Malaya Rubber Shipments To Russians Encouraged To Halt Economic Slump

Singapore — (U.P.) — Britain should allow Malaya to export rubber to Red China and Russia to prevent a slump in this country, the general council of the Singapore Labor party contends.

A resolution passed by the council said:

"The only remedy to the sudden and persistent drop in the price of rubber lies in an extended market.

"So far we have restricted our rubber exports to North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries for political and military reasons, which is in violation of even capitalist principles of free trade.

"By denying one - half of the world an essential commodity like rubber, we are in actual fact starving ourselves. This policy has resulted in America obtaining a monopoly position in the buying of rubber, which coupled with her ability to produce synthetic rubber, reacts adversely to the interests of rubber - producing countries."

See Serious Results

The resolution warned that if this state of affairs was allowed to go on unchecked "the economic repercussions, besides the political and industrial unrest in the country will be very serious."

The recent price drop below one Malayan dollar a pound had rocked the country badly and union as well as employers' associations have warned against the danger of Communism making inroads in this unstable economic situation.

Union leaders said further drops in the price of rubber will affect the earnings of nearly 300,000 rubber workers and drive them into the arms of the Communists.

Britain Opposed

Union leaders have clamored for an end of destinational control imposed by the United Kingdom government to prevent strategic war material from going to Red China soon after
