BUTTER MARKET WEAKER TODAY

Wholesale Quotations Are Forced Downward in All Grades Today

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 29 (AP)—Wholesale quotations on cube butter for today were forced downward on the dairy exchange for all grades, the continued weakness of the market from yesterday being caused by increased offerings of creamery outputs. Extra cubes are ½c lower at 45c, while standards are down a full cent to 45c. Under grades, prime firsts and firsts lost ½c each and stand today at 42½ and 37½c respectively. Storage holdings were reduced 2244 pounds.

The wholesale egg market is firm and active with no changes in prices. Yesterday's withdrawals from storage, 1896 cases, were larger than usual.

Activity in the wholesale produce trade continued nearly as quiet this morning as during the past two rainy days. Prices remained generally steady for most lines and receipts were of ordinary volume.

Local Concord grapes are arriving in moderate quantities and moving at 4c per pound.

Local tomatoes were selling at from 50c to 75c per box. Local cauliflower was moving actively at $1.60 to $1.85, according to size and quality.

New Rogue River D'Anjou pears, loose packed, were being offered at $2 per box.

Country dressed meats and poultry were quiet at steady quotations in the morning's early trade.

U. S. Wool Trade Endorses Plans For Statistics

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Practically the entire wool trade of the country has endorsed and promised to give its active support to plans formulated by the government for the collection of international wool statistics and has agreed upon a classification schedule. This was announced by the department of agriculture after government officials had conferred with representatives of the trade at Boston, Philadelphia and New York.

Agents of the agriculture, commerce, and treasury departments and the tariff commission will meet here, it was said, to adopt a final report for submission to the state department to the British ambassador. The proposed classification schedule for use in collecting world wool statistics resulted from a request by British wool interests for American views on the subject.

Under present plans the schedule will provide for the gathering of international figures on quality, condition, weight, and value of wool passing in international trade, the collection of information on world stocks semi-annually; monthly reports on imports, exports, and re-exports of wool and a monthly survey of wool consumption by mills. The reports would contain three divisions covering diameter or quality of fibre divided in various classes.

Nervous Trading Feature Today in Wall Street

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Extremely nervous trading characterized today's stock market which witnessed frequent shifts in speculative sentiment.

Special buying of the Van Sweringen rails, particularly the Erie issues and Chesapeake and Ohio, attracted widespread attention. Texas and Pacific and Pittsburg and Western Virginia also recorded good gains.

Houston Oil was bid up 7 points, but weakness developed in Transcontinental Oil. Abitibi Power scored more than 7 points to a new high record, National Tea jumped 5¾ and G. W. Helme 4. Selling pressure was renewed against Texas Gulf Sulphur and Willys-Overland common sank to a new low level for the year.

The closing was irregular. Houston Oil rose up 10 points and Abitibi Power 13. Both Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck went to new peaks for the year and gains of 2 to 4 points were registered by Shattuck, Eastman Kodak, Timken Roller Bearing and Green Cananea Copper. U. S. Steel met large offerings again after it crossed 147 and when it commenced to sink further some representative industrials also weakened in sympathy. Total sales approximated 2,200,000 shares.
