Sea Diver Tells Gruesome Stories

CHICAGO, Sept. 1. (AP) — Speaking of ghost stories, Leo A. Borchart, deep sea diver, sent chills down the spines of Optimist club members yesterday with a recital of some of his experiences down in the ocean.

"The most gruesome encounter I ever had," Borchart said, "happened one day when I was working in a sunken German submarine during the war. I had travelled down one of the passageways to find the ship's log and upon turning around to retrace my steps, I found the bodies of three German officers standing upright behind me.

"You know bodies in a submerged ship remain in a perfectly natural state and follow a diver about in the vacuum he creates.

"On looking into the face of one of the officers I recognized him as a German I had met in a restaurant in Hamburg. I pushed him out of the way and proceeded to the conning tower where I made my exit with the upright body of the officer following me all the way."

MINISTERS COME AND GO THIS WEEK

Activities in Church Circles on Incline After Summer Lull

Because it has marked the exodus of one minister and the arrival of another this week has been one of particular interest in church circles of the city. The Rev. H. W. Parker, who has for three years been pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, left La Grande Wednesday with Mrs. Parker. The Rev. William E. Burgoyne arrived the first of the week from Baker to take the place of the Rev. J. A. Hall who will leave within two weeks for Myrtle Creek, Ore. Mr. Hall has been here for nearly three years as pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. The change in the pastorate was made at the Northwest conference held Sunday and Monday.

Much interest in the First Methodist Episcopal church congregation of La Grande will attend the area conference this month in Pendleton when the pastor for this district will be chosen.

With St. Peter's Episcopal church beginning morning services again tomorrow and an increased interest in services generally manifest, the resumption of regular church activities, after the summer quiet, is already begun.

Large attendances are expected at the various churches of the city and particularly at the Methodist church South where the new pastor will give his initial sermon.

A particularly interesting event in the Episcopal church circles is to be a series of evangelistic campaigns during the next three months in Eastern Oregon. All next week the clergy and musical entertainers of the church will camp at the Dave Alexander grounds where they will meet the five members of the Church Army who will conduct the evangelistic campaign.

An interesting feature of tomorrow's services will be the special Labor Day program at the Central Church of Christ.

English Lutheran Church

Communion service will be held at 11 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. Leif H. Aaves, will begin at this time a new sermon series on the subject, "What Must I do to Be Saved?" The choir will sing the anthem, "My Task."

Rally day for the Sunday school will be held at 9:45 a. m. An interesting program will be given consisting of the following special numbers. "More Love to the Master," by the Junior choir, violin solos by Edna Towery and Jacinta Stringer, violin solo by Andrea Ainsworth. The pastor will give a talk on, "Doing Our Part." New scholars will be received at this time and assigned to their respective classes.

The Intermediate Luther League will meet Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Dutch Springs. Edna Jensen will be leader of the out-of-doors program. Each member will bring his or her lunch.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church

Holy Eucharist at eight o'clock a. m. will begin Sunday services at the St. Peter's Episcopal church. At 11 o'clock there will be choral celebration of the holy communion when the sermon, "Reaping What We Sow," will be given by the Rev. Oliver Riley. Music will be given by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Leo P. Miller. Mrs. H. N. Ashby at the console will play "Ave Maria" prelude by Gounod, and as the offertory, "Herbstnacht" by Frysinger. Her postlude will be the first movement from the "Organ Sonata" by King.

Methodist Church South

Services at the Methodist Episcopal church, South, will begin at 9:10 a. m. with Sunday school. The morning worship is at 11 o'clock, the new pastor, the Rev. William E. Burgoyne, having as his subject "The Aged Christ." Epworth league is at seven o'clock and the evening services at eight o'clock. Mr. Burgoyne's subject at this time will be "A Vision of Christ." Prayer meeting takes place every Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The fall services begin with the regular Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and evening at 8 o'clock. The morning sermon topic "Tolerance vs. Intolerance. This sermon will relate itself to Labor Day. Mrs. R. G. McCall will play, offertory by Guilmant, Meditation by Clein and Intermezzo by Calhoerts. Mrs. George Richardson will sing a solo. In the evening the minister will speak on "Destruction by Neglect."

The Sunday Bible School, with all classes functioning, meets Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock.

Junior Christian Endeavor will meet at 3 p. m. Intermediate, Senior and Young People's C. E. at 7:30 p. m.

Baptist Church

Sunday school begins at 9:45, with Mrs. M. V. Hyman, superintendent, in charge. The pastor, the Rev. O. P. Hess is back from his trip to Oregonia and will preach at 11 o'clock on "Where Labor and Capital Meet." The subject for the evening hour is "Where is Your Faith?" Communion will be celebrated at the morning service.

Central Church of Christ

Bible school is at 9:45 o'clock and the morning worship at 11 o'clock. The sermon will be "Expressing the Life of the Spirit." Christian Endeavor begins at 6:45 p. m. with the intermediate and young people combined. There will be a special Labor Day service at 7:45 p. m. with song services assisted by young people's choir. A short address will be given by Max O. Cullen, chairman of the Labor Day program in La Grande, on "An Outline of Present Labor Situation."

First Methodist Episcopal

The Rev. Ira R. Aldrich of Bend will conduct morning services at the First Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow. There will be no evening services. New appointments covering Methodist churches in Eastern Oregon will be announced by Bishop Rowe, who is presiding at the Boise conference as his closing official act of the conference Sunday evening.

Mr. Aldrich who will preach from the Methodist pulpit tomorrow was formerly a resident of La Grande from which he acted in the capacity of district superintendent for one term.

Nazarene Church

After the regular Sunday school session at 9:45 o'clock by 11 a. m. at the Church of the Nazarene, the Rev. A. E. Sinner, district superintendent of the Idaho-Oregon district churches, will preach. It has been some time since he has been here and the congregation is looking forward to his coming. He will preach again in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. A special missionary lesson will be given in the N. Y. P. S. meeting at 6:45 in the evening, in charge of Mrs. Long.

This may be my last ad in The Observer and I have a good deal to say but I don't want to pay out too much in saying it. Those who owe us money we want you to come and pay it all up in full by Tuesday night of next week.

Does anybody know where we could buy a second-hand Ford truck cheap?

We want to thank the whole country for the liberal patronage while we were in business in La Grande. We are trying to get ready to go to Denver, Colo., to open up a lumber yard. We are not sorry we sold our business in La Grande but we may be here. We will have some things to sell out very cheap, such as a few pieces of furniture. We have an ideal German hostess.

Well, good bye everybody. You may see me at your back door before I leave. Have some cold potatoes ready and a few warmed-over biscuits besides, if you have any old shoes don't forget us. I am also getting ready for a fishing trip.

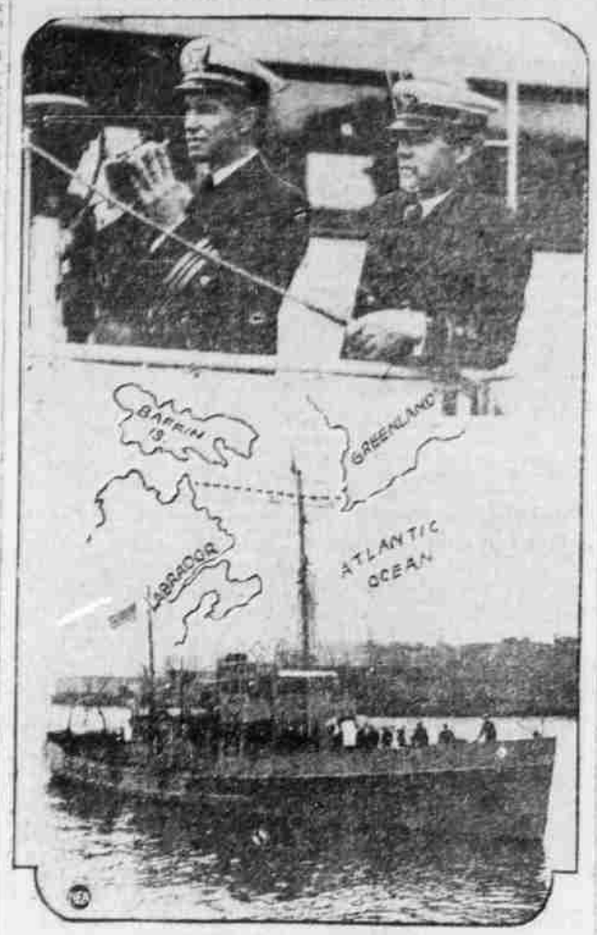
They Seek Lost Flyers



Hope of finding Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, flyers of the Greater Rockford, who were lost on their hop to Mount Evans, Greenland, has ended with U. S. Coast Guard cutter Marion and her commander, pictured here. Above are Lieutenant-Commander Edward H. Smith, left, and Boatswain J. B. Knudsen of the Marion, which was cruising in the area where the flyers last were heard from. The dotted line on the map, center, shows the intended route of Hassell and Cramer across Davis strait from Cape Chidley, Labrador, to Mount Evans.

Many Families Visited, Army Report Shows

The Salvation Army has called on 572 families in the last three months, according to a report made for that period by A. Holland, captain of the La Grande division, who announced today that the Salvation Army is now considering operating a free employment office this winter. Mr. Holland points out a number of interesting facts in the quarterly report, chief among them that 49 open air meetings have been held here for this summer with an attendance of about 1,450. Explaining in more detail the free employment plan, Mr. Holland says:

"As the harvest time is drawing to a close, and the fall is rapidly going, we are thinking of the men and women that drop come to us for something to do or some way of getting the necessities of life. With that in view we volunteer to operate a free employment office and would like the cooperation of all the good people of La Grande. We are still in need of mattresses and bed clothes to accommodate some of the worthy people who come to us for a place to stay. Also any other articles of clothing that you can give us will be appreciated.

"The month of September has been set aside for a month of Thanksgiving to God for the beautiful harvest throughout the whole land. The latter part of the month the Salvation Army hall will be decorated with fruit and grain from Union county. We also aim to raise $700 through special efforts which is our share of the burden to carry on the home mission work in our different institutions, such as homes for girls, orphanages, day nurseries. During our vacation we visited the Salvation Army White Shield home. We saw the summer camp at Burton, Ore., which the Salvation Army has purchased for the purpose of giving the boys and girls and poor mothers a vacation during the summer months.

"By the request of the Salvation Army advisory board we are giving here a list of the work done by the local corps here in La Grande for the past three months.

"There have been 49 open-air meetings held with about 1,450 in attendance. Fifty-seven indoor meetings were held with an attendance of 892, and 15 junior meetings with an attendance of 407. The local officers have done 258 hours of visitation, calling on 572 families and in hospitals. There have been five senior and six junior conversions. Fifty-four have been supplied with meals, 24 persons have been supplied with garments and shoes, 23 have been given lodgings. Sixty have asked for employment and 32 were supplied.

WINNOWINGS

The Rev. William E. Burgoyne, who came to La Grande this week to take the place of the Rev. J. A. Hall, soon to be pastor of the M. E. Church South in Myrtle Creek, has been in Baker, as he and Mrs. Burgoyne and their one child did not have a particularly long distance to move.

Winning the woman's western open golf championship is no novelty to Mrs. Harry Pressler of Los Angeles. She has done it before and probably will do it again before she wows away her sticks, she's pictured here with the trophy won at Chicago recently when she defeated Virginia Wilson of Chicago in the finals of the 1928 tournament.
