Among those that left this morning were George Garrick, Zenith Thompson, Tommy Ruckman, Everett Kuhn and Richard Strand, of Union, William Shaw and many others too numerous to mention.

FOUR DISTRICTS WILL COMPETE

Cove, Elgin, Imbler and Blue Mt. Grange Will Compete for $75 Prize.

Four districts of Union county will compete for the prize of $75.00 for the best display of products exhibited by any district at the Union County Fair. Cove, Elgin, Imbler and Blue Mt. Grange are busily engaged in collecting and preparing exhibits and those in position to know announce that the keenest kind of competition will result.

There is every indication that fruit will form a substantial part of the district displays, although each will contain exhibits of all the various products grown in the respective districts.

The fact that four districts have already entered makes it certain that the coming fair will not want for high class exhibits. Nor is there any reason to believe that there will not be sufficient exhibits to fill the spacious tents provided by the association. Individual entries are being received daily and the number is likely to increase from now until the opening day.

Particular interest is being displayed in agricultural and horticultural products and the Fair Association is all but ready to guarantee the finest display of the foregoing products ever shown in Union county.

PHYMERE FARM WILL EXHIBIT

The famous herd of holsteins owned by Dr. W. T. Phy is being prepared at Phymere farm for exhibition at the Union County Fair, September 27 to 30. It goes without saying that the Phy herd alone is a good dairy show in itself, and the fact that they will be seen at the coming fair should indeed be gratifying to the association.

Another recent entry made in the dairy division was that of the herd of Jerseys owned by Ray Norval, of the Willow creek district.

YEAR'S OUTPUT OF FISH LARGE

(By Associated Press.)

COEUR D'ALENE, Ida., Sept. 22.—The total output of the Coeur d'Alene fish hatchery was 1,300,000 according to Superintendent Clark. The hatchery recently closed down for the 1922 season.

Of this season's output, according to Superintendent Clark, 1,210,000 of the fish were Elk river brook trout, 237,000 were rainbow trout and 257,000 were native trout. With the exception of a few small shipments, all of the fingerlings were distributed in Cotenia, Renewah and Shoshone counties of this state.

Infallible Weather Signs.
Weather signs are as follows: A red sunrise with lowering clouds later means rain; a morning fog usually melts away before noon; a deep blue sky means fair weather; a growing whiteness in the sky forecasts a storm; fogs assure settled weather as a rule; a gray lowering sunset is a forerunner of rain.

JEWISH NEW YEAR BEGINS

Feast Day of Hebraic Calendar Followed by Fasting and Prayer.

At sundown this evening, Jews throughout the world will begin the observance of Rosh Hashonah, the New Year's day of the Jewish calendar. This will begin the Jewish year 5683.

Ten days of fasting and prayer, ending with Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, follow the feast of Rosh Hashonah. The feast itself is known as Kom Hazzikaron, or the Day of Memorial ,celebrating the creation of the world, and as Yom Haddin or the Day of Judgment. Orthodox Jews believe that men are called to give account of their sins during the past year at the beginning of the New Year and Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, might be thought of as a Jewish lent. The strictest fast day in the calendar is Yom Kippur, when no pious Jew eats or drinks for a period of 24 hours.

Custom of Ages.
Rosh Hashonah and Yom Kippur were celebrated over 3000 years ago in much the same manner that they are observed today. The former owes its origin to passages in the books of Numbers and Leviticus, where references are made to the summoning of all the faithful to a convocation. Yom Kippur also owes its foundation to the book of Leviticus, wherein it is admonished that the faithful "afflict the soul" to atone for misdeeds. The traditionally accepted manner of performing this is by fasting. The scripture says, "Every soul not afflicted on the same day shall be cut off from his people and every soul that works on that day will be destroyed from among his people."

354 Days in Jewish Year.
This period of 10 days which marks the opening of the New Year and the Day of Atonement is a movable series, although the earlyautumn is the season in which it always falls. The ordinary Jewish year contains 354 days, which is alternated at intervals with an "embolismic perfect" year of 385 days.

This season is the one most dear to the Jewish heart and the one most conscientiously kept.

BRITISH BOAT DEFIES PROHIS

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The United States coast guard cutter Seneca was sent to sea Thursday to determine the exact location of the Onward, a vessel flying the British flag, which Wednesday night defied prohibition officers aboard the Hahn, flagship of the dry navy.

The Seneca, it was said, had orders to seize the Onward if she was within the 12-mile limit. The vessel, prohibition officials said, is believed to be carrying a cargo of liquor and awaiting an opportunity to transfer it to a smaller boat for smuggling into the United States.

The revenue cutter Newberry, sent out early Thursday in quest of the Onward, came across the seagoing tug Jessica L. M. Kehoe, arrested its crew of 15 and seized whisky valued at $200,000. The cargo of the tug included 2112 cases of Scotch and rye.

The captain of the Onward, which was formerly Henry Ford's private yacht, was said to have threatened to shoot the first prohibition sailor who tried to board her when the Hahn attempted to seize the vessel Wednesday night.

Prohibition enforcement officers here said Thursday that in seizing a ship within the 12-mile limit the prohibition forces operated under a law more than a century old. Originally, they said, the law was designed to end smuggling into the country of negro slaves.

CIGARETTE CAUSES FIRE

A cigarette, carelessly thrown from the Arlington apartments, was the cause of a small fire on the roof of the Grande Ronde Meat company's building this afternoon at about 1 o'clock. Only the fact that the wind was slight and that the fire was promptly discovered saved the building. As it was the fire department was able to put out the miniature conflagration in a short time.

The roof that was ignited was in a dry state and if it had occurred in the evening or in a high wind several buildings in the vicinity might have been razed. The damage amounted to about $25.

Eliminating Danger From Fumes.
Fumes from chemical plants have been one source of many damage suits. Chemical engineers today are making many successful experiments which will ultimately lead to the elimination of all such fumes. Smelter fumes are being recovered and made into sulphuric acid.

Plane Smash Does Not Worry the Flying Bluejacket at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 22.—G. A. Porter, "the flying bluejacket," who recently bought an airplane from the army and on his discharge from the navy last Friday started to fly it to his home, Longmont, Colo., has met with trouble, according to a letter received from him at the naval air station, North Island. He spent Sunday at Flagstaff, Ariz., after seeing the Grand Canyon and on Monday took off on the third leg of his trip.

His motor did not work right and he came down rapidly, landing squarely on the Santa Fe railroad tracks, exploding a tire and smashing his propeller.

"I got the ship off the tracks just in time to prevent its being wrecked by a passenger train," he wrote. "Tied the bus to a signal tower and posted up a sign: 'Please refrain from looting.' Will remain here until I can get a new propeller. Am going to fly home if I have to wait until Christmas."

Plans were made to send him a new propeller.
