Bright's Disease.

The largest sum ever paid for a prescription changed hands in San Francisco Aug. 30, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and stock $112,500 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes hitherto incurable diseases.

They commenced the serious investigation of the specific Nov. 18, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on its merits by putting over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also go physicians to name chronic, incurabl cases, and administered it with the physician or judges. Up to Aug. 25 eighty-seven per cent. of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably.

There being but thirteen per cent. of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the inves.igating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free application. Address JOHN J. FULTON CO.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

ONCE every year—at Thanksgiving time—some are sure to remark that the turkey, not the eagle, is the great American bird. Professor Thomson of the U. S. Agricultural Department thinks it is neither the turkey nor the eagle, but the hen. He had been associating much with hens of late, and has been so impressed with their industry, energy, persistence and strict attention to business that he has written a pamphlet on the subject. The American hen, says Prof. Thomson, produces more, in dollars and cents, than all the gold and silver mines of the country combined; and, if the value of the hens be added, the aggregate is twice the annual yield of all the gold and silver mines, and six times the value of the wool crop. The crop of the hen—but that is a mere quibble. No person who desires to become wealthy, can read Prof. Thompson's essay without a determination to give up his life insurance policy and buy a hen.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty-cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c., 50c and $1.00. Sold by City Drug Store.

Oregon's Incomparable Weather.

The general impression entertained of Oregon weather by the outside world is sufficiently indicated by the fact that the inhabitants of this state are commonly designated as Webfooters. The Eastern visitor who reaches the Pacific Coast by the way of California, with the intention of coming north, is told that it rains twelve months out of the year in this state, and during the balance of the time it is more or less cloudy. This statement is really taken for more than it is worth. So much is this the fact that when the visitor does finally arrive in Oregon, one hears from him expressions of surprise over the fine weather he encounters, and especially if his visit be at any time outside the winter months, which are even much pleasanter than those usually experienced east of the Rocky mountains.

A Lively Shakeup Promised.

The Oregonian says that the investigations of the Federal grand jury into the timber-land frauds promises to stir up a hornets' nest of gigantic proportions. The bee of justice threatens to get busy in a good many bonnets, and it is intimated that not a few of those numbered in the circle of prominent people in Portland and Oregon will be stung. In fact, one of the largest and most extensive sensations in the history of public land cases in the state is promised. It is asserted that counts sufficient to fill a large-sized book and enough to keep some men in the penitentiary for life if they lived a century have been found by the inspectors. However, as the purpose of the law is to make an example of miscreants and not to persecute, only a few of the counts in each case will be prosecuted.

It is said that a number of prominent and wealthy men will escape the dragnet of the law because of the statute of limitations, which has afforded them a loophole of escape from the trial, but will not protect them altogether from exposure. A John Doe mystery, which for the present blankets an unknown actor in the affair, is to be cleared up, and it is intimated that some banks are to be called upon to produce paid checks, which will disclose some sensational fact, and form damaging evidence against men who are not now supposed to be connected with the alleged frauds. According to the representatives of the Government, the men in Portland and other parts of Oregon who are sleeping upon uneasy pillows as the time for the grand jury investigation approaches are by no means few in number. Present indications are that the grand jury is to be kept busy finding indictments, and the officers of the Government will have their hands full throwing the lasso of the law about the necks of the guilty.

Withdrawal of Government Lands.

A letter received at the Eureka (Cal.) land office is confirmatory of the telegram received by Register Frost, withdrawing from settlement a large amount of land in that district. In part it reads as follows:

"Neither this temporary withdrawal, nor the permanent reservation of the lands, which may follow, will affect any bona-fide settlement or claim properly initiated upon the lands PRIOR TO THE DATE HEREOF, provided that the settlers or claimants continue to comply with the law under which their settlements or claims were initiated, and place their claims duly of record within the prescribed statutory period. The withdrawal operates to defeat all settlement claims or other claims initiated SUBSEQUENT TO THIS DATE, regardless of the date upon which you receive the telegram."

The words in small capitals above are underscored in the letter from the Commissioner-General of the Land Office, and show the points upon which he desires to lay particular stress.

According to the interpretation of this letter those who have entered upon lands embraced in an order previous to that date will have all their rights conserved. It is presumed that should the order of withdrawal be made permanent, scrip will be issued to the land claimants.

A Fish Question.

The California Fish Commission is carrying on an interesting experiment to ascertain the exact status of the steelhead trout, which is claimed by some scientists as nothing else than a small salmon or the rainbow trout of our mountain streams, changed by food and environments into the steelhead or salmon trout.

Drs. Jordan and Gilbert of Stanford University are of the latter opinion. To make a thorough test 10,000 fry about two inches in length, that were hatched by A. V. Lamette of Uklah from eggs taken from steelheads caught in Eel river, have been shipped to the hatchery and placed in ponds specially constructed for the purpose. These young fry will be carefully fed and their development watched until they reach maturity. It will then be ascertained whether under new conditions the fry will become steelheads or rainbow trout.

The Salve that Heals.

Without leaving a scar is DeWitt's. The name Witch Hazel Salve is applied to many salves, but DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the only Witch Hazel Salve made that contains the pure, unadulterated witch hazel. If any other Witch Hazel Salve is offered you it is a counterfeit. E. C. DeWitt invented Witch Hazel Salve and DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the best salve in the world for blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles. Sold by all druggists.

Wages and Cost of Living.

The old question whether wages have advanced proportionately with the added cost of living is being threshed out anew. The bureau of labor at Washington is about to publish a bulletin containing the results of its investigations into this matter. According to advance statements, it appears that this bulletin will show that wages and the advanced cost of living have fairly kept pace with each other, taking the country as a whole. The actual increase in the cost of living has advanced, not the 25 or 30 per cent. claimed; but only from 15 to 17 per cent.

The increase in wages has been substantially identical; and it must be remembered that not all of the wages are necessarily expended in meeting living expenses. If there be a margin above living expenses, that margin must be greater than under conditions which formerly existed. The general statement is made "that the condition of the laboring man is better today than ever before in the history of the country."

There is a great diversity of opinion on this point, however, many taking the opposite view.

Rescued from Suffering and Death by

PAINE'S Celery Compound

THE GREAT MEDICINE.

MR. ALFRED BROWN,
A Prominent and Popular Citizen, Says:
"After the Use of Paine's Celery Compound, I Am Now in the Best of Health."

The greatest of modern physicians, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., after years of long practice and close scientific study, gave to suffering and diseased men and women his marvelous, life giving prescription, with the conviction and positive knowledge that it had peculiar virtues and ample powers to cure.

Thousands of the strongest testimonials from the best known and most reliable men and women of our country fully sustain the claims made by Dr. Phelps regarding his incomparable Paine's Celery Compound.

One of the most convincing proofs furnished, comes recently from a gentleman widely known in the capital city of the Dominion of Canada. We refer to Mr. Alfred Brown, 91 O'Connor St., Ottawa, Ont. Mr. Brown's letter fully demonstrates the fact that the greatest sufferer may cast off his or her burden of disease and become well, strong, and happy. It proves, too, that the great medicine maintains more fully than ever before its unrivaled place in the estimation of people of wealth and social standing as well as with the masses. Mr. Brown says:—

"I acknowledge with thankfulness and pleasure the fact that I have been cured of a very painful illness of eight years' standing by use of Paine's Celery Compound. I had, during the years of my illness, tried almost all the advertised medicines without deriving any good results. I was also treated by several of the best doctors of this city, hoping to find that one of them, at least, would understand my case.

"I was getting worse, and was told I was incurable. I was indeed in a critical condition. I could not go from the house alone, as I was liable to sudden collapse. I tried hospital treatment, but no relief or good results came to me. I could not sleep; anything that I ate increased my agonies; I was extremely weak, restless, tired, and despondent; was obliged to walk about with my hands pressed firmly into my left side to ease my pains; my feet and hands were cold continually; had inclination to vomit, had profuse, cold sweats, quick breathing, and would be racked with pain for hours at a time.

"After the regular use of Paine's Celery Compound for a time, I am now in the best of health, have good appetite, and can use any kind of food. Thank God I am my old self once more, all through the use of Paine's Celery Compound."
