FEWER MEN TEACHERS.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Teaching as a profession for men in California is on the wane, judging from the enrollment at the state teachers' college here. The college has 824 women and 150 men. Members of the faculty attribute the dearth of male teachers to the increasing opportunities for profitable work that carry more guidons.

LONDON SAFE FROM ATTACK

Highly Complicated System to Warn Of Attacking Enemy Air Squadrons.

LONDON (UP) — Marvelously complicated plans have been prepared by the British Air Ministry for the defense of London against attack from the air.

Guns, searchlights, aerial obstructions, airplanes will all cooperate against the attacker. But the actual "control," the brain of the defense, will reside in one tiny room just outside London. Here will come warning of the approach of the invader, electrically linked maps will show the exact whereabouts and road they will follow and the word for the massed attack will be sent.

It is now a settled policy of the British air ministry that attacks upon London by enemies can best be made by the attacking airplane or airship. But it is still held that the defenses which potentially operated against the element novel to the aeroplanes which are attacking by the method of attacking first.

Consequently London's plan of defense is divided into two separate, different in kind, but functioning as a unit. The basis upon which the ground forces take position is of the air from around a circle, up to a height of about 15 miles, the airplanes take charge.

Range Increased

The lower level will be under the control of the ground force, commanded by General Ashmore. This lower space will be so barrage, netted, "mined" and also crisscrossed by secret devices that it will be a practical impossibility for an enemy airplane to break through. And these obstructions will be placed at a height regarded a physically impossible during the pre-war.

As regards the ground batteries they will throw shells not only far higher than was hitherto deemed possible, but also missiles of far greater weight. Their rate of discharge, and the facility with which the gunners can handle and range them, will also give them an advantage superiority over those used against the German invaders.

One new anti-aircraft gun presented by the British will fire a high-explosive shell of more than fifty pounds to a height of just over 20,000 feet. Another gun will maintain a barrage up to a height of three miles above the city at the rate of 100 shells a minute.

But the broad feature of London's defense will take the form of sound-detecting instruments for locating invaders at great distances. These machines will print automatically, on a recording strip, a visible warning of the sound waves emitted by an enemy machine miles away. The centralization of these instruments is one of the most jealously guarded secrets of the British government.

Electrical Map

Connected electrically with the strip will be a huge specially designed "map" of the London district, covered by numerous tiny electric bulbs. When the sound-detecting machine locates enemy aiders the electric bulbs will immediately show the particular area through which the attackers are proceeding. Thus the enemy will himself give the clue to his whereabouts.

As to the upper air, a great "belt" of the most modern and perfectly equipped aerodromes will encircle London. To each of these will be attached squadrons of the latest type of stormproof, fighting aeroplanes, all heavily armed, some of them can soar and 30,000 feet within 5 minutes of leaving the ground.

Practice battle under war conditions take place frequently. The squadrons attack against the defense of the latest battle plane barrage machines. Anti-aircraft guns and searchlights will operate as they would in actual war. And the airmen have believed that London is now the most scientifically defended, in fact the safest, city in the world.

Another La Grande Case

Time-tested by a La Grande Resident.

Has another report of sickness and suffering relieved by Doan's Pills. Another La Grande resident tells of lasting benefit. What can be more convincing? Those who recommend Doan's for backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary disorders. Doan's are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. They benefited thousands and should help you. A La Grande case.

Mrs. M. P. Noble, 2106 Third St., says: "I was really well crippled up with the pains in my back and right side and it was difficult for me to do my housework. Doan's Pills were advised and I believe cured the aches and pains so I haven't had any recurrence of the trouble."

SEVERAL YEARS LATER Mrs. Noble said: "There is nothing better for kidney complaint than Doan's Pills. They cured me."

Profits in Whaling Revive Long Neglected Industry

MADRID (AP) — Whaling as an industry has been so profitable in Spain that several new companies are being formed to carry on whaling expeditions. The first station at Algeciras, established and managed by British capital, has been such a success in the past year that the same operators will establish another base in the north of Spain. Other companies under Spanish control have already selected operating bases and are purchasing equipment.

Meanwhile the sardine fishery industry is in a precarious condition owing to the disease that the shore at which the fish are caught, and the Galician fishermen who have hitherto been engaged in it are turning their attention to cod. A Spanish commission has been sent to Newfoundland to study the method of cod-fishing in use in those waters.

Spruce Log Raft Arrives.

ASTORIA, Ore. — A raft containing about forty-six feet of high-grade spruce logs arrived here today from the Sitka river in Alaska for the Ian Daniels and was towed to the Astoria Box company. This company uses a very scarcity of spruce logs and it has arranged for four of these rafts to be brought from the Sitka coast during the summer and fall.

DEMAND SHOWS STEADY GAIN

Demand for leather continues to show a slow but steady gain, says the American Leather Producer, this month. Business conditions in the north, which heretofore have seemed to show a slowing down in the tanning industry, are now showing improvement. Demand for the pre-Easter leathers was heavy, but not as extensive as usual. Wholesale shoe manufacturers are now working on fall lines and are receiving delivery on comparatively large orders. Indications are that the result in that wholesale trade in this important section, remains unchanged. Southern business is fair to good and steadily increasing, demand from other territories, and the market for that wood is well maintained. Some of the smaller mills, being affected by the quietness of the north and being in urgent need of funds, are selling at the best prices obtainable, but the market has not generally approached but few of the larger mills have shown any eagerness for business and, as a rule will grant the concessions asked upon a new items that happens to be long on. It is noted that as northern production comes on more fully, the necessity for small mill operations will disappear, with the result that the market will quickly develop a stronger tone and probably an upward tendency.

The Douglas fir market has shown little change. While mill demand has increased somewhat and business with the Atlantic seaboard is as brisk as the restricted supply of vessels will permit, there has been no betterment in export trade and California is practically quiet, due largely to the effects of the heavy and snarly discussions prevalent there. Production on the west coast is reasonable in volume and is carried on a fairly level rate, orders still comparatively below output, prices are weak.

The domestic demand for hardwoods remains good, with cottonwood lumber in demand, and the market is featured by a brisk Gordian demand, which has sprung up within the last month. Prices are unchanged, but are much stronger in southern producing territories than in the northern, on account of the more acute scarcity of dry stocks in the former.

Who Owns Wall Street?

A few rich men? No. The many millions of people whose bank deposits and investments are the credit basis upon which American business and agriculture builds. You are one of the owners of Wall Street!

Wall Street today means American finance. On "Main Street," wherever there is business and banking—there is Wall Street.

The great service of Wall Street is to gather and distribute money for use in productive industry and agriculture—for the good of the many as well as the few.

This bank is glad to be a financial friend to those owners of Wall Street who want to get the most benefit from their ownership.
