Five Bodies Are Recovered From Waters of River

MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 14 (AP)—Three of the eight persons who lost their lives Sunday afternoon, when an automobile plunged off the Crater Lake highway at Lookout Point, near Prospect into the raging waters of Rogue river 200 feet below, had not been recovered at 10 o'clock this morning. They were: Mrs. D. W. Norris, of Akron, Ohio, whose husband and three children were killed in the same tragedy; Sarah Nan Norris, aged three; Mrs. N. T. Beige, of Jacksonville, Ore.

The torn and mangled bodies of four of the five recovered victims of the accident were brought to this city last night and will be shipped to Mahaffey, Pa. under telegraphic instructions from a brother of Mrs. Norris. N. T. Beige, of Jacksonville, another victime, will be buried here.

The recovered bodies are: D. T. Norris, of Akron, Ohio; Dewitt Talmadge, his son, aged six; Georgia Mary Norris, aged four; Jessie Kitchen of Mahaffey, Pa., owner of the ill-fated car, and N. T. Beige, of Jacksonville.

Examination of the bodies after recovery showed that they were killed in the fall of the car.

Auto Burns Up; Passengers In Machine Escape

The treacherous flames of a burning automobile endangered quite a few other cars on the Old Oregon Trail highway about a mile this side of Kamela, Sunday, when an old machine belonging to Jennings & Shumate of this city, driven by Verne Jennings, was totally destroyed after a short is thought have ignited cable insulation.

Mr. Jennings, who with his wife and four-year-old son were driving toward Pendleton about 3 p. m., had just been "ticked" on the left front fender by a hurrying motorist coming in this direction, when the flames sudenly shot over and under the cowl of the Jennings car. Mrs. Jennings grabbed the baby and, says her husband, literally leaped over the side of the vehicle with the child in her arms.

It seemed but a few seconds, Mr. Jennings says until the entire body of the car and the two rear wheels also were a red hot mass. Because a long line of automobiles who were leading had been forced to stop suddenly, all were endangered by the possible explosion of the gasoline tank. Noting this, Mr. Jennings braved the hot, shooting flames at the rear and kicked off the gasoline tank cap, so that combustion in the tank would not be so apt to take place, thus reducing danger of explosion.

H. K. Beelar, butcher, from the Enterprise market, brought Mrs. Jennings and the boy to La Grande while her husband came in later with R. E. Scribner, traveling salesman for Chanslor & Lyon. The burned wreck was towed to the local garage Monday afternoon.

PORTLAND WILL AID IN CAMPAIGN

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 14 (AP) operate with an Eastern Oretaoinu—Portland teachers are to cooperate with an Eastedn Oregon committee in the campaign in behalf of the measure to establish a normal school in Eastern Oregon.

A committee is being developed among the educators of the city and headquarters have been opened for the better teacher training committee and Eastern Oregon normal school committee at 608 chamber of commerce building, with Floyd D. Moore, as executive secretary.

From this hearquarters the local campaign will be conducted and arrangements will be made to cooperate with similar committees being built up in other parts of the state.

Educators Interested.

Western Oregon educators are as deeply interested in the campaign for the Eastern Oregon school as they have been in their own normal school campaigns in the past, inasmuch as the facilities in the Western part of the state are far from adequate to train all the teachers the public schools require and they are convinced that only by extending the arm of the normal school into the Eastern territory can the facilities be made adequate.

"Ohegon's elementary schools require approximately 1200 new normal school trained teachers each year," says the platform on the new committee's letterhead. "Monmouth has facilities for careful training of 300 a year.

"The Southern Oregon normal school at Ashland, with its present facilities and millage cannot hope to graduate more than 100 per year. Oregon neews 800 normal graduates each year.

"It is more profitable to train Oregon girls than to import teachers. It is therefore imperative that an Eastern Oregon normal school be established and maintained."

REED STATES FOUR THINGS MENACE U. S.

What we did was to make a present to Italy of $7,612,000,000.

"In discussing the French settlement, which is more valuable to America than the Italian debt settlement, Secretary Mellon finally and reluctantly told the truth. He declared that the effects of the settlement was to cancel fully 50 per cent of the French debt.

"If the scheme is carried through, then your children and your children's children will be taxing themselves to pay the indebtedness of foreign countries and foreign people."

Scores Financial Interests.

Senator Reed next struck at the "financial interests" which he said constitute the very real but invisible power that pulls the strings of government.

"The seat of government is no longer in Washington. It is in the great financial centers. At Washington sits Calvin Coolidge, proxy for the financial centers, surrounded by an obsequious brood of puppets, who obey his lash, as he in turn obeys the voice of his master."

12:05 p. m., and ending an hour later.

He also announced that the meeting next Tuesday will be held in the evening in the Odd Fellows temple, at which time Irving Vining, president of the Oregon state chamber of commerce, will be the chief speaker. Members may bring their wives to this meeting.

MERTON TELLS MORE OF DEAL

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. (AP)—When Richard Merton, German industrialist, first arrived in America in April 1921, to attempt to recover the assets of the American Metals company he knew his legal claim was weak. He testified to this today at the trial of former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government.

His legal claim, was not strong, he felt, because the transfer of the stock to the Societe Suisse was oral.

In answer to a question by United States Attorney Buckner concerning the late John T. King, former republican national committeeman from Connecticut, he said he did not come here with the idea of finding "a clever politician." Mr. King was also indicted but died shortly afterwards.

Merton said that he pictured America as a nation much different than England, France or others of the allies. "I did not think America exactly friendly," he said, "but I certainly knew they would be more decent than the others."

Although he felt his case to be weak, Merton said he also felt that America had no desire to seize private property or to impound it without just and sufficient cause.

After conversations with G. R. Williams, first assistant to Miller, who was then alien property custodian, Merton said he learned that the claim would be made on an ownership basis and that it eventually was made and paid on this basis.

Picturesque Major Praises U. S. Dry Law

weigh 180 pounds and be between the ages of 18 and 25 to become a member of the mounted police. The hardships and work of the police required a strong, well built, hard fighting man. Record books show that Schoof traveled 15,000 miles on horseback during his service in Africa.

Jailed in Mexico.

After leaving Africa he was major in the mounted police or rurales of Mexico under Madero until Madero was shot and he was jailed. He was fined heavily and the remainder of his money stolen, but they were afraid to shoot him because his papers showed him to be a British subject, so he was set free.

Wounded Seven Times.

Major Schoof has been wounded seven times by bullets, spears and poison arrows. His worst injury was only last summer, however, when he was bitten by a large fly or beetle at the back of the neck which became infected and caused considerable trouble.

This soldier of fortune is now 60 years old and is straight and stalwart. His perfect health he attributes to his out-of-door life. He is an absolute abstainer of tobacco and liquor and eats only rough foods, leaving cake, pie and confections alone.

Talks on Wet-Dry Issue.

"Liquor laws in the United States are much better than in Canada," Major Schoof stated when asked about the wet law controlled by the government there. "It is wrong to try to cure intemperance by establishing beer parlors and whiskey stores." According to the Canadian law one beer parlor is allowed for every 500 people. The place must be closed by 8 o'clock in the evening and the whiskey stores must close by 6 o'clock. One quart of whiskey is allowed to a person each day, but by careful manipulation many more can be obtained, the major says.

"Bootleggers are more numerous there than here and are getting rich. I suppose you wonder why. They buy first class whiskey from the government stores for $4 and $5 a quart, mix it with their manufactured product and sell it for $2 at a large profit. The mounted police are many times helpless as far as the bootleggers are concerned. Even though we find them with a truck load of liquor we cannot arrest them unless we catch them selling to the Canadian people. They say they are taking it to the United States and we can do nothing," Major School declares.

Drunks Common Sight

"I saw more drunk men in one little town in Canada—Casper, a town of about 400 people—on one Saturday night than I did in the states of Oregon, Washington and California in seven months," the major said. "The old saloons were better than the present temperance laws in Canada. Then a man had to stand up, now they get drunk, fall down, and all we can do is get them out of sight. Our orders are to do that. If the jails are full, lock them up some place else. The government does not want tourists to see conditions there."

"I am in favor of the temperance laws as they are here. Your system is much better, so don't let them tell you it would be best to establish 20 beer parlors and one or two whiskey stores in a town the size of La Grande.

Quebec Wettest.

"Quebec is the wettest of the Canadian provinces. The liquor bill there is more than all of the others put together. Each beer parlor pays $200 of what they make to the government. In addition to that two-thirds of the people there are poor."

Major School commented on the weather here and asked why the people should ever want to go to California with such perfect weather at home.

Accompanying the major, as his chauffeur, is Sergeant O. Sonners, of Wyoming. Sonners is a member of the United States army

Theater Owner, Hurt in Wreck, Is Recovering

Marshall Taylor, who received severe scalp wounds yesterday afternoon when his large coupe turned over on the highway about three miles this side of Meacham, was getting along fine this morning and will probably leave the hospital this afternoon. In spite of a large loss of blood caused by the cuts he felt better this morning and was anxious to get up when visited this morning by A. R. Bowen.

Taylor is manager of the Columbia theater of Portland and was on his way to Milwaukie in the interest of the Universal Picture company. His car was being driven by Mr. White, also of Portland, who was uninjured. One of the curves on the highway proved a little too sharp and the car turned over.

Taylor's cuts were either caused by the windshield or side glass, both of which are broken. The car is badly damaged. It was brought to La Grande last evening. One wheel is broken, the top is ruined and the body dented and marred.

FRIEND SAYS AIMEE PAID MRS. SEILAFF

(Mrs. Seilaff) asked me to forward $50 to her and not to say anything about it to mother Kennedy. I told her I could not very well do that. She then told me to instruct Mrs. Kennedy that she needed the $50 because she had been in an auto accident and had fractured her rib. I so informed Mrs. Kennedy. Mother Kennedy speculated that Mrs. Seilaff was running low on funds and needed the money. She gave me $50 and authorized me to send it. She stated that the money would be applied on Mrs. Seilaff's expense account. From this statement I understood Mrs. Kennedy was paying Mrs. Seilaff's expenses on her many trips to San Francisco to Carmel and back.

"When I conveyed Mrs. Seilaff's message to Mother Kennedy, mother told me to ask her on the long distance phone to inquire of Mrs. Seilaff if she had located all the witnesses yet. Mrs. Seilaff replied that all the witnesses were in San Francisco. The witnesses I understood, were to substantiate Mrs. Seilaff's story."

Talks With Mrs. Seilaff.

Mrs. Frame explained that the conversations with Mrs. Seilaff on this occasion had been held over long distance telephone. Mrs. Seilaff was said to have been stopping at the Continental hotel in San Francisco. Mrs. Seilaff registered at the hotel on August 29 under the name of "J. Anderson" and placed two long distance calls to Los Angeles that night.

Mrs. Frame, who says she has been a member of Angelus Temple for two years and one of the closest friends of the evangelist and her mother, admitted having been the agent who had received numerous telephone calls and telegrams from Mrs. Seilaff for transmission to Mrs. Kennedy.

KLANSMEN SOUND MILITANT BLAST

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP).—Warning to the league of nations and to Europe that Ku Klux Klansmen of America will resist any invasion of Mexico was sounded here today by Dr. Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard, in his biennial address to the klan.

"I have heard it said that the league of nations would interfere in the international affairs of Mexico," Dr. Evans said, "If Europe or what is left of it, undertakes to interfere with the western hemisphere, it will meet with trouble."

The marriage of Dagmar Godowski to Frank Mayo has been voided because he took a divorce from another wife for granted.
