CATHOLICS TO MEET IN JUNE

CHICAGO, May 17. (AP)—For five days next month Chicago will be second only to Rome as the center of the Roman Catholic world when it provides the setting for the pomp and ceremony of the 28th International Eucharistic congress June 20-24.

This period of religious pageantry and ritual the like of which members of the church have never before seen, will be devoted to an outward manifestation of the Catholic's faith in the actual presence of Jesus Christ in the world today.

The event is expected to attract a million pilgrims from all parts of the world. From the office of His Eminence George Cardinal Mundelein, it was announced today that at least fifteen cardinals and five hundred archbishops and bishops will be present.

Union Freshmen Hurt When Wheel Comes Off

UNION, Ore. May 17. (Special)—While returning from a school picnic along the banks of Catherine Creek with a car load of freshies from the Union high school Thursday afternoon, George R. Lindsay met with a car accident that might have ended very seriously for some of the young folks who were in or on the machine. Just above the fish hatchery one of the front wheels came off and before the car could be stopped two boys who were riding on the running boards had been thrown into the road in front of the machine and were rolled over by the front wheels. Fortunately they escaped being run over and came out of the accident with only a few minor scratches. That the accident ended so fortunately is due to the fact that Mr. Lindsay was driving slowly when it occurred.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hegboer, of Detroit, Mich., motored to Union Saturday and are guests at the home of Mrs E. A. Sieber. They came by way of Los Angeles.

STRAWBERRY PRICES LOWER

PORTLAND, May 17. (AP)—Strawberry prices are again working lower after a temporary shortage the last few days. Receipts Monday on the early market were fair although picking yesterday was hampered by continued showers.

Supplies, however, apparently had little effect on values in the early market and there was a wide difference between growers and buyers right in the street. Holders were asking $2.50 a crate but bids were not over $2. The trade apparently believes that it is time for berry prices to get down and they are not over anxious to load up on high priced stock.

Sales were finally made at $2 to $2.25 on Gold Dollars and $2.25 to $2.40 for fancy Improved Oregons. Marshalls and Magoons are coming in more plentiful now. Some sections are hoping for a few warm days to bring out the full yield.

Wheat Averages Lower Despite Crop Reports

CHICAGO, May 17. (AP)—Notwithstanding a renewal of dry weather reports from the northwest and despite nearly 5,000,000 bushels decrease in the United States visible supply total, wheat today averaged lower in price, especially near the end of the board of trade sessions.

Excellent crop advices from the southwest were at hand, wheat being reported as heading in Oklahoma and Southern Kansas and as likely to be ready for harvest in southern Texas within about a week. Houses with eastern connections were conspicuous on the selling side.

Wheat closed weak ⅜@2c lower; corn ⅝ to 1⅝c down and oats at ½ to 1⅝c decline.

BRINGS LINER SAFELY HOME

MIAMI, Fla. May 17. (AP)—Having a passenger cargo of 280 persons safely ashore the Clyde line steamer Seneca today was riding easily at anchor a mile off Miami bar, listing slightly to starboard, following springing of a leak Saturday night en route to New York from here. The origin of the leak is clouded in mystery, but the Seneca's crew believes she scraped a propellor blade imbedded in the harbor as she passed out Saturday. The leak was not discovered until she was 17 miles north of Miami bar when the apprehension of Captain B. W. Leck was aroused.

Quietly turning the ship Captain Leck made for Miami and it was not until the lights of Miami beach appeared that the passengers had any intimation of their danger. Captain Leck then asked them to don life preservers and prepare for boat drill.

The passengers were taken off the ship in tugs Sunday and brought safely to this city.

Tugs working at her side all Saturday and Sunday pumping water kept the craft afloat. The liner H. F. Alexander stood by her to give assistance in response to a radio call for help. The Alexander remained until dismissed by Captain Leck.

Only The Highest Type of Service Is Good Enough

When the final tributes of love and respect are paid with funeral rites, it is only natural that you should feel that even the highest type of service is barely good enough for such an occasion.

It is with a full appreciation for and sympathy with that attitude that our funeral service is planned and executed. Every detail that you may have in mind is given attention—the trained experience that results in a service of superior character.

Varied prices to suit individual tastes are offered—but even the most inexpensive funeral rites are marked as dignified and impressive.
