Eugene City Guard.

SATURDAY ..... JULY 22

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

The business department of the WEEKLY GUARD is caused considerable trouble by correspondents addressing the proprietors personally. Address all letters referring to the newspaper or business connected therewith to THE GUARD, Eugene, Oregon.

EXPLAINS EVERYTHING.

The following from the Oregonian of yesterday "gives the whole business away:

"Don't waste any tears
"On the volunteers,
"Though ties in Frisco bind them;
"Just let them alone,
"And they'll come home,
"And leave their pay behind them."

GLAD TO GET AWAY.

From the San Francisco Examiner.

The young men from Oregon are sick of war. Scores of them were interviewed yesterday on the transports, and not one voice was raised in lamentation because the scenes of glory has been left below the equator. The tinsel had been rubbed off their uniforms; the pomp and glamour had disappeared beneath muk bullets, poor food, swamps and hardwood bunks in a troop ship; they yearned for the land where rolls the mighty Oregon; they hungered for a good square meal cooked in the old home way, and when they entered the Golden Gate they shouted and yelled and howled with joy.

"This thing of going to war isn't what it's cracked up to be," said a young fellow with a downy beard, shivering beneath a blanket he had thrown over his kahki uniform. "Its all right at the start. Then it's all excitement and glory and that sort of thing; but after you have been about six months on army fare—the same old thing day after day—and have slept in a swamp, rolled in mud, walked under a tropical sun until your head felt like a cannon ball and your legs like lead, only to go up against a lot of half-breeds whom you can't see and can't catch, why it's different. You get a ball inside your diaphragm and it's all over. Not that the boys didn't want to fight or did not fight. We have done everything men could do, and we have won the praise of the commanding generals but, just the same, we are glad to get home.

"You see we didn't volunteer to fight these Filipinos. We went out to fight the Spaniards and when the Spanish war was over we thought our trip was up and we had a right to come home. The other volunteers down there are in the same condition. I don't think a single volunteer company in the Philippines would remain there an hour if they could get home and most of the regulars feel about the same way.

CARE OF THE ORCHARD.

This is the time of year when the young orchard suffers most from lack of tillage and proper treatment of wood growth. Just now, when the farmer is busy haying, he feels that he can not let the hay wait a day or two till he cultivates the orchard. The result is that a thrifty crop of weeds springs up, sucks the water out of the soil, the terminal buds stop growing, and the tree is stunted; and all through its life feels the effect of the shock. There is only one way to grow good, thrifty, vigorous, paying trees, and that is by giving them the best of care the first two or three years; and the time when these trees most need care is now, just as the soil begins to get dry. Then another point about their care is that at this time the young orchardist would do well to remove the excess of branches. Suppose, for instance, that one wants to start ahead with four or three main branches: It will be good practice to remove the smaller branches of this year's growth until no more than the required number are left. This will result in turning all the force of the tree's vigor into the required branches, instead of forming a quantity of undesirable wood which sooner or later must be cut off and thrown away, thus saving unto the tree much of what is usually thrown away.

The Dalles Times Mountaineer gives the situation as follows: There is a little too much "red tape" connected with the management of the return of volunteer soldiers. For instance Frank M Girard, a member of Co I, Second Oregon, on arriving at San Francisco received a dispatch that his mother at Monmouth, Polk county, was dying and requesting his immediate return to that place. The officers in charge refused to grant him permission to go to the death bed of his mother, and like a true American he stole ashore and took the train for his home. When men who have finished their service are refused to go to the bed side of their dying parents, there is too much restraint placed upon them. It is denying them rights that citizenship and the laws of nature bestowed upon them.

It is very gratifying to learn that the University of Oregon will probably have quite an increase in attendance this year. President Strong will find earnest and united support when he arrives to take up his new duties. During the summer he has been visiting a large number of important universities and colleges over the United States, securing much information valuable to him as executive head of a thrifty state's classical school. The practicability of this work will commend itself to all.

In a criminal prosecution recently tried at York, Neb, the jury, after brief deliberation, returned the following verdict: "We, the jury in the above named case, do not believe one word that the witnesses have sworn to neither do we believe that any of the attorneys have spoken the truth, nor that any of them could do so, even if he should care to take trouble to try."

William J Bryan will speak on the results of the industrial and financial combinations at the conference on trusts to be held in Chicago, September 13 to 16, inclusive, under the auspices of the Civic Federation. He has been appointed by the governor of Nebraska as one of the delegates to represent that state at the conference.

In response to a request for an opinion Attorney General Blackburn informs Sheriff Livingstone of Grant county that he is not entitled to collect mileage from the county seat where the papers are served by a deputy residing nearer by the party served, but only mileage for the actual distance traveled in the service of the paper.

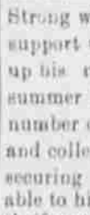
Assistant Postmaster Cates, of Union, has the smallpox and the officials ordered the patient taken home and quarantined.

"Da Prom-se Me!"

At some time to all life Cupid grinds in every woman's ear, and since that one moment it is a woman's duty to think twice before she answers. She should think once for herself, and once for the man who has chosen her for her life companion.

If she is suffering from a torturing, disgusting weakness or disease so prevalent with her sex, she has no right to answer "Yes" until her health is restored. If she does, she will be wretched and ill herself and her home will be an unhappy one. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific remedy that cures all weaknesses, disease, disorder and derangement of the delicate and important feminine organs. It is not a "cure-all," but a medicine devised to correct this one class of disorders and no other. It has accomplished its purpose in tens of thousands of cases, as is shown by tens of thousands of testimonials of the grateful patients themselves. It imparts vigor and vitality to the entire womanly organism, and is the best of all nerve tonics and restoratives. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It transforms weak, nervous, despondent invalids into healthy, happy women.

"I was so weak I could scarcely walk about the house," writes Mrs. Mattie Scruggs, of Allen's Creek, Amherst Co., Va. "Was reduced to a mere skeleton. I was given few hours ease in the back and head and could not sleep at night. I bought three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of 'Pleasant Pellets.' After taking these six weeks I felt like a new person, slept well and gained in flesh. I am doing all my own housework and we have nine in the family."



A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. All medicine dealers sell them. No other pills are "just as good."

Telling of News at this Famous Resort.

July 17, 1899.

Judge Fisk and crowd are enjoying the bon-fires and fishing experiences at the Bridge.

Glen and Lew Powers are daily expected from the Klondike, we hope with a large amount of gold.

Mr Paine has arrived with his large band of sheep and makes the range more interesting for the campers, for it is possible to follow the progress of the band, miles away on the mountain side, by the dust they raise.

Fishing at the Bridge is just getting to be at its best. Messrs Frizzell and Sporry went out Monday and brought in twenty fine Redsides. Deer, too, seems to abound, and hunters have great experiences to tell.

Monday morning while returning from a wheeling tour, Miss Katheline Patterson and Mr Louis Bean were resting under an oak tree, when they spied a "rattler" not far away. Mr Bean attacked the venomous reptile with as much spirit as he would a knotty problem in law and soon dispatched the enemy. Just what part Miss Patterson took in the fight is not known.

Otis or Correspondents Must Go.

New York, July 18.—The Washington correspondent of the Herald quotes a member of the cabinet as follows "Either Major-General Otis or the newspapers must go. To deport the correspondents would probably be accepted at home and abroad as a return to the old Spanish method of muzzling the press. To relieve Major-General Otis will mean an official acknowledgment of his fault, and a demoralization of military discipline."

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D Williams, of Manchester, Mich, tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by Wilkins & Linn druggists.

SLEEPY.

Persons troubled with diarrhoea will be interested in the experiences of Mr W M Bush, clerk of Hotel Dorrance, Providence, R I. He says. "For several years I have been almost a constant sufferer from diarrhoea, the frequent attacks completely prostrating me and rendering me unfit for my duties at this hotel. About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I feel symptoms of the disease I would fortify against the attack with a few doses of this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction." For sale by DeLano.
