Fatal Shooting Affair in a Bagnio at Salem.

SALEM, Sept. 14—A young man named Frank Bell shot himself this evening in a bagnio in this city and will die. He came here from San Jose, Cal., last June where his relatives are said to be highly respected. He brought with him a girl, Violet Aldrich, who was a victim in his amours. She has since lived in a house of ill fame, and he has been around this city and neighboring small towns most of the time, loafing. He has been in Independence recently until about a week ago, when he came here to be present during the State Fair, which commences Monday. He spent his time around the saloons, gambling houses and bagnios, and ended his existence as above stated. He had been drinking heavily to-day and told his saloon chum, James Fennel, he was going to kill Miss Aldrich, and both went to the house where she was stopping, Fennel thinking he did not mean it. He also said he would kill himself. After arriving there he pulled out a revolver, which Fennel tried to get away from him, but threatened to shoot Fennel unless left alone. He finally sat down on the bed, placed a revolver to his right temple and fired, the ball entering a little below the temple, glancing slightly upward and almost coming out at the left side near the edge of the forehead. Doctors were called but could render no assistance. He is about 22 years old.

The above is the story learned from his companions, but some doubt exists as to the truth of he matter, and there is a supposition that he was murdered by the injured Aldrich girl. A full investigation will be made.

The largest bell but one ever cast in America is to hang in the city hall in Chicago. It weighs 7500 pounds, and is ten feet in diameter, four feet ten inches in height, and will have a tone between B flat and A of the violin.
