COFFEE DRINKING IS MORE POPULAR IN AMERICA NOW

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NSF)—The coffee consumption in America is now approaching the record set in 1912, when it reached 13 pounds. The previous highest per capita consumption is reported by the statistical abstract as 12.53 pounds in 1920.

Along with this increased consumption there has been a steady decrease in the import price of green coffee. Up to the present time it has been practically absorbed by the roasters. The price of green coffee in the past six months has risen from 50 to 85 per cent, but the roasted price has averaged an increase of only about 16 per cent.

Reports from Brazil, from which comes 70 per cent of the coffee consumed in America, indicate that the best of the latest Brazilian crop has already been exported and that high-grade coffee will continue to bring high premiums. This last Brazilian crop suffered from torrential rains which washed away stocks in the process of drying and caused serious damage to the stocks in storage. At the same time the new crop prospect has been damaged to such a degree that the yield is not expected to be more than two-thirds of a normal annual production. With no relief in sight, predictions are freely made that the roasters cannot long continue to absorb any part of the increased price and that the consuming public may shortly expect to pay a higher price for its coffee.

DOGS' TUG OF WAR NOT HINDERED BY TRAFFIC

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (NSF)—Two toy dogs, holding a tug of war over a piece of meat, held up traffic on the busy Hartford road here, despite efforts of police to get them out of the way and simply didn't hear the din of scores of horns. Two motorists picked the animals up and placed them on the sidewalk, where they were still tugging when the last blockade of traffic went by.

HUPP DISPLAY A SPECIAL ONE

In order that local people might view the latest models in the new Hupmobile, Smith & Frees, distributors for Union, Wallowa and Baker counties, arranged for a direct factory shipment to reach here in time for the Auto Show. This carload of Hupps was unloaded last week and the beauty in lines, sturdiness in construction, and ease in operation even far surpassed the expectations of the dealers. So well have these cars taken with those who have seen them, Smith & Frees are reporting the sale of a two-passenger coupe, equipped with Hewitt balloon tires, to T. W. Tucker, vice president and district sales manager for Notts Atwater Co., Spokane, Washington; a sport touring car to L. K. Sitton, manager Skaggs's store, Enterprise, Oregon; and a sport touring to Lee Warnick, sheriff Union county.

Another carload of the new Hupmobiles has been ordered and Smith & Frees are looking forward to a considerable demand for their car this season.

After the Auto Show Smith & Frees will have the Hupp on display in the new show room being fitted up in their warehouse on Jefferson avenue near Fir, which was formerly the Oregon Grocery building.

Boxer Hikes 110 Miles.

BEND, Ore.—Hiking 110 miles in three days, spending two chilly March nights without blankets, his rations limited to one can of sardines — that was the experience which Fred Gilbert, welterweight boxer, had to relate to his friends here following his return to Bend.

Early Sunday, Gilbert's automobile broke down 110 miles east of Bend on the Central Oregon highway. Gilbert started to walk toward Bend expecting that he would be overtaken by an automobile coming this way; but the only machine he saw on the entire trip was one headed toward Burns.
