Miss Nina Hunstock is home, ready for her fall work, and can be found at her art studio, 906 Main avenue.

J. B. Thorson, cashier of the Elgin bank, was a business visitor here last evening.

Mrs. M. J. Wills of Alicel, who has been visiting in the city for the past two weeks, returned home this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bay leave tomorrow evening for Portland and Salem, where they will visit the state fair.

Miss Hazel Small is expected to arrive tonight from Baker City to visit at the home of Judge and Mrs. J. C. Henry.

Engineer Cupernell brought the Baker City switch engine, No. 241, up from Baker last evening, for light repairs.

Express Messenger A. W. Leffel of the Elgin run, has gone out to his homestead in Wallowa county. Brakeman Cole is taking his place.

Mr. and Mrs. Skiles of Seattle, returned yesterday from the Canyon house and went out to Hot Lake on the evening train.

Miss Elfreda Roedell of Walla Walla, is visiting with Miss Anna Riesland. She arrived last evening, and will remain the week out.

Assistant Superintendent D. W. Campbell left this morning for the east. He has been making La Grande his headquarters during a careful inspection of eastern Oregon points.

Frank Bay, of the Bay & Zweifel plumbing firm, accompanied by Arthur Waegle, went to Imbler today, where they have work at the planing mill.

Mesdames J. P. Connelly and Fred Rutherford, who have been visiting with Mrs. Frank O'Hara at the scene of construction on the Wallowa front," returned home last evening.

County Superintendent E. E. Bragg visited the Island City school districts today. In a few days he will be scurrying here and there, all over the county, attending to matters coming under his supervision.

Rev. Alexander Blackburn, pastor of the First Baptist church of Baker City, arrived today accompanied by his wife. He will deliver his noted address in the First Baptist church here commencing at 8 o'clock tonight, entitled, "Life's Overflow." He is a talented speaker and the invitation to attend extends to all.

Indian "Jim," who claims he owns a horse now in the hands of local parties, is in the city today en route to the Snake river hunting grounds, with four horses. He procured a hunting license in this city, and will go on to join his Indian friends on the Snake.

Editor Ben Weathers, of the Wallowa Chieftain, was in the city today. He says Wallowa county is beginning to feel that they are on the map that the railroad has actually entered their county, and that the iron horse will be whistling into Joseph by Christmas. Already stockbuyers are directing that deliveries be made at Wallowa as a result of the train schedule to become effective in a few days. He returned to his home this morning.

All the paper for the millions of postage stamps used in the United States its manufactured at Mechanic Falls, Maine. Once a month the firm receives a requisition for one million sheets of the paper, and each sheet will make three hundred and sixteen stamps.

POLICE CALL OUT PATROL

Being too near beer, evidently, is responsible for the cause of a sensational run made by the police "patrol" this afternoon to Jefferson avenue, at the corner of the Brewery building. The officers found a man in a beastly state of intoxication and it was too much like work to even attempt to carry the fellow to the city jail. A push cart used by the Foley hotel was drafted into use and into it the drunk was dumped. Without a word or action of resistance he was safely transported to the jail. As soon as he sobers sufficiently to be able to articulate, he will be cross-examined as to where he got the "booze." He does not know his own name or any other name this afternoon—He is too intoxicated. That he will be handed a surprise package by the recorder—and they will not be a dozen of fresh eggs, either—is a foregone conclusion.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

At the Pastime.

The capacity of the Pastime theater was not sufficient to accommodate the crowds last evening. Many were turned away. The program was such that many, after witnessing one performance, purchased tickets for a second show from the ushers, in order that they might retain their seats and see the Olympic games again. The pictures of these games are certainly fine and the exhibitions given by the various contestants give as perfect an idea of the extent and character of these tests of skill and feats of strength as could be secured if one was present at the great international meet. The pictures are all bright and clear, and the various individuals can be seen as plainly as if the spectators were in the grandstand and the athletes on the field. The same program will be presented this evening.

At the Sherwood.

At the Sherwood the Village Gossip seems to be the favorite. In this pictorial story of course, the gossip makes all kinds of trouble for the innocent ones, but to even things up and administer a fitting rebuke to the busy one and properly reward the righteous ones, the last few hundred feet of film is devoted to setting things right. The number ends satisfactorily to the public and everybody with the exception of the gossip. Mr. Fuzz does a few stunts which makes the audience set up and take notice. The Rag Pickers has sufficent heart interest to hold the attention of the audience, and at the same time enough that is novel and new, to enliven the entire program.

At the Scenic.

Mr. Gardinier, manager of the Scenic, has surely found a cure for the blues in this week's program. No one who sees the Merry Widower can remain glum or unhappy for more than one minute after seeing this real funny set of pictures. The hero of the store meets a lady on the street and makes many, but vain attempts to win the fair one and in the end is completely "cut out" by a college man. Another good film is the "Coward." This number deals with a large but patient man who is cruelly abused by a bully, but finally patience ceases to be a virtue and the big fellow gives the bully "all that is coming to him." The last number, "Oh, What an Appetite!" is another comic number. The last two numbers are absolutely new, as they were released September 2.

DYING ON HIGH MOUNTAIN SIDE

Valdez, Alaska, Sept. 11.—Unconscious and fatally injured as the result of a fall while attempting to scale a peak near Valdez Glacier, Dr. F. E. Chaney, a prominent local physician, is lying on the mountain side in the rain, for a period of 14 hours at this time. With three men he reached an elevation of 2500 feet, when he slipped and rolled 200 feet down a rocky cliff.

Dr. Chaney was formerly a resident of Portland, Ore. Hundreds of citizens with axes and lanterns are cutting a trail up the mountain in order to reach him.

GUARANTEE LAW UPHELD.

Supreme Court Holds Oklahoma's Bank Law Constitutional.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 11.—The state supreme court today upheld the bank deposit guarantee law which has been made an issue in the national campaign. Oklahoma adopted the first law of its kind put into operation. Efforts were made to declare it unconstitutional, but every member of the court concurred.

ORDER EARLY.

The first of the week, Mayor M. K. Hall, Chief of Police J. W. Walden and Water Superintendent H. C. Gilman leave on an elk hunting trip on the headwaters of Beaver creek. They expect to be absent one week and return with a sufficient supply to keep all of their friends in winter rations.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge Bean Taking Testimony in the Turner Oliver Case.

Judge Bean is hearing the testimony in the case of Turner Oliver vs. the City of La Grande. This case involves the right of a certain portion of the street on O avenue. The case went to the supreme court, but was remanded to secure certain testimony which was ruled out in the former trial.

Men sometimes spend the latter half of their lives nursing ills brought upon them by their ignorance in the first half.

Words will not right injustice half so quick as silence and time.
