COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER,
Having the Largest Circulation of any paper in Columbia County

THE DIRECT PRIMARY IN PORTLAND.

It has been discovered by the enemies of the direct primary system of nominations that at the forthcoming primary election in that city it may possibly happen that out of 10,000 registered Republican voters as few as 3500 votes may be cast for the successful candidate for the mayoralty nomination.

Really this is terrible, and when we contrast it with the system that has heretofore prevailed we wonder if there is any salvation. Seven candidates for nomination are now in the field, and not more than one of them is the choice of any machine. They just got up and declared themselves, and the ordinary people have a chance to take their pick of the field. Their sentiments are known, and those who vote for them know what they may expect.

How different this is from the good old system, when Boss Joe or Boss John wrote out the whole ticket, furnished the platform, and herded the loyal voters on election day. No need to ask the candidates foolish questions as to whether they believe in an open town, a closed town, or a town with a crack in it. They stood for Joe or they stood for John, and that's all there was to it, and the city of Portland exclaimed with Mercutio:

"A plague on both your houses.
They have made cat's meat of me."

Now, all this is changed, and the rank and file of both parties have something to say as to who shall be their leaders. "It is possible," says the faultfinder, "for 3,500 voters to pass the republican candidate for mayor." How many did it take under the old system? Not 3,500, nor yet 500, nor even 5; but the boss, clad with supreme power, dictated the entire ticket, and the voting cattle merely registered his will.

There is danger in the direct primary system—danger that rottenness will be exposed; that dishonest contractors will be punished; that rotten fool will be condemned; that dives will be suppressed and that public officials will be compelled to enforce the law. Against these dangers the ring fights, and therefore it opposes the direct primary.

MR. MITCHELL, THE "SOCIALIST."

We spoke of the man who issued a counterfeit Register last week as a tramp. About two months ago he came to our office and applied for work, and asked the foreman for 25 cents to get a meal. Comes pretty near tramp.—Register.

Mr. Murphy denies having asked for any money, and even if he had done so, he is very far from being a tramp. On the contrary, he is an industrious, sober, working printer. No man who is willing to work for his money deserves the epithet of "tramp," and Mr. Mitchell's socialist friends should give him a few lessons on this subject. It is worthy of remark, however, that Mr. Murphy got neither the work nor the money. Mr. Mitchell's sympathy for the poor seems to be only mouth-deep. It never gets to his pocketbook.

LEWIS AND CLARK MOVEMENT.

The appeal of Judge Northrup for the disinterment of the remains of Capt. Meriwether Lewis and their removal to and reinterment in our city park is strong in patriotism and in gratitude. The grave of the explorer is in the heart of a forest in Tennessee—practically unknown and unvisited. While in an ethical and spiritual sense the last is immaterial, human sentiment has not outgrown the feeling of reverence for dust that once was instinctive life—the life of the brave, the useful and the true. The name of Captain Lewis is now upon the tongue of the Nation. In conjunction with that of Captain Clark it stands for exploration of the great western world—the opening of the white man to the Pacific Northwest. In this view there is no place more fitting for his final sepulcher than that suggested by Judge Northrup, where the foundation of his monument is already laid, and upon which the monument itself is overdue.—Oregonian.

Failing in any direct knowledge of the ante-mortem wishes of the explorer as to the disposition of his body after death, Judge Northrup's appeal appears to possess the backing of reason and common sense, united with the desire to have lasting reverence and tribute paid to the memory of the illustrious dead. Every little while the world awakes to a knowledge of the fact that the grave of someone who has done much for it is being safely neglected. Then follows the painful resting-place is treated with unmerited if sporadic tenderness, to descend at last to a neglect worse than at first, until finally, in a few years or a few centuries, all knowledge of the particular location of the grave is lost. The Pacific coast, and Oregon particularly, owes the dead explorers' memories better, far better, treatment and respect than this. Restored as suggested, the grave would be a daily inspiration to all who love Oregon and who love Portland, pointing to them and to yielding strangers the solemn truth that a man's duty is to God and humanity, urging each to some good that may live after him, so that—if the man who lies buried there.

THE MIST'S COLUMBIAN EDITION.

This paper proposes to publish during the early days of the Lewis and Clark Exposition an issue of 5,000 copies, devoted to a comprehensive showing of the resources of Columbia County, from north to south and from east to west. No section of the county will be neglected and no resource will be overlooked. It will be the most important attempt ever made to make this county known to those who are seeking opportunities for investment of capital, either in farm lands or productive industries of any description. The literary work will be done by thoroughly competent persons in each locality, thus insuring absolute fairness to the different sections of the county. The paper will be quite profusely illustrated with newspaper halftones, including natural scenery, water powers, logging camps, school houses, churches, etc. The entire edition should be placed where it will do the most good, and in order to accomplish this all who are interested in the development of Columbia County should lend a helping hand. If you want neighbors to help build up your community or capital to aid in the building up of dormant industries, this is your chance to do good work to that end.

These papers will be mailed to any address for 5c per copy. Send in the names, accompanied by the money.

often ends in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries, use Bucklin's Arnica Salve. "A deep gash in my knee from an accident," writes Theodore Schmidt, of Cincinnati, O., caused me great pain. Physicians were helpless, but Bucklin's Arnica Salve quickly healed it." Soothes and heals burns like magic. 25c at St. Helens Pharmacy.

The Hazelwood Creamery, of Portland, Ore., is one of the four largest in the world. The Hazelwood people are trying to build up cream routes all through the northwest. If you think a cream route would be a good thing for your neighborhood, write them. Notice their advertisement of the U. S. Cream Separator.

Cheated Death

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. M. Wild, of Bear Town, Iowa, escaped death. He says: "Two years ago I had Kidney Trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and misery, but I took Electric Bitters, which have effected a complete cure. I have so recommended them of great benefit in general debility and organ trouble. I keep them constantly on hand since, as I find they have no equal." For sale at St. Helens Pharmacy at 50c.

Mr. Mitchell finds considerable fault with Sheriff White because the latter distributes his patronage among the three republican papers in this county and refuses to recognize the Register. This in regard to the publication of sheriff's sale notices. The criticism would come with better taste if Mr. Mitchell were not himself the recipient of official favors in she way of public printing. The sheriff, assessors and all other republican officials have distributed their patronage amongst the three papers other than the Register in this county, but the clerk and school superintenden, who have by far the largest bills for printing of any other two officers in the county, give their entire patronage to Mr. Mitchell's paper, and up to date we believe it can be shown by the records that Mr. Mitchell has received more for public printing, given him without competition, than has been paid to any other newspaper proprietor in the county. The MIST has found no fault with this, and would not now were it not for Mr. Mitchell's splenetic attack upon the sheriff. But Mr. Mitchell never tells the whole truth when a half truth will answer his purpose better. He is posing as an anti-monopolist, yet he has the tightest little monopoly of the public printing of any paper in the county. So far as the clerk and school superintendent are concerned he gets it all, and then he bellyaches because he cannot compel the sheriff to whack up with him.

A cannibal would feel frightfully cheap if he should find that he had been converted by the use of tainted money.—Chicago Chronicle. Would feel like thirty cents, probably.

Hazelwood butter brings a higher price because of the quality. This quality is due to the fine plant and expert skill in the manufacture. If you want to ship cream that is made into the highest-priced butter, ship to Hazelwood. Notice their advertisement of the U. S. Cream Separator.

Wedding at Houlton.

Sunday morning at Houlton occurred a home wedding which, though modest in its accessories and attended by but immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties, was of much interest locally, owing to the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held by their friends and neighbors. The contracting parties were A. N. Cox and Emma Perry, and the ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, Charles Perry, Rev. G. A. Taggart officiating. The happy couple will reside in Houlton and try to live down the wrath amused by their unprecedented refusal to allow their jubilant friends to make monkeys of them, as in such cases made and provided, by bombarding them with rice, old shoes, etc. They had allowed it to be supposed that they would depart on the afternoon train, and their enthusiastic youthful friends assembled at the station en masse, with rice, old shoes, tin pans, etc. But the bridal party failed to materialize, and the ragtime started away with a disappointed toot-toot and the young people scattered to their homes. The MIST joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Coy in wishing them a long and happy trip down the Columbia of matrimony.

SPECIAL SIGNAL SERVICE.

From the summit of Mt. Hood, communication will be established with the Lewis and Clark Exposition grounds. At each of these two points detachments from the United States Signal Corps service will be stationed, and each day and night communications will be exchanged by means of heliograph and flash signals and other methods used by the military. This announcement has just been issued by the War Department.

Major W. A. Glassford, U. S. A. in advising the Exposition officials of the department's decision, states that the signal stations are bound to be a success. He will detail only such men as have seen active service and have been considered experts.

The signal camp at the Exposition will be pitched at a convenient place on the government peninsula. There the observations may be seen from all parts of the grounds. Mt. Hood camp will be established at the very summit of that majestic peak.

It is intended to conduct several excursions to the camp under the auspices of the Mazamas. This organization, of Oregon mountain climbing enthusiasts has been in communication with the War Department for some time urging that signal camps be established, and the credit of the government's concession undoubtedly is due to the Mazamas.

School Report Cards, the very best form, with envelopes to match for sale at this office for $1 per hundred.

Frightful Suffering Relieved.

Suffering frightfully from the virulent poisons of undigested food, C. G. Grayson, of Lulu, Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give away to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at the St. Helens Pharmacy.

A wild west show is announced for the "Trail." For participation in the attraction bands of Indians are being assembled at Lawton, (O. T.) Geronimo, the famous Apache warrior, will be one of the aggregation.

A Dandy For Burns.

Dr. Bergin, Paana, Ill. writes; "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment always recommended it to my friends, as I am confident that there is no better made. It is a dandy for burns." Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns, bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by A. J. Deming.

Work upon the "Trail" at the Lewis and Clark Exposition is progressing rapidly. A number of new buildings have been started. Long before the spring opening of the centennial, the amusement thoroughfare will invite public inspection.

Health Is Youth.

Disease and Sickness Bring Old Age. Herbine, taken every morning before breakfast, will keep you in robust health fit you to ward off disease. It cures constipation, billiousness, dyspepsia, fever, skin, liver and kidney complaints. It purifies the blood and clears the complexion.

Mrs. D. W. Smith, Whitney, Texas, writes April 3, 1902: "I have used Herbine and find it the best medicine for constipation and liver troubles. It does all you claim for it. I can highly recommend it." 50c. Sold by A. J. Deming.

Utah has decided to erect a building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. The structure will cost about $15,000 and will occupy a commanding site, just north of the New York building on Inskeview Terrace and overlooking Guild's Lake and the government peninsula.

Last Hope Vanished.

When leading physicians said that W. M. Smithart, of Pekin, Ia., had incurable consumption, his last hope vanished but Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, kept him out of the grave. He says: "This great specific completely cured me, and saved my life. Since then I have used it for over 10 years, and consider it a marvelous throat and lung cure." Strictly scientific cure for Coughs, Sore Throats or Colds; sure preventative of Pneumonia. Guaranteed, 50c and $1.00 bottles at St. Helens Pharmacy. Trial bottle free.

Many cities in the Pacific Northwest are planning to send the graduating classes of their high schools to the Lewis and Clark Exposition. Railroad companies have been requested to make special rates.
