NEW POTATO MART SHOWS WEAKNESS

Lambert Cherries Expected Daily; Royal Annes Bring 17½c

PORTLAND Ore., June 22 (AP)—With a large proportion of receipts small and below grade, the local market for new potatoes is showing a marked weakness for this time of the season. Oregon Burbanks No. 1 are selling at from $4.75 to $4.50 per cwt. with combination grades at $3.50 to $4.00. Combination grade Netted Gems bring from $3.50 to $4.25.

With the approach of the end of the "Bing season, local bunches are bringing up to $1.50 per dozen.

The Dallas Royal Anne cherries brought 17½ cents per pound. Lamberts are expected daily.

String beans are scarce on the local market. A few from British Columbia brought from 22 to 25 cents per pound.

A strong demand for the higher grades of cube butter is reflected in today's change in dairy exchange prices following yesterday's board session. Best cubes are steady at 46½ cents standards are a half cent higher at 39½ cents and the two lower grades dropped off ½ cent each to 34½ cents and 34½ cents respectively.

The egg market is steady under an advance total of 2 cents for fresh sections to 28 cents per dozen.

Country dressed meats and poultry prices are steady with demand better.

Speculators For Advance Still In Control of Mart

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—Speculators for the advance continued in control of the price movement in today's stock market, but trading was relatively dull. A few profit spots cropped out, particularly in the oils and motors, but they failed to halt bullish demonstrations in the rails and specialties, nearly a score of which attained new peak prices.

General Motors ran up 2 points but lost its gain by early afternoon and renewed weakness developed in White and Chandler-Cleveland.

Maryland sank to a new low level, when fresh liquidation developed in the oil shares. Railroad equipments responded to reports of new orders and merger talk again influenced the buying of tobacco shares. Air Reduction, Union Carbide, American Chicle, Douglas Pectin, Reynolds Spring and Canada Dry were added to the list at new high records.

Northwestern rally featured the carriers, with St. Paul preferred and preferred certificates, "Bos" common and preferred and Western Pacific common all reaching new high ground.

The closing was steady. Hudson and Aconstech declined 1 point. Influential shares hovered close to yesterday's final figures. Commercial Solvents "B" and Assoc. Dry gained 2 points and Greyhound Electric and American Tobacco preferred 2½. Total sales approximated 1,800,000 shares.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 22 (AP)—Winter wheat is filling well in the principal wheat counties, said the weekly Oregon crop report today. Spring wheat is making good growth but in some localities needs rain. Corn has been helped by warmer weather but some has to be replanted and will be late.

German Railways Want Jazzy Names

BERLIN (AP)—Under the slogan, "Light Trains in Search of a Name," the German Railway Administration has started a prize contest for the most catching, romantic or jazzy names for the principal express trains between Berlin and Frankfurt, Hamburg, Cologne, and Munich.

German officials decided upon this innovation after observing how much more effective picturesque names have been in the United States.

The jury for the prize contest is made up of prominent newspaper men and railway officials. A further evaluation of railway nomenclature is planned for express trains connecting Berlin with Basle, Hamburg and Berlin with Holland and Munich with Italy.

CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM PRISON FARM

situation of sharing the fugitives into surrender.

Fugitives Unarmed

A newsboy from the farm told police here that the fugitives were unarmed. He said they walked through the side of the hacksaw without attracting attention.

The guard who discovered the men as they were leaving, said there were 142 convicts in the bunk house. He counted several who were lying in wait through the night armed in the floor with his shotgun and very nervous.

Three of the 15 convicts who escaped from the Polygamy county near Madisonville, were apprehended by officials of the state prison here today. They said they anticipated little difficulty in persuading up the rest of the fugitives.

LEVINE—"AMATEUR AVIATOR"

Charles A. Levine, millionaire backer of the Columbia's hop from New York to Europe, gave his wife and friends the surprise of their lives when he jumped into the plane as it was taking off and made the trip himself. Prior to his trans-Atlantic flight Levine had been "in the air" only a few hours in his whole life.

Summer Home Is Joined By U. S. National Forests

The "Summer White House" in the Custer State park in the Black Hills of South Dakota, where President Coolidge is spending the summer months, adjoins the Black Hills national forest and the Harney national forest, which are not only rich in Indian lore and pioneer historic interest but furnish one of the earliest examples of forest management in the United States. The president will therefore have the opportunity both of enjoying the hospitality of the state of South Dakota and of making himself at home on a million-acre federal forest estate.

The state park of 60,848 acres where the summer white house is located, is adjacent to the Harney national forest and a few miles south of the Black Hills national forest. This park was the southeast corner of the Harney national forest until the federal government exchanged it, as a solid block, for state lands scattered throughout the federal holdings. The two forests set aside by President Cleveland in 1897, have a net area of 1,153,187 acres of Government land, 70,168 acres of which are in the Theodore Roosevelt game preserve and 10,809 acres in a federal game refuge adjoining the state park. Within the present boundaries of the forests there are still 248,147 acres of patented lands, some of them in prosperous farms and ranches on the stream bottoms, some timberland cases or lots cleared by hand cutting and fire, and some mining claims.

Named by Indians

The name "Black Hills" was given to the region by the Sioux Indians. In their tongue, it was "Paha Sapa", in allusion to the sombre appearance of the forest that patches it as seen from the plains. The Harney forest was named for General Harney who was one of the fifty explorers of the region.

The president will have opportunity to see how national forests are administered and developed. He can see how timber sales are made under methods that keep the forest alive; how grazing is regulated to keep the range green and lush and more valuable for carrying stock for timber growing has been made available for home-building. The first timber sales in the national forest were in the Black Hills in 1898 and 1899, and the timber to be cut was selectively selected, under scientific forestry, that the area can be cut again by 1927. About 23,000,000 board feet of logs are cut each year from these federal timberlands under the sustained methods with such an improvement to the forest that the foresters expect to maintain this annual harvest, never, and even to increase it to 40,000,000 feet. This is partly because the old defective trees in the virgin forest are removed in the first cut, and the thrifty second trees left to grow. When the logging comes back 25 years later, the timber in this area is much more free from rot and other defects than was that cut the first time. Also, young timber is coming in on old burns and other barren places and will thus increase the area which can be cut every 25 years.

Within and near the Black Hills and Harney national forests are many points of scenic or historical interest. The famous hot springs of the southern end of the Black Hills are visited by thousands, and the Wind Cave national park and Jewel Cave national monument are not well known. Harney Peak, the highest point in the United States east of the Rocky Mountains, Crazy Horse, the Needles, and Bridal Veil are other points of interest, as well as the old mining town of Keystone, where is located the famous Holy Terror mine, from which came the richest gold ore ever found in the world. Tradition says the mine was named in honor of the discoverer's wife.
