Dam Speed-Up To Take Time

DENVER (AP) — Rep. Stewart Udall, who will be secretary of interior in the incoming Democratic administration, warned officials of four Western states Thursday it will take some time to accelerate the nation's reclamation program.

"We won't be able to shift from low to high gear overnight," the 40-year-old Arizonan said.

He told a meeting of the Upper Colorado River Basin Commission there are two principal reasons why the administration of President-elect John F. Kennedy will need time to work out a reclamation program:

1. Money. Reclamation projects "face a serious budget situation" in the next Congress, Udall said.

2. Sectionalism—jealousies and local interests that have blocked individual projects in the past. "I hope that the Kennedy administration will mark an end to regionalism in the west and that we can all pull together," he said.

"The policy in the Interior Department will follow the guide lines as laid down by Sen. Kennedy in his speeches and in the Democratic party platform," said the new cabinet officer.

Questioned about his choice of appointments for undersecretary and assistant secretaries, Udall said he hopes to announce these before Christmas.

In response to a query, he said director Felix Sparks of the Colorado Water Conservation Board "has a lot of support" for the job of assistant secretary for power and water. Sparks himself said later that he has removed himself from consideration.

HOT TIME AT HOME

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — When the fire alarm sounded, Fireman Jim Meyers jumped on the truck and rushed off.

The truck took Meyers home. A tube had blown out of his television set and caught fire.

In addition to being a city fireman, Meyers sells and services home fire extinguishers.

BEGINS LONG CAMPAIGN

LAGRANGE, N.C. (UPI)—Paul Barwich, 31, crippled editor of the weekly Lagrange Gazette, announced today he is beginning a four-year weekend campaign for election to the post of state commissioner of agriculture.

Barwich, confined to a wheelchair since 1938, will campaign each weekend in preparation for the 1964 elections. During the week he will be busy getting out his newspaper.

Johnson May Be Handed Hot Latin Assignment

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy is reported considering designating the incoming vice president as a trouble shooter to improve U. S. - Latin American relations.

This may be one of the outside assignments Kennedy indicated during the presidential campaign he had in mind for Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Any designation of the only other nationally-elected official of the government to deal with the problems of hemisphere countries—including Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba—would emphasize the importance Kennedy places on reestablishing good neighbor policies with republics of the south.

Shortly after the election, Kennedy predicted at Hyannis Port, Mass., that Johnson, the retiring Senate majority leader, would become the most effective vice president in modern times. He indicated he would ask Johnson to take on even more duties than President Eisenhower assigned to Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon, the most active vice president in recent years, served on the National Security Council, met with the Cabinet, filled a liaison role between the White House and Congress, headed a Committee on Fair Employment Practices on Government Contracts, and undertook goodwill missions in which he visited 55 countries.

If Kennedy decides to name Johnson to deal with Latin American countries, it is understood he would want the vice president to play a ground-breaking role in improving relations with America's neighbors to the south.

There is no thought that anybody other than the president and the secretary of state would make final policy decisions in the area. But Johnson's background is such that his advice would be listened to carefully in such matters.

As the Senate's majority leader and as a Texan, Johnson has taken pains to establish warm relations with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico.

The two men maintain regular communications, and Johnson visits Mexico nearly every chance he gets. Lopez visited Johnson's Texas ranch earlier in the year.

Johnson's acquaintance with the problems of other Latin American states has been enhanced by his experiences as chairman of an appropriations subcommittee which passes on the money for State Department programs in that and other parts of the world.

Because he also is well known to many of the Latin American diplomats in Washington, the choice of Johnson for a troubleshooter role apparently would be well received.

Johnson's friends say it also could be expected to demonstrate that Kennedy intends to have his administration devote major attention to hemispheric relations he charged in the campaign were allowed to drift by the Eisenhower regime.

Meet To Be Held

The purpose of this meeting is to form a cooperative agreement in regard to recruiting forest fire fighters and furnishing other services. Mayor Lawrence Slater will welcome the group.

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP) — Stannard Rock lighthouse, often referred to as the "loneliest" outpost in the United States, will be converted to automatic operation shortly after the opening of the 1961 navigation system.

Resident personnel no longer will be required to man the lighthouse which is 45 miles north of here in Lake Superior. The Coast Guard now assigns two men to the "rock."
