Shooting at Granite.

A fatal shooting affray occurred in Granite, Grant county, on April 21st. It seems that a report, derogatory to the character of Miss Cecelia McMahon had been set afloat, and John McMahon, brother to the girl, accused Louis Gutridge of starting it. The men met in front of S. W. Gutridge's store and got into a quarrel over it, when McMahon drew a gun and shot Gutridge twice through the body, killing him instantly. Sam Gutridge, brother to the murdered man, ran out and grappled with the murderer, receiving a bullet in the face in the scuffle. McMahon was arrested and taken to Canyon City. Neither one of the Gutridges were armed. They have always borne a good reputation at Granite, where they have resided for a number of years. After the shooting, excitement ran high and fears were entertained that McMahon would be lynched, but better counsel prevailed.—Prineville Review.

Chewed by a Bear.

An Indian boy named Mathew, belonging to the Nez Perce reservation at Lapwai, was almost killed on Sunday by a Cinnamon bear. The boy, with a white man, was out hunting chickens above the Mission, when their dog scared up a big she bear. She made for the boy, and though they both emptied their twenty-twos on her, she almost chewed the boy to pieces before he could be rescued from her clutches. The physician at the agency was called in to dress the wounds, which are liable to result in his death.—Walla Walla Statesman.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from the first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store. (5)

MILK A NUTRITIVE.

A Medical Man Who Insisted for Thirty Days on It.

A medical man expresses the belief that a person could live for any length of time and fully transact business on the whole on no other food than sweet milk, his conjection is the result of personal experiment.

He wanted to establish the fact that persons convalescing from sickness may grow stronger with no other nourishment than sweet milk, and that they are not obliged to take "something solid" to eat, as so many people imagine. He holds that many a convalescent has gone into his grave as a result of overtaxing his weak stomach by putting "solid" food into it, and he maintained that the old belief as to bread being the first essential of human life is shown by his experiment to be erroneous.

His test was to live 30 days with only sweet milk as a nourishment. In the whole time he lost 3½ pounds in weight, but no strength. He even attributes the loss of weight to the warmth of the weather and to excessive exercise on the bicycle and the daily manipulation of 16-pound dumbbells and other heavy weights. He took more exercise than usual in order to test the thing fairly. On the seventh day of the experiment he ran several fast races in a skillful manner, but was beaten in each race.

On the thirtieth day he again pitted himself against the same runner and got the best of his opponent, which certainly would tend to confirm his statement that he lost no strength during the 30 days' test. He drank four pints of milk daily for the last week. He thinks a healthy person should take about five pints of milk daily when no other food is being taken. His practice was to drink milk at intervals of two hours during the day, commencing at seven o'clock in the morning and continuing until ten at night. After that he would take no more until the next morning.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
