Line of Boats Between Kansas City and St. Louis.

REVIVAL OF RIVER TRAFFIC

Company Organized To Build and Operate Line of Freight Carrying Steamers —Inequality of Railroad Rates Responsible.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Word has been received here that articles of incorporation will be filed this week with the Secretary of State of Missouri, for the Kansas City Transportation and Steamship Co. This transportation company is to build and operate steamboats for the carrying of freight between Kansas City and St. Louis, and the service will be in operation, it is said, within ninety days. While the boats are being built it is understood that arrangements will be made with a Capt. T. P. Sims, of St. Louis, to put on a line of freight boats.

This is the first organization of boats into a regular line in the present revival of river traffic. The experiment is being watched with much interest, for it is really a co-operative plan. Twenty-eight shippers of Kansas City have taken $100,000 in common stock in the enterprise and another $100,000 in preferred stock will be issued and sold as a secured investment. The Kansas City Chamber of Commerce through subscriptions has raised $140,000 toward the establishment of a boat line, and thus the project is placed on a firm financial basis.

The line is the direct outcome of the inequality of freight rates by which Kansas City has suffered. The railroads take the Mississippi River as a basing point for rates on freight westbound, with the result that in many cases freight charges across the State of Missouri, from St. Louis to Kansas City, oftentimes are half as great as the through charge from the Atlantic coast to the river.

This inequality has long been a source of complaint to the merchants of Kansas City, and has done more than any other one thing to retard the growth of that town. It has placed the Kansas City merchants at the mercy of their competitors in the Missouri metropolis and in other ways has worked to the town's disadvantage. It is intended to overcome this discrimination by the introduction of water transportation, and it is safe to predict that railroad rates across Missouri, once the line is in operation, will take a sudden and swift drop.

Ever since the National Rivers and Harbors Congress has brought to the attention of the country the necessity of making navigable the rivers and harbors, the activity in boat building and shipping circles has steadily increased. This is to be seen in the report issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor of the number of new vessels of the United States registered between April 1st and 15th.

There were twenty-seven vessels in all and eight of these, or almost one-third of the entire number, will ply the waters of either the Great Lakes or the inland rivers. The majority of these boats will be used in the transportation of freight, very few of them being built either for pleasure or for passengers.

Five of these new ships will go into service on the Lakes, joining the great fleet on those fresh water seas that is carrying such a vast amount of commerce. The home ports of these five vessels are respectively: Cleveland, Detroit, Duluth, and Erie, Pa., two of the vessels are accredited to Cleveland. The remaining three boats are to go into commission on the streams, their home ports being Galena, Ill., Wheeling, W. Va., and St. Louis.

There are indications that with the beginning of work by the government on the rivers and harbors, there will be a decided increase in the number of keels laid for new vessels for the inland trade. The passage of the big appropriation bill at the last session will stimulate ship-building, for it is reasonably certain now that the government will continue to spend ever increasing sums on this important work of internal improvement.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at Charles Rodgers, druggist.

CONEY ISLAND WRECK.

Three People Possibly Fatally Hurt In Streetcar Smashup.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Of the 50 persons injured in the traction smashup near Coney Island last night, three are possibly fatally hurt. They are Harry Donne, G. W. McFadden and Frank Putrieno.

The accident occurred at 10 o'clock last night. An "L" train bound for New York, struck a trolley car forcing it against a steel post on which trolley wires are suspended, and the post cut through the car like a knife through paper.

The passengers were overwhelmed in the wreckage and firemen who were called had to use axes in cutting away the shattered woodwork to release the injured.

A flagman is blamed for the collision, both motormen claiming that he had signaled to them the right of way. Six months ago a similar accident happened to the same crossing and at that time ten persons were seriously hurt.

CHICAGO POLICE INSTRUCTED.

Chief of Police Shippy Instructs Men In Police Work.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Chief of Police George M. Shippy stood up before the 100 men transferred last night to the Twenty-second street station and laid down the law to them respecting police work and graft. The latter is said to have been much cultivated in that district in the past and the former much neglected.

"I wish to tell you direct from the Mayor," said the chief, "that we have no enemies in the department to punish and no friends to reward. All we do want is that you do real, efficient police work and you will get along well with the present administration.

"The time is past when the policeman is the master. He is the servant of the public, and the sooner he realizes it, the better."

This and more in the same line and a clear warning against accepting graft and favors constituted the subject matter of the speech which set forth the police policy of the administration and the methods to be employed in meeting the vice conditions in the south side, a subject that has engaged the atention of reformers.

Before he delivered his talk, Chief Shippy placed a father of nine children, in the person of Captain Edward McCann, in command of 100 other policemen, fathers, at the station.

Pirating Foley's Honey and Tar.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. T. F. Laurin, Owl Drug Store.

MILWAUKEE EXTENSION.

President Earling, when asked whether the report that the road intended to abandon its extension plans for the present, replied that by January 1 next trains will be running on the new extension between Aberdeen and Butte. The party intends to inspect every mile of the route and prepare the way for the construction to be pushed more rapidly from both ends.
