Overhead Crossing Is Granted by Commission

SALEM, Ore., Apr. 24. (AP)—The public service commission has issued an order granting an application of the state highway commission for an overhead crossing over the Southern Pacific tracks at Wren near Corvallis, on the Corvallis-Newport highway. The cost is estimated at $29,000, the cost to be apportioned among the highway commission, the state and Benton county.

As a protection to traffic at the grade crossing or river road over the Portland Electric Power company's track near Island Station, south of Milwaukie, the service commission ordered that the power company install electric warning signals on each side of the crossing, check the speed of trains to 10 miles an hour and that Clackamas county replace the black top pavement at that place with cement pavement that will not be slippery when wet.

Salem Printer Dies Of Blood Poisoning

SALEM, Apr. 24. (AP)—Harry Hall, well known Salem printer and an employe of the state printing department, died last night from blood poison. He was 52 years old. For nearly 20 years he was in the employ of the Salem Statesman. While working with his linotype machine at the state printing office two weeks ago Hill received an injury to his nose, which developed into blood poison.

STATUE ATTACKED

CONSTANTINOPLE— A statue of Mustapha Kemal shows him in a dinner coat with arms akimbo and head bare. There are many protests that it is undignified. It is not to be put in place until he approves.

Acute Cases Often Become Chronic

How often you hear someone say: "Oh, this is just another acute attack of neuralgia, headaches, stomach disturbance or rheumatism." If it is "another" attack of a dis-ease you have experienced before, you may call it "acute" but it would seem to be "chronic."

These attacks are nature's warning. Do not ignore them. Do not tell yourself that some "family remedy" is going to "fix you up." It may stop the trouble for the time being but you should want to be FREE FROM THESE ATTACKS.

First Church of New Town Is 40 Sunday

Presbyterians Will Honor Fortieth Anniversary of Their Founding.

Just 40 years ago tomorrow, the Presbyterian church was founded in La Grande—the first denomination to establish itself in the new town growing up beside the railroad tracks. All services Sunday will do the occasion honor. In the morning, the Rev. William Crosby Ross, pastor, will preach an anniversary sermon. In the evening, directed by Mrs. A. L. Richardson, the quartet will sing Cadman's song cycle, "The Morning of the Year."

Singing with Mrs. Richardson, director-soprano, in the quartet, will be Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp Jr., contralto; R. J. Dykhuis, tenor; and Ray Williams, baritone. Mrs. J. A. Tedford will play the piano accompaniment and solos.

Follows the two-part program:

March and April

Prelude—(Piano)
Quartet—"Spirit of Spring"
Recitative (baritone)—"With Rushing Winds"
Solo (baritone)—"I Martius Am"
Invocation (soprano) — "Spirit Arise"
Solo (contralto)—"My Tears Are Falling"
Recitative (tenor) — "Sweet Laggard, Come"
Solo (tenor) — 'All the World Is Spring Today"
Quartet—"I Hear the Whispering Voice of Spring"
Recitative (contralto)—"April Is Here"
Aria (soprano)—"Welcome! Sweet Wind"
Intermezzo—(Piano)

May

Recitative (tenor)—"Again the Sun Is Over All"
Solo and duet (soprano and tenor) —"Alas That My Heart Is a Lute"
Recitative (contralto)—"The Softly-Warbled Song"
Solo (baritone) — "The Brooklet Came from the Mountain"
Quartet—"I Saw the Bud-Covered Spring Go Forth"
Solo (alto) — "The Moon Behind the Cottonwood"
Recitative (tenor)—"Look Forth, Beloved"
Serenade (tenor)—"I Cannot Sing to Thee as I Would Sing"
Quartet—"O Spirit of the Spring, Delay"

In their fine modern building, dedicated, debt-free, May 4, 1924, the parishioners tomorrow will wander back—the older ones in memory, the younger, in imagination—to the days of their church's beginnings.

There were just six members when the Rev. J. C. Willett, of Summerville, assisted by the Rev. C. R. Shields, of Joseph, organized the Presbyterians here April 25, 1886. But they had dedicated a neat little chapel, free of debt, on the same ground where the new church stands, before eight months had passed. The Rev. Robert Ennis, of Pendleton, and the founding ministers officiated at the dedication Dec. 19. The building was 30 by 50 feet with a vestry 14 by 18, and cost $2123. The pulpit was a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Eakin, of Union.

The six charter members were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Byran, Mr. and Mrs. Krank Brookler, Mrs. Carrie E. Wellman and Mrs. Mary A. Wallace. Mr. Bryan and Mr. Brookler were ordained elders.

Mr. Willett acted as pastor for several months, dividing his time between La Grande and Summerville, where he was regularly installed.

The first pastor came May 1, 1887. There were five ministers for the seven years that followed: A. J. Chaney, Thomas McQuire, A. M. Reynolds, Y. C. Armstrong and W. J. Hughes. During those unsettled times, the Ladies' Aid society succeeded in building a manse.

With the coming of the Rev. R. M. Hayes, a budget plan was launched and systematic giving insisted upon for all the members of the congregation. The Missionary society was organized September, 1894. Pews, an organ and pulpit chairs were purchased.

In 1900, the Rev. W. L. Van Nuys was called to the pulpit. He began a progressive program, and soon the auditorium had to be enlarged to accommodate the growing congregations.

He was followed in 1904 by the Rev. E. B. Hayes. In 1907, the pastorate was assumed by Dr. S. W. Seeman, wo remained for five years.

During the pastorate of Dr. A. G. Lane, from 1912 to 1914, the vestry was enlarged to make quarters for the expanding Sunday school. North of the tracks, a mission chapel was built to house the Sunday school organized by W. B. Pickens. Later it was turned over to the neighborhood to conduct its religious life under local leadership.

On Palm Sunday, when the congregation gathered for worship, the members found that their pastor had been called to his Master. In the new church is a window dedicated to the memory of his work among them.

The Rev. G. L. Clark, who as a former co-worker of Dr. Lane, accepted a call here in 1914, asked a leave of absence to go as a Y. M. C. A. secretary with the expeditionary forces. In recognition of his leadership, he was made religious director for the southern half of France under Y. M. C. A. auspices. On his return, he resigned in order that he might accept a call to the student pastorship of the Presbyterian church at O. A. C.

The Rev. James Alkin Smith was with the flock here for a year beginning in 1919.

Six months after his departure, the Rev. William Crosby Ross, the present pastor, assumed the duties of minister. Under his guidance, the congregation built and paid for the new church, which, including the installation of a splendid pipe organ, and furnishings appropriate for the building, represented a cost of $38,000. Dedication was solemnized May 4, 1924.

In the church's report to the Presbytery for the year ending March 31, it was shown that 287 communicants are enrolled. Three hundred children and adults are members of the Sunday school.

The Presbyterians were really the pioneers in the new town that grew up parallel to the railroad tracks. Theirs was the first, and for many years the only church in the downtown district. Their congregations drew upon the interests of many who might not have been touched by churches farther out in the residence sections. By the same token, they have developed and increased their own civic consciousness, and have earned a place to be proud of in the busy life of the town.

CHURCH BUILT BY QUAKERS IN 1886 IS GRANGE HALL

ENTERPRISE—The little Quaker meeting house on Alder slope, near Enterprise, thought to be the first house of worship erected in Wallowa county, has lately been purchased by Alder grange, and will soon be available as a community hall.

Alder church was built in 1886 under the leadership of W. F. Samms, an active member of the Friends' church, and later ordained a minister of that denomination. Members of all faiths contributed to the building fund, it is said. From the beginning, it was considered a neighborhood church. Four sects used it for their services, and Sunday school was conducted there for 21 years continuously.

When a town grew up at Enterprise, Alder dwindled to a country settlement, without even so much as a store or a postoffice. But the church was still used occasionally and always retained its semi-public character. While it is owned by Mrs. W. W. White, daughter of Mr. Samms, she has always considered hat she held it in trust for the Friends. Mrs. White, her sister, Mrs. E. W. Steel, and Mrs. Maggie Bloom are the only remaining members of the local organization. Money from the sale, Mrs. White says, will be sent to the mother Friends church to be used for educational work.

Pastors Use Series Plan for Sermons

Succession of Discourses Solves Problem When Theme Is Too Broad for One Message.

When a preacher finds his subject too broad for treatment in a single sermon, he often breaks it into parts, or approaches it from a succession of angles, covering each phase in a separate discourse. Whether by chance or by design, the pastors of La Grande churches, almost without exception, are announcing sermons from series to be delivered to their congregations tomorrow. Church doctrines, the holy lands, the worthwhile life, the glory of the church and "Things to Come" are some of the themes that promise fruitful hours for the churchgoers.

First Methodist.

"The acid test of our devotion may be interpreted in the light of the scripture saying, 'Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also'," declares Dr. Henry W. Parker. "As Methodists, we are considering seriously the measure of our devotion for the next few weeks. The annual world service roll call is now on."

The Methodist Bible school begins at 9:45 a. m. Morning worship is at 11 o'clock, with Mrs. A. E. Kinman at the organ. The choir will offer special music.

At the 8 o'clock evening service, Dr. Parker will deliver his second lecture in the series on "The Worthwhile Life." Mrs. Claude Cooper will be in charge of the music, Miss Cleta McKennon singing a solo. The Epworth League, meeting in the Sunday school room at 7 p. m., will discuss the theme, "Christ in the World Drama."

Central Church of Christ.

The second in a series of three sermons on "The Glory of the Church, or Is the Church Worth While?" is announced by the Rev. C. V. Dunn, pastor of the Christian church, for the 11 a. m., service. Bible school at 9:45 o'clock will precede it.

Organization of the juniors and intermediates of the Bible school will take place at the meeting of the Endeavor society at 7 p. m. Mrs. J. F. Vaught will be organizer for the juniors; Mrs. Ernest Landry and Miss Gertrude Wagoner will have charge of the intermediate's organization.

"The Two Resurrections," second in the series of "Things to Come" will be the sermon subject at the 8 o'clock service. As a new feature, the pastor plans to introduce sermonettes and Bible drills for the boys and girls. These will occupy about five minutes of each Sunday evening service.

Methodist Church South

With "Cardinal Doctrines of the Church" as his series theme, the Rev. J. A. Hall will preach at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning on the subject, "The Fatherhood of God." For the following Sunday morning, he announces the topic, "What Is Man?"; for May 9, "Mother's Day"; for May 16, "Probation"; for May 23, "Sin." Other doctrinal subjects will follow.

Sunday school will be at 9:45 a. m.

At 7 p. m., Epworth league will meet. And at 8 o'clock, an evangelistic preaching service will be held. Special music is prepared for all worship periods.

St. Peter's Episcopal

Beginning with holy eucharist at 8 a. m., St. Peter's congregation will attend five services tomorrow. Church school will be at 9:45 a. m. At 11 o'clock, the Rev. Oliver Riley, rector, will deliver a service on the theme, "Honor Due Humanity."

Wayfarers' guild meets at Honan hall at 6 p. m. At 8 o'clock, a mission service will be held. The rector will answer questions, and will deliver a sermon on the theme, "Why Does God Not Stop Sin?"

First Baptist.

Morning worship will be at 11 o'clock, following Sunday school at 9:45. The Rev. George Albert Pollard, pastor, will preach on the subject, "Slaves." To the little folk, his sermon will be on "The Re-lifter."

The Men's Bible class will meet at 7 p. m.

An illustrated sermon on "The City of Jericho" will feature the evening service at 8 o'clock.

Church of the Nazarene

The Rev. L. D. Meggers announces an inspirational message for the morning hour of worship.

At 6:30 p. m., the N. Y. P. S. meeting will be held, the pastor addresses the young people on the subject, "Home Missions." An offering will be taken for the support of the Rev. and Mrs. Purington, at Ogden, Utah.

Evangelistic services will be at 7:30 p. m.

There are now 104 enrolled in the Sunday school, which is showing a steady growth.

Church of God

The Sunday school at the Church of God now has a membership of 100, the pastor, Claude C. Pratt, reports. The hour is 10 a. m.

Preaching services will be at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. tomorrow, with the young people's meeting at 6:30 p. m.

The local parish is interested and participating in the evangelistic campaign being conducted by the denomination at Hilgard. Four converts have been made.

Word has come from the Rev. Nelson Knight that he will not be able to accept a call here this year, since his parish at Elma, Wash., requires his services. His soul is in the Grande Ronde valley, however, he said, and he hopes to be able to take charge of the work here within a year.

Church of Christ, Scientist

The subject for the service at 11 a. m., Sunday at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, will be "Mortals and Immortals." The church has a reading room in the West-Jacobson building, open daily except holidays and Sundays.

Seventh Day Adventist

Sabbath school this morning at the Seventh Day Adventist church was at 9:45 a. m. The Bible study service was on the subject, "Heaven's Valuation of a Soul." Several short talks were given showing the progress made by the gospel in foreign fields. A quartet sang "The Missionary's Farewell."

MIDWEEK CHURCH MEETINGS

Members of the Central Church of Christ will meet at the church Thursday evening of next week at eight o'clock for their regular midweek prayer meeting. On Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock the choir will practice at the church.

Midweek prayer services of the Church of the Nazarene will be held at Lane Chapel Wednesday evening of next week, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

There will be a testimonal meeting at the Church of Christ Scientist Wednesday evening.

On Wednesday evening at eight o'clock members of the South Methodist Episcopal church will meet at the church for prayer meeting and Bible study.

Our Quality Is a Revelation To Those Unacquainted

For many years past J. C. Penney Company goods have been accepted by hundreds of thousands of people throughout the United States as the standard for comparison.

Our quality has been a revelation to some people who have been told or who have imagined that because our prices were low the grade of our goods was correspondingly low.

A single visit to our Store—wherever it may be located; in any of the 44 States in which we operate—will quickly dispel such thoughts and claims. It will establish in your mind beyond a shadow of doubt, that article for article and dollar for dollar more in genuinely reliable and standard quality can be had than is ordinarily obtainable.

Bear in mind that with the tremendous buying power for our hundreds of Stores goes a selective power that assures us the better grades of goods.
