WALLOWA PERSONALS

Mrs. John Couch, of Leap, was a visitor here the first of the week.

Mrs. J. B. Gastin has spent several days at the home of her brothers, Bert and Norris Cussins, of Lostine, doing housework for them while they were finishing up their second haying. She returned home the last of the week.

Fred Ranes, a farmer of the Leap section, was a business visitor here recently.

H. D. Bechtel went to La Grande recently to consult a doctor regarding his health. He has not been feeling well for the past few weeks.

Mrs. Bruce Fisher, of Leap, was at Lostine during the past week.

Mrs. Meek and sons were visitors here recently.

John Couch, Sam Meek, L. V. Lathrope and a number of other farmers in the Leap section have been seeding fall wheat. The ground is in excellent condition and a few fields in parts of the country which were seeded a couple of weeks ago are showing up green already.

Ed Bell and son Leslie recently finished hauling their wheat to the warehouse here. They expect to commence seeding their winter wheat soon.

Eugene Gastin was home a few days the past week from Powwatka Ridge where he has been working in harvest. He reports that harvesting is about all finished in that section and that the yield of grain received in most instances has been somewhat less than in normal years. A number of farmers there are starting to fill their silos.

L. V. Lathrop and wife, were visitors here Friday evening.

George Cussins finished seeding his winter wheat the last of the week.

Quinten Lathrop, of Leap, is attending high school here.

Mrs. Meek and sons visited Sunday afternoon at the H. C. Hearing home in the valley.

The roads in nearly all sections of the country are in fine condition at this time. The large amount of travel has caused them to become packed down almost like pavement.

A number of hunters were out the last of the week trying their skill in getting grouse and other birds on which the season opened recently. Reports from various sections tell of many deer being seen.

OUT OUR WAY

AT THE THEATERS

Whimsical Tale of Youth and Love Told in "The Boob"

William Wellmans' production titled, "The Boob", a whimsical story of youthful dreams, is coming to the Sherry theatre tonight.

It has as its basis the story of a youth, Peter, who after being rejected by the girl of his heart goes into the world to prove to her that the spirit of knighthood is not dead. His travels supply many opportunities for both comedy and pathos.

George K. Arthur has the role of Peter, and he is ably supported by [illegible] Greenwood, [illegible] Alexander, [illegible] Moore and others. "The Boob" was adapted for the screen by Kenneth Clarke from the story "Tom Quixote, Jr.," by George Scarborough and Annette Westbay.

Tom Meighan Here Tonight in "Tin Gods"

Great Neck, New York, police and fire headquarters were swamped with telephone calls one eventful evening. Everybody wanted to know where the fire was and why an alarm hadn't been rung. No information was forthcoming until a motorcycle policeman investigated. He reported that Thomas Meighan and Renee Adoree were saying goodbye to each other under the trees on the Kensington estate.

The excitement was caused by the shooting of a scene for "Tin Gods," Mr. Meighan's new Paramount picture which arrives at the Arcade tonight for three days. The story's script calls for Miss Adoree to leave Tom's cabin by walking down a hill through the trees.

To get the proper effect, Director Allan Dwan ordered a battery of lights from the Long Island studio and a gang of men to hold magnesium flares. Sun arcs were turned toward low-hanging clouds to reflect the proper amount of light. Others were used in creating moon shadows. The effect from a distance was surprising to say the least.

Realism is Keynote Of New Wild West Show

[illegible] picture is said to have been made on the Miller Brothers famous Wild West Show, and realism is the keynote. No painted backgrounds, no doubles for stunts, but the real atmosphere of the travelling circus.

The story concerns a mysterious cowboy, played with restraint and understanding by John Lowell, who is one the cowboys with a Wild West Show, "Bill", as he is known to the show, is in love with the pretty girl who has an act with "Babe," the big elephant. This girl, Ruth Gordon, played by Evangeline Russell, is in love with what the show-folks know as a "show-bug," i. e. a wealthy man who has a hobby for circuses and spends his time cultivating their owners.

In this instance Norman Brackett F. Serrano Keating) has for his object in following the show, the pretty niece of the owner played by the real owner, Col. Joe Miller). The niece, Marian (Jane Thomas), is attracted by the big cowboy, Bill and proceeds to try to vamp him. Norman has only been playing with Ruth, and she slowly realizes this.

Theer is plenty of excitement. Bill bulldogging a steer to save a child and saving Marian in an exciting runaway.

The actual circus stunts are shown as well, and altogether the picture, in addition to a well-constructed story, offers unusual backgrounds.

One can't help but notice the increase in earthquakes around Italy since Mussolini took charge.

Range Conditions In Wallowa Better

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—Range conditions have been greatly benefited by the recent rains. The new grass has started up nicely, and is making fine fall feed. The stubble fields are rapidly getting green from the wheat shelled out on the ground at harvest time. Some sheep are being brought in each week from the ranges and appear to be in good condition.

Perhaps due to those singing this "Blackbird" song, the lynchings for 1926 already exceed those for 1925.

Once Hated Work, Now Enjoys Life

"Work used to be a burden to me, but now I enjoy life again. Adlerika is the best [illegible] Excellent for stubborn constipation and upset stomach and gas. The best Drug trouble. Adlerika stops that full feeling. The Ben Drug Co." Adv.

We can offer a bargain to the farmers in some 2x12 planks planed on 4 sides for $17 per M, when you haul them yourself. We have some more call roof sheeting for $11 per M on the cash and carry plan. We are going to offer a bargain on some 1x4 cedar ship lath for lining clothes closets at $27 per M. This is too cheap but we want to move it and make room for some more lumber. This has been known to sell for $100 per M right her in town but not by us. That will be all for this time.

AN EXTENSION TELEPHONE SAVES STEPS

An extension telephone saves traveling about the home or office, hurrying to answer a call or to make one. Its service is two-fold: It saves your time and the time of those who call you. These are important business and social considerations.
