PENDLETON QUINTET IS DEFEATED

LOCAL GIRLS' TEAM PUTS UP STRONG FIGHT HERE SATURDAY.

Fast Teamwork is Displayed by Both Teams and Game is Full Of Pep.

In one of the fastest girls' basketball games ever played in Eastern Oregon, the La Grande high school quintet Saturday evening defeated the Pendleton girls' team by a score of 37 to 23 in the high school gymnasium.

All during the game the score ran very closely, with Pendleton just a few points behind the local girls. At the end of the third quarter, it looked like La Grande had an easy victory, and two subs went in for the locals. However, Pendleton rallied and began getting in some fine teamwork, with the result that several baskets were made. Mildred Hoyt went back in as side center and Freida Klopfenstein as forward, and the gain of the visitors was checked.

At the end of the first half, the score stood 24-7 in favor of La Grande, and when the final whistle was blown, the score was 35-23, still in favor of the local team. Mary Clark, of the Pendleton team, made 7 points, and Jane Cheney, 16 points, while for the locals, Freida Klopfenstein made 22 points and Marjorie O'Brien, 13. The La Grande team will play a return game with Pendleton at Pendleton on February 18, and are planning for a hard scrap at that game, as the two teams are so evenly matched as to speed and ability.

This coming Saturday evening, the La Grande girls will play the Enterprise team which they defeated a few weeks ago.

The line-up for the game was as follows:

SPEAKERS ARE WELL INFORMED

BAPTISTS OF STATE WILL HOLD CONVENTION.

February 13, 14 and 15 are Dates Set for Meeting in Portland; Good Program Planned.

The Baptists of Oregon are particularly fortunate in having the privilege of hearing Rev. C. A. Brooks, D. D., Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Boston, and Rev. W. H. Bowler of the Board of Promotion in a conference to be held in Portland February 13, 14 and 15, at the White Temple.

Dr Brooks has spent a year in Europe, accompanied by interpreters, practiced into every country, save Russia, and intimately studied the European situation. Going over there, almost upon the close of the war, he saw it while it was still suffering sore pains.

Mrs. Peabody, a returned missionary from South India, and First Vice President of the Woman's Mission Society, is familiar with the needs of our Mission stations by personal contact as a missionary, by reports as an executive, and having made a tour of investigation of foreign mission fields along with Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery, who stands with us, intimately acquainted of the interests.

PAUL SPILLMAN RETURNS HOME

SPOKE AT FAIRS MEETINGS ON THURSDAY AND FRIDAY.

Century Agriculturist Took Place of Robert Withycombe, and Spoke on Silage and Beef Cattle.

Paul H. Spillman arrived home Saturday night after attending the meetings of the Deschutes county farmers' schools, held at Bend and Redmond Thursday and Friday. He reports that both meetings were decidedly successful.

Robert Withycombe, Superintendent of the Branch Experimental station at Union, had been engaged to speak on cattle feeding and raising in Union and it's parellelism with other counties in the state. But due to Mr. Withycombe's inability to talk, following an operation for tonsils, Mr. Spillman filled the vacancy and talked on the same subject, using silage as a food for beef cattle, as his chief topic.

Silage and beef cattle have never been connected in the Deschutes county and while the efforts have been many to induce this movement at Bend, as yet it has been quite unsuccessful. Mr. Spillman said today that he thought the meeting at both places would later prove of importance, as it was his opinion that in time the farmers in that district would realize the importance of silage.

Geneva Smith, Grace Yeck, Waldo Stoddard and Willard Stone were the four successful candidates who will represent the La Grande high school debate team in the contests which are soon to be staged for the championship of the state of Oregon. Waldo Stoddard and Geneva Smith will oppose the affirmative team, and Grace Yeck and Willard Stone the negative team. The final tryouts were held Saturday afternoon in the high school, and of the large debate group which has been working, these four were chosen for the first teams, with Harry Snodgrass acting as alternate for both teams.

Constantinople Is Scene Of Many Starving People

[illegible] information of the awful conditions now existing among the starving peoples of the Near East, has been received in a letter to Mrs. Edna Schlike Morrison, of this city, from Captain and Mrs. Wilford H. Day, who are both engaged in American Red Cross work in Constantinople. Mrs. Day was formerly Miss Eugenia Daigle, and made her home in Marshfield. Both Captain and Mrs. Day were members of the Balkan Commission at the same time as was Mrs. Morrison. Following is the text of the letter written by Mrs. Day on November 28:

"The situation here is appalling; there are 65 ships in the harbor o Constantinople just packed with refugees who have been there for a week, cold and hungry and pleading for just a piece of bread and a little water. We go out to these ships on United States sub-chasers, which have been put at the disposal of the American Red Cross to distribute food to these people, but I cannot describe the terrible conditions.

"It is absolutely true that people are starving; some have died, some gone insane and others have committed suicide. Some say they have money and all they want is to get off the ships, but we cannot do much about getting them off as the French government has assumed control. Constantinople is already overcrowded and there is no place to put them but the French have purchased 8,000,000 francs worth of tents from the American Red Cross and they are preparing to house as many as possible in these tents but they will not be very comfortable during the cold, rainy weather.

"Some of the ships have 7,000 or 8,000 refugees on them and it was reported yesterday that there are 54 more ships coming. We are working hard to take care of the sick and wounded, but are short of beds and mattresses. The best we can do is to use straw for beds and the American Red Cross is looking after that. The Russian embassy here has been turned into a hospital and 350 women are being care for there.

"The United States Navy is giving great assistance in the way of water-transportation—it is running two boats a day to the island of Prot, where the American Red Cross is taking care of thousands of refugees from the Odessa evacuation, giving them one meal a day of sup, bread and vegetables; also cleaning and disinfecting the boats on which they live. I worked all day Thanksgiving at the canteen giving out chunks of bread and
