LOCAL RAILROAD EMPLOYES BACK BUS, TRUCK BILL

1923 and 1926 by Dispatcher McLaughlin showed that in this division alone more than 8,000 have been laid off.

"The O.-W. R. & N. company pays over $100,000 a month to employes in La Grande," it was pointed out. "Any reduction in the number of employes reflects loss on the entire community. While an increase of 200 per cent in the business of the stage companies would not materially affect La Grande."

Position Explained

"It is not that we aren't willing to step out and strive for the business," put in Mr. Price of the engineers. "We don't want to put the buses out of business. What we do want is a chance for fair competition.

"As it is, the state—the private car owners are paying the construction and maintenance of way expenses of the stage companies. All they are compelled to meet is their transportation costs—an item that with the railroad companies represents only two-thirds of the running expenses.

"The engineers, compiling figures on the cause of decreased business about a year and a half ago, found that the railroad company paid taxes here amounting to $127,978.64 in 1925—17 per cent of all the taxes paid in Union county. A large part of that money went to build highways—roadbeds for our competitors."

The motor bus and truck bill, referred by the legislature, would help correct this inequality and lift an unfair burden from the private car owners, the railroad men declared. The bus and truck operating license bill, they expressed conviction, would merely continue the unfair advantage of the stage companies at the expense of the private car owners and general taxpayers.

What Are You Doing For Your Puny Child?

One Boy Gained 11 Pounds in 7 Weeks and Is Now Strong and Healthy

For weak, frail, under-developed children—and especially those that have rickets, and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, cod liver oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it.

But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date chemists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, sugar coated and as easy to take as candy.

One boy gained 11½ pounds in seven weeks and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.

Sixty tablets for 60 cents at Red Cross Drug Store and all druggists and money back if not satisfied—always insist on McCoy's—the original and genuine—Adv.

HEAVY VOTE IS EXPECTED OVER COUNTY

Senator R. N. Stanfield is in the race as an independent.

I. L. Patterson, republican; Governor Walter M. Pierce, democrat and H. H. Stallard independent are the candidates for governor. Stallard is seeking election on a platform for repeal of state prohibition laws and for the adoption of the Canadian system.

Wet in Race

The prohibition question had been injected into the race for congress in the third district (Multnomah county) by Joseph K. Carson Jr., democrat, who is opposing Representative E. M. Crumpacker, republican. Carson urges repeal of the 18th amendment.

For the state legislature, there will be chosen senators from 15 of the districts, and one short term selection, for the 21st district (Union and Wallowa counties.) There are contests in seven of the senatorial districts, the nominees in the other districts being unopposed.

For the house there are contests in 20 of the 30 districts.

Judges Unopposed

Supreme court Judges Henry J. Bean, George M. Brown and Thomas A. McBride are unopposed for reelection.

Charles A. Howard, republican, and R. R. Turner, democrat, are candidates for superintendent of public instruction. C. H. Gram republican and G. A. Von Schriltz democrat, are in the race for labor commissioner. L. E. Bean, republican, and Clyde T. Spooner, are candidates for public service commissioner.

OLD PARTIES CONFIDENT ON ELECTION EVE

To capture the house the democrats must overturn the republicans in 26 districts. Some democratic managers assert this will be done, predicting a democratic landslide but the G. O. P. managers practically dismiss this as a rather idle dream indulged in by their opponents.

QUIET ON PACIFIC COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Predictions of victory and estimates of pluralities by opposing camps today brought the 1926 political campaign to a quiet close on the Pacific coast where last week the noise of senatorial flush fund investigations reverberated through Washington and Oregon before jumping south into Arizona.

DO YOU VOTE?

You say that taxes are too high,
But do you vote?
About extravagance you sigh,
But do you vote?
"How long," you wail, "must we endure
This state of things that keeps us poor?"
How Long? I do not know, I'm sure
But do you vote?

The lights are bad, the street's a mess,
But do you vote?
Your indignation you express,
But do you vote?
You say that bosses rule the show,
That graft is reaching high and low,
And doubtless, all you say is so,
But do you vote?

You growl at rotten politics,
But do you vote?
You howl at bosses and their tricks,
But do you vote?
You say, O Decent Citizen,
We've heard you, time and time again
We want things run by business men,
But do you vote?

Unless you do (I wonder, do you?)
You've got just what is coming to you.

RELIGION IS HELD SAVIOR OF BOYHOOD

The speaker drew a round of applause and a strong "Amen" when he upheld the leaders who oppose the teaching of evolution in the schools.

"If you convince the boy that he decended from a brute, or that he is the result of millions of years of development from the worm, you have not increased his respect for God. You have only filled his mind with a lot of unproved theories.

"When the ministers get too busy preaching the love of God to meddle with the question of when men shed their hair and tails, then we hope to give the boy a chance.

"But don't try to teach him what you do not believe yourself. What is good for the boy is good for his Dad.

Links Religion, Morality

"You cannot separate religion and morality; cannot teach one without the other. People who have morality without religion are enjoying something they got from their parents or the community.

"Citing Len Small, and his election as Illinois' governor after conviction of embezzlement, and the late President Harding's whispered involvement in the Teapot Dome scandal, Dr. Taylor declared that America is running madly after money, and will not stop until "we butt our heads against the stonewall of retribution and bite the dust of suffering for our punishment."

On the platform with the speaker were the Rev. Henry W. Parker, of the host church; the Rev. George Albert Pollard, of the Baptist church, who introduced Dr. Taylor, and the Rev. Leif H. Awes, Lutheran pastor, who offered the evening prayer.

The Methodist male quartet and a duet composed of Sherwood Williams and Paul Knautz pleased with harmonies they sang preceding the lecture.

PAGEANT PRESENTED

Members of the Wayfarer's Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church presented two pageants last evening at the church before a fairly large audience. Preceding the pageants which were entitled "Japan" and "Life of St. Timothy", the choir sang "St. Patrick's Breastplate," a choral by Bach and a carol. S. W. Allison sang a solo, "My Task."

Colored electric effects and costumes of the periods added to the pageant. The first was a scene in Japan and the second three episodes in the life of Timothy. The first one showed him as a small boy, the second, St. Paul in prison writing to Timothy, and the third Timothy receiving the letter.

A drop curtain, formed by three girls as angels, was very effective.

Before the presentation the Rev. Oliver Riley spoke briefly on the history and objects of pageants.
