TO PROTECT LIFE AND LIMB.

The Labor organizations are working along right lines in their endeavor to secure from the next Legislature an adequate law for the protection of employes, though it appears from a recent decision of the United States Court of Appeals for the State of Missouri that a State law will not afford much protection so long as the corporations control the higher court.

A working girl had her fingers cut off by a machine and sued the corporation for damages. The jury decided in her faver, and the corporation took the case to the United States Court of Appeals, which decided, in the language of Judge Sanborn, that the woman was not entitled to any damages because in the language of the court, the danger was apparent, and the woman could have quit her job. It is to the credit of one of the judges that he emphatically dissented from this infamous doctrine. Working people, as a rule, can not quite their jobs, and especially is this true of working girls. The Missouri law provided, as does the law in this State, that machinery must be properly safeguarded, but the appellate court set aside that law in favor of the corporation. The fact that one of the judges dissented is significant as showing that the law is just what the judges say it is, and therefore, those who favor just laws for all must see to it that men are put on the bench who will not be the servants of the corporations.

Attendance of members at a base ball game in Washington Saturday interfered with the transaction of business in the U. S. senate, preventing a vote on certain provisions of the railroad bill, whereat Senator Aldrich kicked, enough of his men being absent to make it inadvisable to proceed to vote without them. If a perpetual ball game could keep certain absentees away perpetually, it would be a good thing for the country to arrange to have it.

Just to demonstrate that the pennant is not won till it is won, Portland lost four ball games out of six to San Francisco. But let Portland cheer up. Other people have their troubles. Just think of that boil on Jeffries' back.

POMONA MEETING.

A Small Attendance But Good Work at Houlton.

The spring meeting of the Pomona Grange is always a slim one. Saturday's gathering at Houlton was no exception to the rule. As usual, there were a number of resolutions passed, the most important of which, from the Grange standpoint, was one opposing the election of any one not a farmer to the office of Master of the State Grange. Another provided for the compensation of county deputies, and discussion developed the fact that those present were of the opinion that Grange work is being conducted in altogether too cheap a style. Columbia County Grangers believe that anything worth having is worth paying for at a reasonable rate, and they realize that the Grange will not grow as it should until competent men are paid fair salaries for organization work. The dues should be doubled and the money wisely spent in building up the order. The third resolution was of local interest and calls upon the county court to require justices of the peace to exact bonds for costs from persons bringing criminal actions. There is merit in the idea, but of course nothing should be done that will deprive a poor man of his right to justice.

The next Pomona will meet at Natal in August, on the banks of the Nehalem river, and everybody who can will be there.

St. Helens 8; Clatskanie, 0.

The Clatskanie boys put up a fast game for five innings last Sunday and go se egged the St. Helens boys in a way that was beautiful to see, but they were not there with the steady game necessary to win. In the six inning Summers got on and was brought home by Owen's two bagger. From then on it was easy. Another ace was scored in the seventh, in the eighth Bryant walked everyone who came up, and four more scores were tallied, with a pair in the ninth to make it an even 8 to 0.

Clatskanie has a swell in field and the boys showed what they can do on a fast diamond. McDonald took a number of hard chances without a miss, and Laws got 11 put outs and no errors. Austin played a good fast game around the 3rd sack. McDuffie's arm was in perfect shape and his work was A 1. Brakke pitched a beautiful game, but three hits being secured. Except for one bad inning when he was wild, Bryant did great work. He struck out 11, with 3 hits. He is undoubtedly a coming pitcher. Next Sunday, Portland Blues vs St. Helens at this place. This team has never been here before.
