Was a Smallpox Scare—
Rev. F. J. Huston this morning greeted his friends with a smile and says that the worry is all over now, for he has not got the smallpox, and so will be in his pulpit both morning and evening on Sunday. Rev. Huston and small daughter were both in the first of the week, and it was feared that they might be in for a seige of smallpox, because of the great number of cases of that disease at the present time.

Icy Snow Creates Excitement—
This morning a little group of men were huddled near the O. W. R. & N. depot when a great roar sounded over head and little bits of icy snow showered down from the roof onto the depot platform. The thaw had started the snow to fall from all the nearby roofs and while the ice caked snow was not heavy, it was firm enough to cut or to knock a man insensible by hitting him on the head.

Boys Vested Choir—
The boys of the Presbyterian Sunday School have organized into a choir and are being trained by Mrs. A. L. Richardson for singing in the church service. It was hoped that they would be ready for next Sunday afternoon, but, on account of the delay in getting their vestments, they will not sing until Sunday, Jan. 23. There are between 15 and 20 in the choir at present and it is assured that the contribution they will make to the vesper services will add materially to the popularity of this service.

Summerville Men Here—
Harry Sanderson and Gus Ehrens are in La Grande today from Summerville. Sanderson is the storekeeper at Summerville and says that business is so rushing there that he can take a great deal of time off and visit La Grande and the Summerville people will never know that he is gone. The mere mention of stock makes Ehrens' eyes sparkle and he says, in his broken English, that, while he has not the very best stock in the country, he would hate to turn a cattle thief loose in the bunch.

Coke as Substitute for Sandpaper.
A sandpaper substitute that has special merit for removing rust from tools without scratching is made from crushed coke. The coke is crushed to the required degree of fineness and sifted through a piece of cloth onto a piece of white paper, which has been coated with glue. After the glue has dried, the paper is ready for use.

Walking on Snow
Like the snowshoe, with its loose lattice, requires some practice in walking over soft snow, but one need not expect to develop much speed, says the American Forestry Magazine. The sport consists in walking on snow so soft that, without such appendages, he would sink into it. Northern hunters in former times made their own shoes with hatchet and knife, and if leather thongs were not at hand, the lattice soles could be woven of basswood bark, which can be stripped in winter as well as in summer.

MARCONI'S FAMILY

Donna Beatrice Marconi, wife of Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy, with her little girl. Donna Marconi was Lady Inchiquin before her marriage. Her family is one of the oldest and most aristocratic in Ireland.

Races of Mankind.
According to Whittaker's Almanac, the Mongolian race is the largest, with 657,000,000, as compared to 645,000,000 of Caucasians, 100,000,000 of negroes, 81,000,000 of Semites, 9,000,000 of Malays and 23,000,000 of red Indians. The Mongolian, or yellow race, includes the people of China, Tibet, Japan, Korea, Siam and Indochina, together with many of the tribes of Siberia and other parts of Asia.

Perforation of Postage Stamps.
Forty-six perforations are made around the sides of every postage stamp. It is estimated that about 500,000,000 holes are punched every day. This means a similar number of bits of paper. They are collected, repulped and remade into sheets of paper. These are regarded so valuable by the postal authorities that barrels full of them are sold every day.

Loved Milliner's Flowers.
It is a custom of the Alaskan Indians to deposit on the grave of a friend some of the things the man or woman had loved best in life. On one grave a milliner in Ketchican, Alaska, recognized a long wreath of flowers as having been purchased at her shop. Each grave is covered over with a floor, roof and balustrade in such manner as to resemble at a distance a little white house.

Meteors.
A meteor is a sudden luminous phenomenon, as of a star or bright body in rapid motion through the air, produced by a small mass of matter perhaps from the celestial spaces striking the air with planetary velocity, and suffering heating, dissipation, or combustion. Before encountering the earth they travel in their own orbits.

Great Pine Resources in Canada.
In the opinion of expert authorities, Canada could increase its production of zinc to supply one-tenth of the world's demand, which is estimated at more than 1,000,000 tons annually.

Artificial Eyes.
Today there are probably more artificial eyes in the world than there have ever been before, yet so excellent is the workmanship used in their manufacture that they can very seldom be detected. The artificial eye, however, will not serve the wearer forever. There are certain orbital fluids which destroy the enamel, thus involving considerable expense for renewal. In view of this celluloid is often used instead of glass, and lasts longer. The minutest details are carefully reproduced even to the veins on the eyeball and the broken color of a hazel iris.
