DE LUXE BODY TYPES MARK OF NEW FORDS

De Luxe body types, most of which have been introduced within the last year, features the Ford cars to be exhibited at the automobile show by the Baisiger Motor company.

Mounted on the model A chassis, which has attained world-wide popularity for speed, power, reliability and economy of operation, these de luxe cars offer a wide range of body types that afford a new degree of comfort, luxury and beauty to the owner of a low-price car.

Newest among the de luxe Fords is the victoria, which is built along entirely new lines with a slanting wind-shield, light tan top and rear quarters, and a body which curves gracefully out and down from the belt line at the rear. The spare wheel, carried at an angle on the rear; the glistening cowl lights and the absence of an exterior sun visor add to the striking effect of the car. The individual front seats fold forward. The rear seat is wide and comfortable, with an arm rest at either end. A depression in the floor of the rear compartment gives ample leg room.

Town Sedan Attractive

Besides the victoria, the Ford de luxe group includes the town sedan with three windows, the deluxe sedan with two windows, the convertible cabriolet, a coupe, a phaeton and a roadster. The closed cars are upholstered in either Bedford cord or mohair of a beauty and quality which appeal to women motorists, while the seats of the open cars are of genuine leather.

In addition to the de luxe cars the Ford Motor company offers a choice of standard body types which are represented in the exhibition at the show. These include the tudor, a coach type popular as a family car; the fordor, a three-window sedan; the coupe, the sport coupe with rumble seat, the phaeton and the roadster. There also is a station wagon with seats for eight.

An interesting thing about the Ford exhibit in the show is that, with the exception of the addition of de luxe cars, there are no radical changes in models. In accordance with the company's policy, improvements are incorporated in the car as they are developed and no radical changes are decided upon until it is determined that they are fundamentally sound enough to be more or less permanent.

Hence, while the model A is essentially the same as it was last year, it has nevertheless been improved in many respects. Fenders, runningboard shields and other enameled parts which are most likely to be scratched or marred are treated with a rust preventive before they are painted.

Windshields Are Shatterproof

Triplex shatterproof windshields are now made with plate glass to improve vision. The instrumental panel is newly designed, and is indirectly lighted. Hub caps are reinforced, and there are numerous other improvements that would be apreciated by the mechanic, all of which contribute to the longer life of the car.

Rustless steel, which was introduced in Ford cars a year ago, continues to be one of the outstanding features. Thousands of Fords have been in use now under all sorts of weather conditions, and the universal experience has been that the rustless steel radiator shells, hub caps, cowl strips and other exposed metal parts have retained their original luster.

Other features of the Ford which are to be pointed out at the automobile show are the five steel-spoke wheels, each of which is electrically welded into a single piece; the Houdaille (pronounced hoo-dye) double-acting shock absorbers, the more than 20 ball and roller bearings, and the numerous steel forgings.

Another Salary Bill Vetoed by Governor

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 26. (AP)—Governor Meier swung the veto ax again late yesterday, and returned to the house with a message of his disapproval of house bill No. 182, increasing the salary of the assessor of Umatilla county from $1500 to 1800 a year.

As justification for his veto, the governor reiterated his declaration that the present is no time for salary increases, and his opinion that a public official accepting an office contracts to conduct its duties at the prevailing salary.

Today in Klamath's Theatres

AT THE RAINBOW

Norma Shearer's versatility reaches fresh fields in her new

NORMA SHEARER and CHESTER MORRIS in "THE DIVORCEE"

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talking picture triumph, "The Divorcee," which opened Wednesday at the Rainbow Theatre.

Rising from the sordidness of "Mary Dugan" to the sparkle of "Mrs. Cheyney," and then abruptly turning to the youthful buoyancy of "Their Own Desire," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star has experienced another startling metamorphosis in the most daring role of her career.

In this bold plunge into marital discontent, striking deep into the foundations of that traditional institution, Miss Shearer, emerges with new laurels, achieving the finest performance she has ever accomplished in her characterization of the modern wife who fights fire with fire and dares to tell her wayward husband of her trifling. Miss Shearer negotiates a most difficult role, endowing the part with the finesse of a stage veteran. Indeed it is enigmatical that this young player, lacking even a brief contact with the theatre, could be so deftly capable of the fine shadings with which she sketches this tragic figure in sympathetic tones.

Chester Morris "of "Sergeant Grischa" fame, plays opposite Miss Shearer as the husband, and Robert Montgomery and Conrad Nagel supply interesting performances as the lovers who furnish an enticing background of amours to her domestic problems.

AT THE PELICAN

Natalie Moorhead, who has an important role in "The Office Wife," now playing at the Pelican Theatre, is one of Hollywood's most attractive blondes.

She is a Pittsburgh girl who started her stage career in "The Baby Cyclone" company in Trenton, New Jersey. Later she came to Hollywood and appeared in several of Henry Duffy's most successful stage plays. A short time after her arrival in Hollywood, she landed a contract with one of the larger studios and appeared in such pictures as "Through Different Eyes" and "The Girl from Havana."

She made her debut with Warner Bros. in a Vitaphone Variety, and since that time has made many pictures with them.

In "The Office Wife" she plays one of the most important roles of her screen career—a role that is particularly suited to Miss Moorhead's type. She portrays a sophisticated type, the wife of a successful business man, who, far from being jealous of her husband's friends, is too busy with her own flirtations to think about her husband.

Lewis Stone, with his usual charm, plays the husband, and Dorothy Mackaill, in her role of the private secretary, shows once more that she is one of the most capable actresses in Hollywood. Brooks Benedict is the attractive young man with whom Natalie Moorhead carries on her most serious flirtation. Others in the cast are Hobart Bosworth, Blanche Friderici, Joan Blondell, Walter Merrill, and Dale Fuller.

AT THE PINE TREE

The "perfect lady" of the stage is getting mighty few parts of that kind on the talking screen!

All of which refers to Kay Johnson, the blonde "Claire" of King Vidor's exciting Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Billy the Kid," at the Pine Tree theatre now.

Miss Johnson, tall, slim, well-bred, gained fame on the stage largely in "society" parts, such as leads in "Little Accident" and "The Free Soul."

When the talkies grabbed her, however, the film producers saw in Miss Johnson excellent feminine material for the rough, tough kind of dramatic situations.

In "Dynamite" she was the bride of a coal-miner.

In "The Spoilers" she played the immortal "Cherry Malotte."

And now, in "Billy the Kid," she is plunged into the midst of the "wild west' during its most stirring years.

"Billy the Kid," is a talking screen adaption by Wanda Tuchock of the life story of William Bonney, a 21-year-old desperado, smiling, handsome, daring, who became the most dangerous man in the west. As "Claire," Kay Johnson comes to Lincoln, New Mexico, storm center of the cattlemen's war in wnich Bonney is a participant. The death of Tunston, Claire's fiance, forms the starting impetus for the bitterest feud the old Southwest knew. And a romantic interest develops between "The Kid" and the beauty from England.

So, instead of drawing rooms and tea-cups, Miss Johnson is tossed into an atmosphere of gun-fire and melodrama. She is a participant in the three-day siege of the McSween home at Lincoln, the most notorious event in all "wild west" history.

John Mack Brown and Wallace Beery have the principal roles in the new Vidor production, Brown playing the part of "The Kid" and Beery giving an outstanding characterization as Sheriff Pat Garrett. Karl Dane is seen as a comic cowboy.

MALIN TAKES DEBATE TITLE

As a result of the final elimination county high school debate, held in the Klamath high school Wednesday evening, Malin was awarded county forensic championship, and their team will debate the winner of the Paisley-Lakeview debate at Bonanza on March 4 for district honors. The winner of that debate will compete with the Rogue valley district winner.

Two debates were held simultaneously last night of the question: "Resolved, that chain stores are detrimental to the American public."

The Malin negative team, represented by Edwin Stastny and Mervin Wilde were adjudged winners over the Chiloquin affirmative team of William Michael and Dorothy Shondy. Judges of this debate were Mrs. Myrtle Helm, Mrs. Don Hamlin and Rev. Joseph Ewing. Don Fisher acted as chairman.

The Malin affirmative team, represented by Rita Hundley and Richard Jackman, were given the judges' decision over the Chiloquin negative team of Joe Fader and Joy Majors. Judges for this contest were Don Hamlin, Lewis Clark and Harry D. Boivin. Paul T. Jackson was chairman.

Coaches for the teams were D. V. Brookman, Chiloquin, and Violet Judy, Malin.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute.

BLOCK OFFERS N. Y. WORLD TO EMPLOYES

NEW YORK, Feb. 26, (AP)—Paul Block, publisher, today offered to buy the New York World and give employes 45 days in which to take it over at the price he paid.

Mr. Block's offer was made in writing to the publishers of the World and to the three sons of Joseph Pulitzer who are trustees of his estate.

Surrogate James A. Foley deferred until 11 a.m. tomorrow his decision whether the terms of the will forbids sale of any kind. Perhaps, the surrogate said, he will not be able to announce his decision then.

Mr. Block's offer was not made to the surrogate but to the trustees. The trustees had intended to sell to the Scripps-Howard interests who planned to merge the morning, evening and Sunday Worlds with their New York Telegram, at a price said to aggregate $5,000,000.

If the trustees change their minds and join in a request that the surrogate ratify sale to Mr. Block it will then be up to the surrogate to decide whether to approve transfer of the newspapers to Block.

Appropriation For Education Stands

SALEM, Feb. 26, (AP)—Approval in full of the appropriation asked by the state board of higher education for the five institutions of higher learning and refusal to rescind previous action consolidating the board of child labor inspectors and the industrial welfare commission with the state bureau of labor were the outstanding features of the ways and means session last night.

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 26, (AP)—The committee reconsidering previous action and approved $7500, or half the appropriation requested in a pending bill for grasshopper extermination in Klamath and Lake counties. It approved a bill giving the labor commissioner authority to become the arbitrator of wage claims, but cut the requested appropriation from $1000 to $500.

Senator J. E. Bennett's bill providing for the printing of $50,000,000 in state currency was disapproved. Senator B. W. Johnson's bill for a malt tax was disapproved. The bill for a signboard tax was continued for further study.
