MARKETS SLOW; DEMAND IS WEAK

Improvement Shown in the Export Requests for Northwest Prunes

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 6 (AP) —Local produce markets were slow in getting under way today and trading was very sluggish. Liberal receipts and lack of a favorable demand brought about the weakness.

Country dressed meats were nominal. Not enough inquiry was shown along the street to establish new price levels. Calves were dragging at 15 to 15½c. Country dressed hogs are holding barely steady at 16 to 16½c but lower prices are anticipated before the day is over.

The poultry market is generally steady although trading is quiet and little interest showing. Supplies are liberal for the meager call shown now. Live hens selling at 18 to 26c, depending on weight; springs nominal at 22c with broilers quoted at 25 to 26c. Turkeys are quiet with the fancy dressed birds coming in now bringing 38 to 40c.

The fresh egg market is slow and weak with receipts liberal. Extras still listed at 42c on the exchange but there is some price shading among dealers.

Butter is slow with production heavy and coolers well stocked.

Prune Exports Improve.

Some improvement is shown in the export demand for Northwest prunes but as yet there has been no advance in prices. A fair export movement is expected throughout the winter. Domestic demand, however, is stagnant, both for Oregon and California stock. Values have sagged again in the south, especially on the larger sized, as producers have not moved the tonnage up to this time that was expected. A check of Northwest stocks is said to show 20,000,000 pounds still unsold with growers holding about 7,000,000 pounds of this stock.

Speculators of Bullish Aims in Control Again

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP).—Speculators for the advance regained control of the price movement in today's market after an early period of irregularity.

While the opening of congress invariably arouses fears in some quarters of adverse legislation, the present session is not generally expected to produce anything that would be harmful to business. Prospects of special dividend action continue to influence the buying of many stocks, Otis Elevator jumping 5 points to a record high in anticipation of a stock dividend this month. International Harvester rallied from 145 to a new record high at 151½ and a similar recovery was registered by South Porto Rican Sugar, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, United Drug, General Gas and Electric preferred. Loose Wiles common and second preferred also were marked up 4 to 6 points, while Continental Baking dropped nearly 6 points.

The closing was firm. Loose Wiles Biscuit jumped 8 points and the second preferred 12, while Schulte, Reynolds "B," Radio and Allied Chemical were strong. Continental Baking "A" and General Asphalt preferred were heavy.

Total sales approximated 1,250,000 shares.
