SALVATION CHANGES MADE

FAR-REACHING CHANGES ARE MADE IN ARMY.

New Era Involves Redisposition of Personnel and Redistricting of Entire Country.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—A far-reaching reorganization of the Salvation Army, designed to put it in a position the better to meet the enlarged demands that are everywhere being made upon it since the war, was announced today by the executive officials of the body here. The new era upon which the Salvationists are entering involves not only a complete re-disposition of personnel, but also a re-districting of the entire country for the army's administrative purposes.

Remaining as head of all the Salvation Army forces in the United States is Commander Evangeline Booth, who has given 15 years of service here. She continues as commanding officer of all the army's forces in the United States and Hawaii, but with enlarged authority delegated to her in recognition of her successful direction of the wartime efforts of the organization both at home and abroad.

For administrative purposes the country has been divided into three territories, an eastern, central and western, with headquarters respectively in New York, Chicago and San Francisco. Colonel William Peart, who has long been chief secretary in the United States, will leave New York with a promotion to commissioner and assume charge of the army's work in the central territory. To New York as ranking officer comes Commissioner Thomas Estill, who heretofore has directed the Salvationist activities for the entire western half of the country from Chicago. The commanding officer for the new western territory will be Colonel Adam Gifford, formerly in charge of the work in New England, whose promotion to the rank of lieutenant commissioner will take effect with his assumption of his new post.
