Deposed Yugoslav Premier Says Khrush Saw Red Gains From War

NEW YORK (AP) —Milovan Djilas says Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin foresaw Communist gains from the last war in Europe and gleefully predicted another war in 15 or 20 years after 1945.

Djilas, ousted vice president of Yugoslavia, quoted those views in a book called "Conversations with Stalin," to be published next week by Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc.

A Belgrade court this week sentenced Djilas to eight years, eight months in prison on grounds he disclosed state secrets in the book. He has already served two prison terms—three years under the prewar Yugoslav royal government and four years under the Communist government.

Story of Disillusionment

"Conversations with Stalin" tells of meetings Djilas had with the Soviet leader on official Yugoslav missions to Moscow in 1944, 1945 and 1948. It is a story of gradual disillusionment.

Djilas relates that at a dinner in April 1945 Stalin said, "This war is not as in the past; whoever occupies a territory also imposes on it his own social system."

He says Stalin added that the Slavs had to maintain solidarity because in 12 to 15 years the Germans would be on their feet again.

"He got up," writes Djilas, "hitched up his pants as though he was about to wrestle or to box, and cried out almost in a transport, 'The war shall soon be over. We shall recover in 15 or 20 years, and then we'll have another go at it.'"

Stalin's armies, Djilas observes, "had already trampled half of Europe under foot, and he was convinced they would trample over the other half in the next round."

Co ter-Attack Omitted

Djilas fails to mention that the Soviet armies were counter-attacking a German invasion. But he does say Stalin's own cruelties "did not worry him one bit, for he was convinced that he was executing the judgment of history."

At a meeting in January 1948, Djilas says, Stalin came out with the idea that postwar Germany must remain divided: "The West will make Western Germany their own, and we shall turn Eastern Germany into our own state."

He says Stalin also declared that since the United States and Britain would not permit a break in their Mediterranean line of communications, the Greek Communist uprising could not succeed and so must be stopped.

Soviets Asked Understanding

In that connection, Stalin remarked that after the war with Japan, the Russians asked the Chinese Communists to seek an understanding with Chiang Kai-shek, the Chinese Nationalist leader.

Instead, he quotes Stalin as saying, "They mustered their forces and struck. It has been shown that they were right, and not we. But Greece is a different case."

Djilas charges that Stalin withheld support at decisive moments from the Chinese, Spanish and Yugoslav revolutions because "he felt instinctively that the creation of revolutionary centers outside of Moscow could endanger its supremacy in world communism."

He says Soviet policy is the same today.

Melrose Community Church Picks Pair Of Look-Alikes

This being the season for mothers, the Melrose Community Church held a contest for "look-alike" mothers and daughters.

The winners were Mrs. Bill Shipp and daughter, Charlotte.

During a mother's day Sunday, mothers were the chief topic of conversation and activities. During the morning service, three mothers gave brief testimonies and greetings. They were Mrs. Gail Gentry, Mrs. Truel Niswonger and Mrs. A. O. Kobbe. The Rev. Glenn Davis then spoke on "mothers' faith."

The Youth Fellowship then invited mothers of the church and community to attend the 6 p.m. dters were featured throughout the ters were freatured throughout the entire evening service.

When it came to the judging of the look alikes, it took seven judges.

Pastor Davis then preached the evening sermon on the "obligations of motherhood."

He was accompanied to the meeting by Commissioner Ray Doerner.

Model Airplane Club Plans Sutherlin Show

Roseburg's Sky Chiefs Model Airplane Club will travel to Sutherlin Sunday to present a flying exhibition at the Sutherlin High School, weather permitting. The exhibition is scheduled at 1 p.m.

Flying events will include a training session for all beginning modelers and interested persons, precision aerobatics, combat, throttle control and "rat racing."

Persons with unflown planes may receive lessons on flying them from club members during the exhibition. Everyone is welcome and no admission will be charged.

All interested modelers are urged to attend the next Sky Chiefs meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m., at the Lloyd Crowell residence, 1652 NE Hollis, in the Cloverdale Addition in Roseburg.

Topics for discussion will include obtaining a new permanent flying site and meeting place for the summer.

One GOP, Two Democratic Races Top Oregon Primary Vote Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oregon votes today in a primary election topped by three races — two Democratic and one Republican.

Predictions are that about 50 per cent of the state's voters will go to the polls under partly cloudy skies.

Democrats are involved in spirited contests for the nomination for governor and for U.S. Congressman from the 4th District.

Robert Y. Thornton, the state's attorney general and State Sen. Walter J. Pearson are battling for the nomination to oppose Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield in November.

Third District Fight Hot

That fight got particularly hot in the 3d Congressional District (Portland), where the county supported Thornton, but the district's Representative, Mrs. Edith Green, came out strongly for Pearson. Then the Young Democrats said Pearson was too conservative and they would not support him if he were nominated.

Two unknowns, Dan N. Cox, Springfield, and M.A. Yegge, Eugene, also are seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Hatfield is opposed by little-known H. G. Altvater of Portland.

Race Draws Interest

In the 4th Congressional District, interest has been drawn by a three-way battle for the Democratic nomination among Robert B. Duncan, Medford, speaker of the State House of Representatives; State Sen. Robert W. Straub, and former Congressman Charles O. Porter, who was unseated in 1960 by Rep. Edwin R. Durno. Carl O. Fisher, a Eugene radio executive, is unopposed for the Republican nomination.

A fourth Democratic candidate in the 4th District is Eugene fireman Patrick Flynn, but interest has centered on the three who are more widely known.

Durno dropped out of the House to run for the Republican nomination to oppose Sen. Wayne L. Morse, D-Ore. There are six Republicans trying for the Senate nomination, with Durno and Sig Unander, Portland, the main contenders. Unander is a former state treasurer.

Four Lesser Known

are Glenn E. Brixey, a landscape contractor, and Harold Livingston, a college professor, both of Corvallis; Jim Bacaloff, a Portland contractor, and R. F. Cook, a Western Oregon farmer.

Morse has only nominal opposition from unknown Charles Gilbert, Portland.

The polls open at 8 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. — Pacific Daylight Time in Multnomah County (Portland) and its four surrounding counties, and Pacific Standard Time in the rest of the state.

Measures, local issues, legislative seats and county offices as well as some state-wide contests such as for the Supreme Court and for labor commissioner all add to the task before the voters.

But few of the proposals or races engendered much heat. Only here and there have local contests excited enough interest to suggest a strong voter turnout.

Winston Firm Gets Courthouse Project

The firm of Hansen Plumbing and Heating of Winston, Thursday was awarded the contract for air conditioning and heating revisions in the Courthouse.

The contract was for $51,454.

Originally, Hansen had bid $88,350 for the work. However, certain revisions in additions and deductions to the bid made the new contract figure.

The firm has begun the work.

Young Republicans Set Evening Meet Monday

An open meeting of the Young Republicans is scheduled for Monday at 8 p.m. in Jury Room B of the Douglas County Courthouse.

County Clerk G. D. Myllenbeck will speak to the group on the functions and activities of the clerk's office. Anyone interested is invited to attend.
