Alexander was warned several times, according to Mr. Gordon, and as he showed no inclination to comply the truck will be held until the license is applied for.

Dog is Real Sleuth—

There are many kinds of dogs in La Grande but the one that claims George Ricks for his master, held in jail pending examination as to his sanity, takes all honors as a sleuth. Ricks was arrested over the week-end because he thought he was a car inspector and his dog knew nothing of his jailing. Monday the dog was loosed from Ricks' room in a local rooming house and thereupon said dog, a large, intelligent appearing collie, started Sherlocking for his master. And Tuesday morning the dog was in jail with his master, due to his sole efforts. Dogs have been known to go to former homes in search of their masters, etc., but this is the first time in local history that a dog found his master, after a two-day trail was "cold," by going to the city jail. Since Tuesday the dog has been almost a constant companion of Ricks.

AMAZING TALE TOLD PROBERS

Investigation of Attorney General Daugherty Is Started With Astounding Disclosures.

WASHINGTON. (AP) — Miss Roxie Smith, divorced wife of Jesse W. Smith, told the Senate committee investigating Daugherty today that Smith told her he was a go between in negotiations between the attorney general and picture companies interested in the Carpentier-Dempsey fight films and that Daugherty and Smith were to receive 180,000 because Daugherty would prevent prosecution for transportation of the fight films.

Senators not only sought today to draw out the details of the story Miss Stinson told yesterday in which she included some astonishing insinuations about Smith and Daugherty, but also made an effort to establish new lines involving liquor cases and other matters pending in the justice department.

As the result of her testimony, Senator Wheeler, committee prosecutor, announced he would call Edward B. McLean, publisher, and Mal Daugherty, of Ohio, Daugherty's brother.

Among other things committeemen wanted to know was whether there was any attempt by Daugherty's friends as suggested in information reaching the committee, to avert Miss Stinson's appearance on the witness stand.

WASHINGTON (AP).—With an amazing tale, replete with insinuations, references and charges, the senate committee investigation of Attorney General Daugherty got under way Wednesday.

Roxie Stinson of Columbus, O., divorced wife of Jesse W. Smith of Washington Courthouse, confidant of the attorney general, who committeed suicide in the latter's apartments here a year ago, was the only witness.

From behind the crumpled folds of a tear soaked handkerchief, she told a sensational story that ranged from stock transactions to motion pictures of the Carpentier-Dempsey prize fight, all of which she insisted were connected with profits for her late husband and the attorney general.

Expected Big Profits

Specifically, Miss Stinson testified that Smith had given her 25 shares of White Motors stock which was a part of what "they" had obtained without any cost; that Smith told her "we" looked forward to profits approximating $150,000 if it could be arranged to exhibit the motion pictures of the Carpentier-Dempsey fight; that Smith had come into possession of an amount of the stock of the Pure Oil company of Ohio and that Smith, proprietor of a small town store in Ohio worth approximately $175,000 when he came to Washington in 1921, soon increased his fortune to approximately $250,000.

All this, Miss Stinson said, was done by "we" and "they" and she persisted that the second man of the combination always was Attorney General Daugherty because, she declared, that in all their confidences, Smith never meant anybody else and that furthermore when he did he mentioned the person specifically by name.

draw innocent bystanders into its coils as well as the big financiers and statesmen.

It is affected George Pratt, Centerville citizen, that he was under the impression he owned Teapot Dome, and he dashed up and down the street, with a teapot in his hands, informing all pedestrians that he met that he was about to "get the Sinclair company" and clear up the national scandal.

All went well with the self-appointed reformer until he decided that a neighbor's house harbored the headquarters of the Sinclair company. Police called to the scene searched Pratt's home, where, they said, a number of bottles were found, but the only trace of oil was of the variety known as fusel.

George rested in the local jail.

BONUS BILL IS NOW SETTLED

would limit debate, prevent amendments and permit a vote in one day.

The insurance policies, it was decided, would be 20-year endowment valued on length of service, with $1 allowed for each day of home service and $1.25 for each day of overseas service but with the first 60 days excluded. To this total would be added 25 per cent and the face value of the policy then would be determined by computing the total amount of adjusted service credit plus the 20 years of compounded 4 per cent interest.

In figuring the adjusted service credit maximum of $500 would be allowed for home service and $625 for overseas service. It was estimated then the maximum value of any certificate would be about $1400 for a veteran who served the full time at home of $1900 for one who served the full time overseas.

Under previous agreement all veterans up to the rank of captain in the army and marine corps and lieutenant senior grade in the navy would be eligible to the policies. It also was decided to include dependents of all veterans who have died since the close of the war. Cash payments would be made to all veterans not entitled to more than $50.

The policies would be made effective next January 1 and after two years loans could be asked at state and federal banks on 90 per cent of the cash value of the policy at the time.

The dependents of those who have died since the war, eligible to receive payments from the government would be fathers and mothers and children under 18 year of age. The amounts due them would be figured strictly on the basis of $1 a day for home service and $1.25 a day for overseas service of the deceased. This sum would be paid in 10 annual installments.

The total cost of the bill, it is estimated would be about $2,000,000,000 and not more than $90,000,000 would have to be expended in any one year. It was estimated that $16,000,000 would be expended immediately in payments to those not entitled to more than $50 and that cash payments to dependents of deceased veterans would amount to about $125,000,000. The insurance policies, it was said, would cost $1,321,000,000, spread over a period of 20 years.

PRIMARY WON BY UNDERWOOD

Alabama Vote Plurality Gives Him Democratic Delegation Choice; Al Smith Buttons Out.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Senator Oscar W. Underwood gained the Alabama delegation to the national Democratic convention in Tuesday's primary, according to incomplete returns, which gave him a plurality of approximately 20,000 votes over L. B. Musgrove, M. A. Dinsmore, who ran third, made the race as a backer of William G. McAdoo. However, Mr. McAdoo had announced he was not competing in Underwood's home state and was not represented by Dinsmore.

Musgrove refused to concede defeat and declared alleged frauds "would be exposed." He charged that in some counties votes "had been manipulated in the interest of my opponent."

William Jennings Bryan had spoken in support of Musgrove.

Returns from 59 of the 67 counties in the state gave Underwood 42,209, Musgrove 27,285, and Dinsmore 1361.

"SMITH FOR PRESIDENT" BUTTONS IN EVIDENCE

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — "Al Smith for president" buttons have made their appearance at the state capitol, but the governor himself isn't sure where they held the convention that nominated him.

When the capitol reporters strolled into Governor Smith's office last Tuesday for their daily conference one of them was wearing on the lapel of his coat such a button — a large affair, patriotically divided into red, white and blue thirds, one containing the pictures of "Governor Smith, New York," for president, and "Newton D. Baker, Ohio," for vice president.

The governor spotted the decoration at once.

"Huh, when did they hold the convention?" he asked, while he stepped up to get a close view of the button.

"Anything to say about it, governor?" some one asked.

"Sure, what does the 'N. Y.' mean—No Use?"

BANK ROBBER, MATE CAUGHT

THE DALLES (AP) — C. R. Williams, alleged Mosier bank robber, and Bert Taylor, larceny convict, who escaped from the Wasco county jail Sunday night after locking up the night jailor have been captured by a posse in Mack's canyon, one of the wildest spots along the Deschutes river.

The posse was led by Sheriff Levi Chrisman, of Wasco county, and his brother, Hugh Chrisman, Sherman county. They spied the fugitives yesterday as they were crossing the ranch. The pair surrendered after a dash for cover under fire.

26 MEMBERS OF SANTIAGO CREW BELIEVED LOST

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty-six members of the crew of the steamer Santiago which sank south of Cape Hatteras, are believed lost.

The Santiago, which left Cienfuegos, Cuba, for New York March 4 with a cargo of sugar, carried 35 men.

in the public's confidence in the recent disclosures.

Dissatisfaction and unrest are still acute in many section, particularly the agricultural states of the west and northwest.

The sentiment for a "change" is reflected, even here in Washington, perhaps even more strongly than in 1920. Yet it is a sentiment that would not be satisfied by a change to Democratic control any more than it was satisfied by a change to Republican control.

The demand is fore something different. A new line-up. A new deal.

Champions of La Follette as the man behind whom a new independent or third-party movement is likely to crystalize say the situation has developed rapidly in his favor in the past two months. Two factors have contributed largely to this.

FIRST: Henry Ford's definite endorsement of Coolidge for reelection removed him as a figure likely to run away with any third party organization that might be attempted.

SECOND: The set-back to the McAdoo candidacy, which in all probability will keep him off the Democratic ticket, will, in that event, throw to La Follette as an independent a large railroad labor vote that otherwise would have gone to McAdoo.

didate for the house of representatives for several terms, will likely run again provided the joint support of both parties is given, and it is whispered that he may become a candidate for speaker of the house at Salem when he is elected. Charles Hunter, from the Union-Wallowa county joint district, a republican, may also run again and it is probable that Bruce Dennis, present state senator from these two counties, may join with the representatives in completing the delegation unless there is some new alignment. Both parties in the two counties in years past have concluded that the better plan is to get men in the legislature on a basis justifying and insuring work in the session rather than forcing strenuous campaigns upon candidates for election.

City politics also are booming away. Three commissioners are to be elected this year and thus far no avowed candidates are in the field. There is, however, a lot of muffled talk about candidates announcing within a few days.

MANY AUTO MEN TO SHOW MODELS

hibit a line of Henry Ford's products, Fords and Lincolns.

"Charlie" McCrary will be present with his perpetual smile and a new shipment of Velies.

The Blue Mountain Garage will exhibit three models, a standard Chevrolet touring, a sedan and a coupe.

A display of Studebaker cars will be on the floor with M. J. Goss, local dealer, to tell about their fine points.

Gettings and Hanks will sponsor the new Overland models and will also have a sleeve valve Willys-Knight or two on hand.

Smith and Preece will have some new Hupmobiles for the occasion and a Cleveland which they also handle.

The Paige and Jewett lines which have recently been taken over by Tracy Hollister will be represented by several closed and open models.

Mr. Hutchison, local Rickenbacker agent, has promised to have several of Captain Eddie's creations on hand.

Leighton's Garage will put on an up-to-date exhibition of tires and accessories.

Southard and Shinn will be among those present with a line of new Buick models.

The C. T. C. Tire company, whose tires are manufactured in a new modern factory at Portland, will have an exhibition of tires and tubes.

Standard Oil, Grande Ronde Oil Company, Texas Oil Company and the Highway Filling Station will also have displays.

Arrangements and plans for the band concert, the style show, and the vaudeville show are being completed and details will be announced later according to L. J. Busey, head of the committee in charge.
