Candyman

Tony Todd stars as Candyman

"Candyman is a horror film in the real sense of the word–it deals with the elements of dread and death, not just a man with a big knife,' explains writer/director Bernard Rose, whose award-winning feature film 'Paperhouse' successfully blended elements of art, horror and altered reality into a powerful coming-of-age drama."

"Candyman invokes our primal fears more than simply the fear of dismemberment. This is a modern Gothic horror, a genre which traditionally deals with the romantic horror of death."
