleverly handled by Pete Petoskey with some sage advice from the old master, Jack (Doc) Kearns, hasn't lost since Oct. 3, 1955. His record is 52-5.

The championship bout will be televised (ABC).

Pete Rademacher, the Olympic heavyweight champ of 1956, continues to fight his way down through the heavy division. He met Floyd Patterson, the pro champion, in his first start last August and was knocked out in six rounds. Friday night at Los Angeles, Rademacher boxes Zora Folley, the Chandler, Ariz. scrapper who is co-rated with Eddie Machen as the No. 1 contender.

Although Rademacher knocked Patterson down early in their fight, he spent most of the night on the floor. He will be a long-shot, about 3 to 1, against the more experienced Folley although Rademacher, 30, is three years older than his opponent.

Folley and Machen fought a dull draw in San Francisco, April 9. In his only start since, Folley outpointed Art Swiden at Las Vegas, May 19.

The fight is to be carried on network (NBC) radio and television.

Pat McMurtry shows in his home town of Tacoma, Wash., Saturday in a heavyweight match with Charley Norkus, New York veteran. Pat is trying to make up for his upset defeat at the hands of Willi Besmanoff in February . . . Mickey Crawford and Gaspar Ortega are down for a rematch of their July 11 scrap on Wednesday, Aug. 13 at Madison Square Garden. Ortega won the first on a split decision.

What makes that National League race so tough? A playing pattern that gives you a three-game sweep from a club one week then hands you a loss to the same bunch a week later.

Ask the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago Cubs.

The Braves, with a chance to regain first place from idle San Francisco, blew 3-0 and 4-3 leads last night and were beaten 5-4 in 14 innings by the St. Louis Cardinals. Curt Flood's sixth homer gage it to the Cards, who lost three in a row to the Braves at St. Louis a week ago.

And the Cubs, who swept Cincinnati in three last week, were belted 9-4 by the Redlegs last night in the only other game scheduled.

No games were scheduled in the American League.

The Braves remain a full game behind the Giants, who open a road trip tonight at Philadelphia.

Cubs Drop

The Cubs now are just a game ahead of the fourth-place Cardinals, 5½ games behind the Giants. The Reds jumped from eighth to fifth.

Lew Burdette, whose error gave the Cardinals a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning, was handed a 4-3 lead on Joe Adcock's 13th homer in the Milwaukee seventh. But Wally Moon, sent it into extra innings with a ninth-inning homer, his second off Burdette, now 9-8.

The winner was reliever Bill Wight, who blanked the Braves on four hits over the last 6 2-3 innings for his first National League victory.

The Redlegs breezed against the Cubs, although Harvey Haddix had his troubles in the ninth before gaining a 6-5 record. Cal Neeman, who belted a two-run double earlier, hit his ninth homer, and Tony Taylor doubled with one out, but Haddix wrapped it up after Taylor was nailed at the plate trying to score on a single.

Thurman Raps Homer

Bob Thurman hit a three - run homer for the Reds in the seventh, but they had it bagged in a four-run fourth. Rookie Marcelino Solis lost his first major league decision as George Crowe lined a bases-loaded double for two runs. Two more scored on a force-out and Roy McMillan's single.

Okay, so Manager Paul Richards has some different ideas about baseball. But his Baltimore Orioles in third place in the American League Race? How unorthodox can you get?

Yet that's where the Birds were sitting as they opened a two-week tour of the West at Chicago. They're 14½ games behind the New York Yankees, but they're only 3½ shy of second-place Boston.

The Orioles moved to third by taking two of three from Cleveland last weekend while Detroit lost three of four at Boston and slipped to fourth.

The Orioles have won 8 of 12 since the All-Star break in a jump from seventh to third.

Hurling Is Answer

Pitching has been the answer for the Birds, who have improved their standing each season since gaining the old St. Louis franchise in 1954. They were seventh in '54 and, again in '55, although they won three more games in their sec(and again in '55, although they won three more games in their second season), sixth in '56 and fifth last year.

With the likes of Jack Harshman (late of the White Sox, Arnie Portocarrero (late of the A's) and Billy O'Dell and Milt Pappas, a couple of home grown kids, the Orioles are just one game under .500. The pitching staff has a record of 30 complete games, the same as the White Sox, and second only to the Yankees' 36.

The Yankees are at Detroit tonight, Boston is at Kansas City and Washington's at Cleveland for a twi-night pair.

Vancouver's loss was San Diego's gain Monday night as the Padres slipped into the top spot in Pacific Coast League standings, trading places with the Mounties by a single point.

And by whipping the power club from the other side of the 49th Parallel 9-3, the Seattle Rainiers eased their way out of the league cellar.

San Diego and Phoenix, the latter still in third place, were idle.

Salt Lake City retained its No. 4 position despite the narrow 14-13 loss to Spokane while Portland divided a twinbill with Sacramento, the Beavers winning the opener 6-3 and the Solons taking the nightcap 7-5.

Ray Barker's solo homer gave the Mounties their first tally in the second inning, which Seattle matched in the same frame as Hal Bevan singled and scored on a fly ball.

Vancouver went into a brief lead in the third on a two-run blow but the Suds countered with three runs in the bottom half of that inning on a walk, a wild pitch, two singles and a dropped ball. The Rainiers scored two more in the fourth and another three runs in the fifth inning.

Spokane's victory was earned in four hours and 25 minutes of play, during which the Bees came from behind in the seventh with eight runs. But the Indians tied it up again in the ninth.

Jim Gentile led off the 13th frame for Spokane as he picked a homer off Jack Lamabe, the Lakers' sixth of seven hurlers. Spokane added another on two hits to wipe out the lone tally the Bees scored in the bottom of the 13th on a double and a single.

A walk, two singles, an error and two triples accounted for Portland's five first-inning counters of the opening contest. They added another in the sixth. The Solons scored twice in the fourth and once in the fifth frame.

Sacramento was leading all the way in the nightcap as they picked up three tallies in the third and four in the ninth. The Beavers scored two in the sixth frame and then caught their breath for a last-ditch three-run spurt as Dave Melton blasted a two-on homer in the bottom of the final inning.

As Others Go, So Goes OSC

PORTLAND (AP) — Oregon State College probably will drop out of the Pacific Coast Conference if any of the other four remaining schools decides to quit, the OSC president said Monday.

Dr. A. L. Strand told a reporter, "We're going to stay in the conference as long as there are five schools. We will consider dropping out if the number is cut to four."

Schools still in the conference are Oregon State, the University of Oregon, Washington State College, Idaho and Stanford.

Earlier the University of Washington announced it would abandon its conference ties.

Dr. Strand was here for a meeting of the state Board of Higher Education.

University of Oregon, Idaho and WSC officials, told of Dr. Strand's statement, declined to comment.

Gas In Veins

O'Conner Genius In Racer Building Related

By JACK HEWINS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SEATTLE (AP)—If it's true that a newspaperman's veins are filled with printers' ink, then Jack Conner's arteries must pump 100-octane gasoline.

When your automobile is idling, what do you hear? An engine, natch. Jack Conners hears a song. And if he detects a touch of Presley he's likely to yank the engine out and rebuild it.

You'll never find a more dedicated guy than Conner and you need a map and compass to find him. Jack operates an automobile repair shop sitting back from the street out near the Ballard section of Seattle. Those are his feet, sticking out from the innards of a car that looks like it couldn't run a stop sign.

Old 32 Fast

You can bet your hat it will run better than it looks. For instance, there is Conner's pride and joy, a modified hardtop that—to the untrained eye—could be a pipefitter's back porch, set on mismatched wheels. It's Old 32 and it could clock well over 120 miles per hour on the straightaway, where it never runs.

On the quarter-mile tracks of Portland, Salem and Seattle, where the modifieds scoot, it can hit 75. At that speed on such a tiny oval you're chasing your own taillight.

Conner, now 31 and with a wife and two children, doesn't drive 'em any more. He builds 'em. To build Old 32 he started with a 1933 Dodge frame and a 1953 stock Dodge engine. The rules on modifieds limit engines to 285 cubic inches and the fuel must be ordinary gas-pump gasoline.

Car's Feats Told

Old 32 is mostly a sweet-singing engine of 250 horsepower, four wheels and an iron cage to protect the driver when he rolls it over. Last year at Portland's annual 200-lap championship race Old 32 lapped the runnerup four times. She set a record of 24.49 seconds in a qualifying lap—about 75 miles per hour.

This season Logan Harter took the record away from Conner's car at Seattle's Aurora Speedway—in a car which Conner built.

"I gotta get busy and tune this old critter up," grinned Jack. "Wish that Yakima mile track was still operating; we might be able to get a little speed."

Some people want to be president, some would like to hit a home run in Yankee Stadium or make a touchdown for Notre Dame. Conner just wants to go to Indianapolis and watch a car of his own run in the Five Hundred.

On the floor of his shop is a wheelless automobile frame equipped with nothing but engine. This power plant is a gleaming chunk of concentrated fury, a Chrysler engine which Conner's sensitive fingers have souped to 448 horsepower.

Indy Future Seen

When it had wheels and body the car, which belongs to Conners' brother Ed, a Boeing engineer, ran at Indy as the "Hinkle Special." Some day it may be back at Indianapolis with J. Conner as its personal Doctor of Motors. Right now he's getting it ready for the big car championship circuit, especially next year's 100-mile feature at Milwaukee.

Conner works on midgets, hardtops, big cars—anything that races. But he also does an overhaul job on an ordinary car now and then to help keep the family fed. There aren't enough racing cars in this area to support a full-time specialist.

In this age of speed, to Conner's mind, automobile racing is sadly neglected. Car-crazy kids, growing into a thousand-mile-an-hour era of space travel, should have sensible encouragement. "Give 'em some drag strips to work off their energy," he suggests. "Some place to floorboard the accelerator away from the public streets."

After a 9-year love affair with racing engines, Conner may be somewhat biased. He can't see how anyone can resist the thrills of car racing, whether as driver or spectator.

"Dangerous?" he snorts. "Did you ever try skiing?"
