PORTLAND, Jan. 7.—Trade on Front street had the customary Monday dullness. Receipts from the North were fair, though a car of celery and shipments of sweet potatoes are due. The regular car of celery from Los Angeles is four days overdue without explanation other than the shipment had to be transferred to another car en route, owing to a breakdown of the initial car.

Going to Luncheon.

How a man goes: Glances at the clock, drops his pen, jumps from his chair, grabs his hat, bolts for the door, says briefly, "Going to lunch," and is gone. Time, one-half minute.

How a woman goes: Glances at the clock. Wipes her pen carefully and places it in the pen tray. Arranges papers neatly on her desk. Goes to the mirror. Removes four or five combs, as many pins and possibly unties a bow from her hair. Combs up her pompadour, puffs out the sides, combs up the wandering locks, replaces bow, pins and combs, then surveys result with hand-mirror. Washes her hands and cleans her nails. Dabs the powder rag over her face to remove "that shiny look." Applies whisk broom to dress. Puts on hat and thrusts into it five long hatpins. Consults hand mirror again. Puts on veil. Uses hand mirror once more. Investigates sundry fancy pins at back of neck and belt. Pulls on gloves. Gets her parasol. Gives one more look in the mirror and goes. Time—depends on the woman and the length of her gloves, but anywhere from twenty minutes to half an hour.—New York Press.

Old English Coal Records.

There is a record, dated 852, of the receipt of twelve cartloads of fossil coal at the abbey of Peterborough, and this was assuredly not the first case of production and delivery.

The deeds of the bishoprk of Durham contain records of grants of land to colliers as far back as 1180 in various parts of the county. In the year 1239 a charter was granted by Henry III. to the freemen of Newcastle-on-Tyne to dig coal in the fields belonging to the castle, and it was in or about this year that coal was first sent to London. Very early in the fourteenth century evidence abounds of a large consumption of coal by smiths, brewers and others. Already the smoke nuisance appears, and a commission of Edward I. levied fines to prevent it.

CURED OF LUNG TROUBLE.

It is now eleven years since I had "a narrow escape from consumption," writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Kershaw, S. C. "I had run down in weight to 135 pounds and coughing was constant both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone, and I was restored to my normal weight, 175 pounds." Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at Chas. Rogers' drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

SUNDAY TRAVEL TO PORTLAND

Travel from this city to Portland on Sunday at the low round trip rate of $2.50 is on the increase and many enjoy that day in the metropolis each week. AN INSIDIOUS DANGER.

One of the worst features of kidney trouble is that it is an insidious disease and before the victim realizes his danger he may have a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first sign of trouble, as it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes.

T. F. Laurin, Owl Drug Store.

Now a new author, a woman, attempts a defense of Rousseau's memory, claiming that rivals of his day blackened his character. She is respectably referred to his own "Memoirs."

Pessimism.

[Rondeau redouble.]

It's pretty hard to get along today;
The world is getting rotten, don't you think?
I've heard a lot of people lately say
That everything is going on the blink.

And so it's up to me to spill some ink
On pessimism. That's the proper lay.
For themes are scarce. I say it with a wink—
It's pretty hard to get along today.

"It didn't always seem to be that way.
Life used to be a radiant, rosy pink.
And now it looks to me like dappled gray.
The world is getting rotten, don't you think?

"Dame Fortune's given me the rinky dink.
It's twenty-three for mine; me to the hay.
Now, honest, wouldn't that drive you to drink?
I've heard a lot of people lately say.

They've said it, yes. But is it true? Nay, nay!
To Fortune! Come and let your glasses clink!
Why, what a fine idea to convey—
That everything is going on the blink!

This is the last time that I'll ever tinker
With a rhyme like this. Hooray! Hooray!
It's done—except that last—this missing link—
Hast ever done a rondeau redouble?
It's pretty hard!
