FEW CHANGES IN MARKETS TODAY

PORTLAND, Ore., Apr. 22 (AP)—Few changes in the general run of wholesale produce prices were reported on the local market in today's early trading. Butter eased lower in the face of California offerings. Trading on the local dairy exchange listed extra cubes 1c lower at 41c and prime firsts one-half cent down to 41c.

Fresh country meats and poultry were offered at generally steady prices with receipts of good quality stuff sufficient to fill demands from buyers.

The egg market continues firm with prices unchanged. Storage holdings were increased 727 cases yesterday.

Most of the lettuce shipped into this market now is of relatively poor quality and indicates that stocks, mainly from Riverside, are down near the final clean-up of this advanced stage of the season. Current wholesale prices to retailers have ranged as follows, per crate:

Oregon leaf, $2.40; ordinary, $1.50; poor low as $1.00. Per crate, California cantaloupes, $4.00@4.50; Texas domestic, leaf grade, $4.50; ordinary, $4.00@4.50.

WOOL REPORT
BOSTON, Apr. 22 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

The wool market at the markets mentioned still seems to be a very narrow channel.

Prices have not changed materially for the week, although the tendency has been in favor of the buyer still. The few purchases in the wool indicate little change there, shearing being still delayed in a number of sections.

"As for the goods market, developments are slow, though rather encouraging in certain respects. Clothiers and spinners, however, report a narrow, easy market.

"The foreign markets are generally a bit easier, both in the primary and the secondary markets although not materially lower. Yorkshire, however, as well as the continent, appears to regard the current easier tendency as merely temporary.

"Mohair movie slowly at unchanged prices."

The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will publish the following quotations:

Scoured basis: Oregon—Northern, $1.95@1.97; fine and F. M. clothing, 90@92c; valley No. 1, 86@88c.

Mohairs: Original bag, average 12 months, Oregon, 56@58c.

Frequent Shifts In Sentiment in Stock Exchange

NEW YORK, Apr. 22 (AP)—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment characterized today's stock market, with a rather persistent demand for a selected list of industrials and rails in which special developments are believed to be pending. Sentiment improved later in the day when General Motors, Dupont, General Electric, Union common, Delaware and Hudson and other recent favorites were bid up to record high levels.

Steel and oil shares bore the brunt of the early selling pressure but scattered liquidation also took place in the motors and a number of specialties. Commercial Solvent "B" broke from its early high of 245 to 235½ and then rebounded about 5 points.

Outstanding individual strength was shown by Katy common, Frisco common, Gulf, Mobile and Northern, Delaware and Hudson and Erie second preferred.

The closing was firm. Standard rails, especially the coalers, were heavily bought in the last hour of trading. Baltimore and Ohio touched 115, the highest in more than 12 years. Atchison exceeded its previous record figure when it reached 193. General Motors made a new maximum at 194¾, but dropped back below 194 on realizing. Total sales approximated 2,290,000 shares.
