EYE SIGHT.

Milton's blindness was the result of over-work and dyspepsia.

One of the most eminent American divines has, for some time, been compelled to forego the pleasure of reading, has spent thousands of dollars in vain, and lost years of time, in consequence of getting up several hours before day and studying by artificial light. His eyes will never get well.

Multitudes of men and woman have made their eyes weak for life, by the too free use of the eye-sight in reading small print, and doing fine sewing. In view of these things, it is well to observe the following rules in the use of eyes.

Avoid all sudden changes between light and darkness.

Never begin to read, or write, or sew, for several minutes after coming from darkness to a bright light.

Never read by twilight, or moonlight, or of a very cloudy day

Never read or sew directly in front of the light, or window, or door.

It is best to have the light fall from above, obliquely over the left shoulder.

Never sleep so that, on first awaking, the eyes shall open on the light of a window.

Do not use the eyesight by light so scant, that it requires an effort to discriminate.

Too much light creates a glare, and pains and confuses the sight. The moment you are sensible of an effort to distinguish, that moment cease and take a walk, or ride.

As the sky is blue and the earth green, it would seem that the ceiling should be of a bluish tinge, and the carpet green, and walls of some mellow tint.

The moment you are instinctively prompted to rub the eyes, that moment cease using them.

If the eyelids are glued together on waking up, do not forcibly open them; but apply the saliva with the finger—it is the speediest dilutent in the world—then wash the eyes and face in warm water.—California Farmer.

A GOOD GAME.

Now and then at a picnic, or when a group of young folks, and older ones too, for that matter, are seated together on the piazza or on the lawn, under wide-spreading trees, it is pleasant to know of some good resting game, sort of mental croquet that does not compel one to get out and run about in the hot sunshine.

Such a game is the Planting Game. Any number may play it, and an excellent wit-sharpener it is. It consists of impromtu flower-conundrums, given and answered in the following fashion:

Plant a child begging for his sick father, and what two flowers and a tree would spring up? Anemone, Fir, Poppy. (Any money for Poppy?)

Plant a friend speaking to a heart-broken girl, and what three trees and a flower would grow? Yew, Pine, Heart's-ease. (You pine for, heart's-ease.)

Plant the sun and what flowers? Morning-Glory and Daisy (Day's eye).

Plant Shakespeare, and what flower would grow? "Sweet William."

Plant Dr. Johnson and Robert Burns, and what two flowers would we have? "Bachelor's Button," and "Ragged Robin."

This game may be made very amusing by playing upon the names of well-known persons in the room or community. There is no limit to its resources, having the entire vegetable kingdom to select from.

As for rules, there are none. Any one can ask and any one may answer who can.—Hearth & Home.

AN ITEM FOR BLACKSMITHS.—The Alta California gives the following as a welding recipe: A Welding mixture by which cast-steel can be joined to cast-steel, or to ordinary steel or to iron, is prepared by mixing calcined borax with calcined lime and calcined sal-ammoniac and steel filings. This, when applied to the surfaces to be joined, will promote their union at a cherry-red heat, and, consequently, without altering either the quality or shape of the two portions thus joined.

THE TREATY WITH CHINA,

From the Daily Oregonian, August 7, 1868.

The following is the treaty recently concluded between the United States and the Chinese Empire, and ratified by the Senate, July 24th, 1868:

ADDITIONAL ARTICLES TO THE TREATY BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, AND THE TA-TSING EMPIRE, OF THE 18th OF JUNE, 1858.

Whereas since the conclusion of the treaty between the United States of America and the TaTsing Empire (China) of the 18th of June, 1858, circumstances have arisen showing the necessity of additional articles therto, the President of the United States and the august sovereign of the Ta-Tsing Empire having named the plenipotentiaries, to-wit: the President of the United States of America, William H. Seward, Secretary of State, and his Majesty the Emperor of China, Anson Burlingame, accredited as his Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, and Chih Kang and Sun Chia Ku, of the second Chinese rank, associated high envoys and ministers of his said Majesty, and the said plenipotentiaries, after having exchanged their full powers found to be in due and proper form, have agreed upon the following articles:

ARTICLE 1. His Majesty the Emperor of China, being of the opinion that in making concessions to the citizens or subjects of foreign Powers of the privilege of residing on certain tracts of lands, or resorting to certain waters of that empire for the purposes of trade, he has by no means relinquished his right of eminent dominion over the said lands and waters, hereby agrees that no such concession or grant shall be construed to give to any Power or party which may be at war with or hostile to the United States the right to attack the citizens of the United States or their property within the said lands or waters; and the United States, for themselves, hereby agree to abstain from offensively attacking the citizens or subjects of any Power or party or their property with which they may be at war on any such tract of lands or waters of the said empire; but nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent the United States from resisting an attack by any hostile Power or party upon their citizens or their property. It is further agreed that if any right or interest in any tract of land in China has been or shall hereafter be granted by the Government of China to the United States or their citizens for purposes of trade or commerce, that grant shall in no event be construed to divest the Chinese authorities of their right of jurisdiction over persons and property within said tract of land, except so far as the right may have been expressly relinquished by treaty.

ART. 2. The United States of America and his Majesty the Emperor of China, believing that the safety and prosperity of commerce will thereby best be promoted, agree that any privilege or immunity in respect to trade or navigation within the Chinese dominions which may not have been stipulated for by treaty, shall be subject to the discretion of the Chinese Government and may be regulated by it accordingly, but not in a manner or spirit incompatible with the treaty stipulations of the parties.

ART. 3. The Emperor of China shall have the right to appoint consuls at ports of the United States, who shall enjoy the same privileges and immunities as those which are enjoyed by public law and treaty in the United States by the consuls of Great Britain and Russia, or either of them.

ART. 4. The twenty-ninth articles of the treaty of the 18th of June, 1858, having stipulated for the exemption of Christian citizens of the United States and Chinese converts from persecution in China on account of their faith, it is further agreed that citizens of the United States in China of every religious persuasion and Chinese subjects in the United States shall enjoy entire liberty of conscience and shall be exempt from all disability or persecution on account of their religious faith or worship in their country. Cemeteries for sepulture of the dead of whatever nativity or nationality shall be held in respect and free from disturbance or profanation.

ART. 5. The United States of America and the Emperor of China cordially recognize the inherent and inalienable right of man to change his home and allegiance, and also the mutual advantage of the free migration and emigration of their citizens and subjects respectively from the one country to the other, for purposes of curiosity, trade, or as permanent residents. The high contracting parties, therefore, join in reprobating any other than an entirely voluntary emigration for the purposes. They consequently agree to pass laws making it a penal offence for a citizen of the United States to take Chinese subjects either to the United States or any other foreign country, without their free and voluntary consent respecively.

ART. 6. Citizens of the United States visiting or residing in China shall enjoy the same privileges, immunities or exemptions in respect to travel or residences as may there be enjoyed by the citizens of subjects of the most favored nation, and, reciprocally, Chinese subjects visiting or residing in the United States shall enjoy the same privileges, immunities and exemptions in respect to travel or residence as may there be enjoyed by the citizens or subjects of the most favored nation.

ART. 7. The United States and the Emperor of China, recognizing in the present progress of nations a favorable tendency toward unity of civilization, and regarding a unity of money and a unity of weights and of measures as favorable to that great object, do hereby agree that they will use their influence and efforts to obtain the establishment, by the general agreement of nations, of representative coins having a common value, and also a common standard of weights and measures for all countries.

ART. 8. The United States freely agree that Chinese subjects shall without hinderance on account of their nationality or religion be admitted to all schools, colleges and other public educational institutions, without being subject to any religious or political test; and, on the other hand, his Majesty the Emperor of China agrees that citizens of the United States may freely establish and maintain schools in that empire at those places where foreigners are permitted by treaty to reside.

ART. 9. The United States, always disclaiming and discouraging all practices of unnecessary dictation and intervention by one nation in the affairs or domestic administration of another, do hereby freely disclaim any intention or right to intervene in the domestic administration of China in regard to the construction of railroads, telegraphs or other material internal improvements. On the other hand his Majesty, the Emperor of China, reserves to himself the right to decide the time and manner and circumstances of introducing such improvements within his dominions. With this mutual understanding it is agreed by the contracting parties if at any time hereafter his imperial Majesty shall determine to construct works of the character mentioned within the empire, and shall make application to the United States or any other Western Power for facilities to carry out that policy, the United States will, in that case, designate and authorize suitable engineers to be employed by the Chinese Government, and will recommend to other nations an equal compliance with such application, the Chinese Government in that case protecting such engineers in their persons and property, and paying them a reasonable compensation for their services.

In faith whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries having signed this treaty and hereto affixed the seals of their arms.

Done at Washington the 4th day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

SADDLERY.—J. H. Schram, of this City, is now manufacturing the best Saddlery and Harness in the State. He will have at least 50 sets of all grades, from fine to common, finished and ready for sale next month, and more than that number of Saddles. He is bound to make a trade with any man who wishes to buy of him. He uses both Oregon and California leather in his establishment, and his work bears a most excellent reputation abroad. We hope that citizens of our own county will think of this, when they want any articles in his line.

VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE CHEAP—We know of 480 acres of good lands for sale in this county, being the land claim of J. L. Stout, in what is known as the Ringold Settlement. It will be sold in lots to suit purchasers, on very fair terms. This land is only 12 miles from Oregon City. For further information apply to N. W. Randall, of this city, or of J. L. Stout, Unity, Baker's Bay, W. T., or of Andrew Stout, in the above mentioned settlement. 13:1y

ROBINSON'S
Celebrated Magic Soap Powders!
Prepared in 6, 12, and 24 lb. Boxes,
READY FOR WASHING!

This is cheaper than Common Soap. It removes Paint, Tar, Pitch and dirt of every description; and which has given such general satisfaction, by proving that your washing can be done with one-half the time and labor of the old mode. Thus labor saved is money made; as wash-boards, machines and hard rubbing to wear out clothes, is entirely dispensed with, and the washing for a dozen persons can be done in two hours. Thus the cost of your washing being three-fourths less than by any other process, as you use no other soap.

These Prepared Powders or Soap have not only proved themselves superior for washing any and all kinds of goods, but proved after one year's use not to injure in the slightest degree any fabric of the finest texture; and, also the finest article for the hands, as it makes them soft and white, as well as your clothes. It also keeps your hands from chapping when exposed to the air.

We defy the world to produce its superior for washing any and all kinds of goods. Our object is to save your time, expense, hard labor, and especially the woman who has to wash.

We take pleasure in announcing a few of the many ladies' names—by their consent—who have used our Prepared Magic Soap Powders, from six months to one year:
