Mr. S. Benson, of the Benson Log and Lumber Company, of Clatskanie, is in Michigan on a business trip.

Mr. C. N. Gable has returned home from a months visit in the Willamette Valley.

Linn County will have an unique feature in its exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Fair. Every variety of wood which grows in the County to a sufficient size to be utilized at all will be furnished in the naturl wood colors, and all will be harmoniously blended.

Shad are worth about 5 cents each in St.Helens but it costs 20 cents to eat fried shad or shad roe in a Portland restaurant.

Some suitable person would lease the park and clean it up for the reception of excursionists this summer they could make some money selling ice cream, etc.

Messrs. U. W. Clark and Arthur George are at Seaside painting Dr. Cliff's cottage. They will soon begin the work of building a cottage for Mr. James Dart.

Mr. J. H. Godfrey has nearly completed a twelve foot sidewalk around his lot at the corner of Cowlitz street and the Strand.

A game of baseball has been arranged between the St. Helens boys and the Rainier second nine, to take place Sunday.

The appealed case of Smith vs. Syverson et al, known as the cow case, was decided by Judge McBride on Saturday last, the appeal being dismissed on account of lack of proof of service. T. J. Cleeton for appellant, W. H. Powell for appellee. On the same day the case of Seffert vs. the N. P. R. R. appeal from justice court was decided in favor of the appellee. This was another cow case, and the moral is that when a company kills a farmer's cow it will probably have to pay for it. W. H. Powell for appellee; Carey & Mays for appellant. Both cases were hotly contested in both the justice and circuit courts, and Mr. Powell naturally feels gratified by his success.

The Hazelwood Creamery, of Portland, Ore., is one of the four largest in the world. The Hazelwood people are trying to build up cream routes all through the northwest. If you think a cream route would be a good thing for your neighborhood, write them. Notice their advertisement of the U. S. Cream Separator.

Timberland in Columbia County is assessed at an average of about $12 an acre this year.

Sheriff White has been informed by the superintendent of the Oregon State Insane Asylum that the counties will be expected to pay the expense of telephoning in cases where insane persons are held after commitment to await the arrival of attendants from the asylum, as provided by the recent Legislature. The sheriff is of the opinion that this law will prove very expensive to the counties, as an insane person will have to be held here until an attendant arrives, and, as we have no fit place to keep insane persons, it may be injurious to their mental health. A better way would have been to give the county judge discretion to send for an attendant when necessary, and if the sheriff's fees were to high, the law could regulate them.

Hazelwood butter brings a higher price because of the quality. This quality is due to the fine plant and expert skill in the manufacture. If you want to ship cream that is made into the highest-priced butter, ship to Hazelwood. Notice their advertisement of the U. S. Cream Separator.

On Wednesday of last week, Hon. J. P. Finley, attorney at law and mayor of Doon, Iowa, for the last nine years, was a welcome visitor at the home of his uncle, John Dolan, of Warren, who he has not seen for the past thirty years, or since he was four years old. Mr. Finley is temporarily domiciled with his family in Snohomish, Wash., but likes Oregon best, and intends to take up a law business either in Portland or near there.

There will be services in the Episcopal church in this city Sunday next at 8 p. m., Rev. Breck occupying the pulpit. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beaver and daughter, of Warren, were visitors to the county seat on Thursday, where Miss Beaver took the boat for Skamokawa, where she will reside for some time.

Mr. E. I. Larsen received a very severe wound in the face yesterday morning while working on the road west of Mr. Cooper's place, near Warren. He was handling a rotary scraper and accidently stepped upon the trip, when the lever flew up, sticking him just above the lip, on the right side of the face. He was brought to St. Helens for treatment. Mr. Larsen was so weak from loss of blood that when placed in the operating chair he fainted and remained unconscious for three quarters of an hour.

A young lady who teaches school less than a thousand miles from Castle Rock, has a perfect dread of contagious diseases. Recently she sent one of the children home because the child's mother was ill. The next day the little girl came back to school, and with her finger in her mouth and her eyes on the floor, her hood swinging by the strings, she slowly approached the teacher and said: "We've got a baby at our house, but mamma says I shall tell you it ain't catching."—Advocate.

Growing Aches and Pains.

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Tex, writes, April 15, 1902 "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best liniment I ever used." 25c, 50c and $100. Sold by A. J. Deming.

THE CALL OF THE WILD.

(Fort Worth Record)

Spring fever gets
A fellow so!
Just every bird
Yells out "Hello!"
Just every bird
Seems coaxing one
To where it wimples
In the sun!
And every tree
On every hill
Just beckons till
One can't keep still.
And cattle low,
And bees ba-zoom
And roses fling
Their sweet perfume,
And blossoms nod
Up to the sun
Out where the grassy
Billows run.

And purple thistles
Have grown tall,
And morning glories
Top the wall.
And trumpet blooms
Light up the trees,
And daisies cling
About your knees,
And everything
Joins in the chorus:
"Say, It's Spring!"
And you get wild
To up and go,
Away out where
The cattle low,
Out by a stream
At break of morn,
Out were fish tales
Are being born.

NATAL

Geo. Fisher and Elmer Hiatt have taken their teams and gone to the seining grounds for the season.

Miss Lenrouge is visiting friends at Natal this week.

Mr. D. Kaye has lost a valuable cow.

Mr. Burries has a new horse and now has a very pretty team.

Mr. Detrick and Miss Rose Parsons were married in Portland last week.

The Mist school has challenged the Natal school to an arithmetic match.

The Granges's entertainment and dance was a success. A large crowd came in spite of the weather. The supper was excellent and everyone looked happy after coming from the dining room.

Mr. Jas. Robinson of (Brooklyn) Portland is visiting friends in the Valley.

SCAPPOOSE

Cold rains have retarded the growth of crops, but weeds are doing splendidly.

Early cherries and apples will be in small yield here abouts owing to the frost.

An enthusiastic meeting was held at the hall Tuesday night and it was unanmously voted to celebrate the Fourth in grand style at Scappoose this year. Liberal donations of money were secured and committees set to work on the details. Neighboring districts are cordially invited to participate with us.

Lafe Pence, the Portland capitalist, has a surveying crew locating route for a grade ditch from Scappoose Creek to Portland; truly a big undertaking but perhaps a feasable one, who can tell.

DAVENPORT COMING BACK.

Cartoonist Returns to Oregon to Show His Birds and Beasts at the Exposition.

After demonstrating to all concerned that an Oregon man raised on an Oregon farm can succeed in almost anything he tackles out in the big world, Homer Davenport is coming home to Portland again. Everybody who reads newspapers knows Homer Davenport. His cartoons of men have made them famous, or infamous in some cases, and some of his drawings on questions of national import have had a direct influence upon their settlement or adjustment. But while he is the world's greatest cartoonist today, only a trifle more than eighteen years ago he was a farmer boy at Silverton, Ore., where he secured his first art education by drawing pictures on the old stable door.

Strange as it may seem, Mr. Davenport has had time during these eighteen eventful years since he has been struggling for fame, to make the greatest collection of birds and domesticated animals in America. It was the early influences of the farm, no doubt, that gave him his passion for birds and animals. He has searched the four quarters of the globe for his collection, and now that he is coming back he is bringing the birds and animals with him.

Mr. Davenport and his pets are to be at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. When he learned that Oregon was giving a great world's fair he at once volunteered his services, and the result is that he has several acres at the Exposition grounds where a reproduction of a typical Oregon ranch is being made. Here he will show to all who come, his truly remarkable collection, which has cost him his spare time and his spare change to the extent of $82,000. Included in his fine collection are thirty six varieties of pheasants, every country in the world being fittingly represented. Then there are water-foul, storks, crane, jungle fowl, wild turkeys, pigeons, fancy poultry, quails, tragopans, Angora goats, Arabian horses and so on through the long list.

Mr. Davenport will win unending gratitude by affording an opportunity of seeing genuine Arabian horses, which are a rarity in America. The Sultan of Turkey, be it known, refuses to let any of these precious steeds leave their native country, but at the time of the World's Fair at Chicago he permitted a band of the best steeds to be sent as an exhibit in charge of Imperial Turkish representatives. These same representatives got embroiled in heavy debts at Chicago and the horses were auctioned off to pay the debts. Mr. Davenport bid high and managed to get five of the best animals which he is now bringing to Portland with him, for the delectation of his old Oregon friends and neighbors and all Exposition visitors.

Up to this time his collection has kept at the famous Homer Davenport farm at Morris Plains, N. J. At that place the animals have been visited by the country's greatest men as Mr. Davenport's guests. His departure for Portlatd last week was the occasion of a big barbeque, at which many of the best known writers, editors, actors and politicians wese present.

Further interest in bringing of the famous collection to the Lewis and Clark Exposition is added by the fact that a number of important tests and a series of investigations into the habits and peculiarities of the birds and animals are to be made by Portland scientists and ornithologists. These investigations will begin shortly after the opening of the Exposition on June 1 and will continue until its close, October 15. Work on the Davenport Farm is now nearly completed, having been planned and pushed ahead by Mr. Davenport's boyhood friend, George L. Baker, who has been highly successful as a theatrical manager and who is helping the cartoonist in this period of recreation and visit among old familiar scenes. Like all other portions of this great Exposition, the Farm will be complete in every detail when the gates of the Exposition are thrown open to the world, the first day of next month.

EXPOSURE.

To cold draughts of air and keen cutting winds, sudden changes of temprature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and singing, bring on coughs and colds.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best cure. Mrs. A. Barr, Huston, Tex. writes, Jan. 31, 1902: "One bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup cured me of a very bad cough. It is very pleasant to take. Sold by A. J. Deming.

A Positive Necessity.

Having to lay upon my bed for 14 days from a severely bruised leg, I only found releif when I used a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I can cheerfully recomend it as the best medicine ever sent to the afflicted. It has now become a positive necessity upon myself. D. R. Byrnes, Merchant, Doversliile, Texas. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by A. J. Deming.

How We Do It

We have had so many people ask us how we do it—how we sell our goods so much cheaper than Portland merchants. This is our answer: When we kept store in Portland we paid $300 per month rent, hired clerks, and had other expenses too numerous to mention. Here you all know the rent is not nearly that amount. We do our own clerking, unpacking, etc. In Portland our customers had to pay higher prices for the goods to enable us to make expenses. Here YOU get the benefit in goods of what we otherwise pay out in expenses. Hoping you will benefit yourself by this lettter, I am,
Sincerely yours,

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Columbia County.

J. C. Moreland, plaintiff, vs. Martin Conway, Wm. G. Howatson, H. W. Brown, Arthur Lowe, W. M. Brazee, Chas. Boisvert and Nettie Boisvert (his wife), and Jesse F. Ernst as administrator of the estate of John Conway, deceeased, defendants.

To Martin Conway, and Jesse F. Ernst (administrator of the estate of John Conway, deceased):

In the name of the State of Oregon you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before six weeks from the first publication of this summons, and if you fail to so answer, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in his complaint, which is; for a decree against you and each and all the defendants, quieting his title to the following described tracts of land, to-wit: The north half of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 16, in township 7 north of range 4 west of the Willamette meridian; also the tract bounded by a line beginning at the northwest corner of the above tract and running north 11.43 chains, thence east 5 chains, thence north 10 chains, thence east 9 chains, thence south 21.43 chains and thence west 14 chains to place of beginning; and also that other tract bounded by a line beginning 33 chains west of the northwest corner of the Z. Bryant donation land claim and running south 14.99 chains to the center line of said section 16, thence west 10.53 chains, thence north 14.99 chains and thence east 10.53 chains to place of beginning; and that the claim of title thereto by defendants or either of them is without foundation and void; and for such other relief as may be equitable.

This summons is published by order of the Hon. R. S. Hattan, Judge of the County Court of Columbia County, State of Oregon, made and filed April 3rd, 1905, and is thereby made returnable six weeks from the date of the first publication hereof, which date is April 6th, 1905.
