MANY WERE AT HOME-COMING

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 17.—Nine former presidents of the Associated Students of the University of Oregon returned to the campus and actively participated in the Homecoming celebration which closed with the Oregon-W. S. C. game and the annual alumni dance. They were: George W. Hug, president during the college year 1906-07; L. L. Ray, 1819-11; Carlton Spencer 1912-13; Vernon Motschenbacker, 1913-4; Lamar Tooze, 915-16; Nicholas Jauregny, 1816-17; Carlton Savage, 1920-21; Lyle Bartholomew, 1921-22; and Herald White, 1918-19. The president of the Associated Students now in office is John MacGregor, a Portland boy.

Hug, now superintendent of schools in Salem, was a star football player and track man in his college day. Bartholomew, an architect, is also a Salem resident. Spencer is registrar of the University of Oregon and Tooze is field director of the University's endowment campaign. Jauregny is a Portland attorney. Savage is secretary to the president of Monmouth college. Ray practices law in Eugene.

The public is invited to attend all of these services. Music and singing. Come and get your souls blessed.

Island City Church—The Rev. Mr. Post has consented to remain over Sunday. He will speak both morning and evening. Monday evening he is expected to give us a lecture on Americanism. This lecture in addition to the more serious matters connected with patriotism, contains humor and one or two readings. No admission charges, but there will be opportunity for a silver offering. The public is invited.—Hall K. Walls, pastor.

No Call to Kick.

"A man ain' got no right kickin' against luck," says Charcoal Epsi, ruminatively, "when all he got t' do is spit on he hands an' say Sir t' de gang boss."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

TWO MORE BANKS IN IDAHO FAIL

Heavy Runs Said to Be Responsible for Suspension of Fruitland and Payette Institutions.

PAYETTE, Nov. 17.—Two Payette county banks closed their doors Thursday.

Heavy withdrawals were the reasons assigned by officers for the closing of the doors of the Payette National bank here Thursday morning. At noon, the Fruitdale State bank at Fruitdale, seven miles distant, closed its doors. A "run" on the latter bank, too strong to withstand, was the reason attributed by O. E. Bosser, president, and Frank Gardner, cashier, of the Fruitdale institution. Officers disclaimed any official connection between the two banks.
