Among the supplies carried along on the Byrd expedition to the South Pole were listed: 1000 gallons of grain alcohol; 400 gallons of rum, 180 gallons of port wine, 100 gallons of sherry, 100 quarts of champagne, 400 gallons of whiskey, and say, did you read that thousands of volunteers had to be turned down?

TRADE MARK REG.

By Junius

Two gentlemen riding on a train were both very much intoxicated.

First Gent: "What time is it?"

Second Gent: (after extracting a match box from his pocket with much exertion and gazing at it intently): "Thursday."

First Gent: "My heavens, I've got to get off here."

TO A THIEF

A person stole a copy of Harold Bell Wright's "God and the Groceryman" from our store Monday. We don't know who you are and care less. We only ask that you read the book with the hope that it may reform you. If it does not, we suggest that the next time you are in our store you steal a Bible."—Ad in a Grande Junction (Col.) paper.

"One maid got married."

"She's left, of course?"

"No, but we had to build another sun porch, so her husband can enjoy himself while she works."

Wife: "You seem disappointed."

Hubby: "Yes. I answered an ad for a device to keep down coal bills, and they sent me a paperweight."

Owing to the absence through illness of the woman who taught the senior girls' Bible class, the young assistant minister was asked to undertake the duties for the day. He consented, but before beginning he said, smilingly, "Now, girls, I want to conduct your class just as your teacher does, so you might tell me what she does first."

A short pause, then the answer from a pert miss of 16: "Well, she always kisses us all around."

OUT OF THE FRYING PAN

"Did that patent medicine you bought cure your aunt?"

"Mercy, no. On reading the circular, that was wrapped around the bottle, she got two more diseases."

It is said Cato believed husbands started kissing to determine whether their wives had been drinking. If they did they started something they couldn't stop.

AT THE THEATERS

Fanchon And Marco Here on Wednesday

"Doggone," that ever-worked expression which so often helps us to give vent to our feelings and thoughts will have humors done unto it at the Arcade theater Wednesday. Fanchon and Marco's merry stage revue "Doggone" idea will be here to entertain.

As the name of the act implies, there will be many canine performers here to take part in the festivities. Most notable among them is Cal Norris' Collie Chorus who go through their paces assisted by the Sunkist Beauties. Pal, a little Pinkingese and his playmate Barbarina specialize in acrobatic novelty stunts as a distinct contrast.

Not all of the show is made up of dogs. Joe Rolley and Lucille Ogden, blackface comedian top the list of headline artists. Joe loots the harmonica and his partner strums the "uke" and between songs they manage to keep his air humming with their comedy chatter.

Moroni and Warner, comedy acrobatic artists, are on the bill. These lads do almost seemingly impossible balancing feats which even they themselves wonder how they accomplish them.

Dorothy Talcme, the charming soprano who last season toured the circuit in the "Jazzical Trial" idea has returned and is with this show. Then there's Fanchon and Marco's Sunkist Beauties with clever new specialties and snappy ensemble routines.

It's a carnival of barks, beauty and fun!

Marion Davies At Arcade In "The Patsy"

There will never be another Marion Davies type in motion pictures, because there isn't any such thing as a Marion Davies type.

This is on the authority of no other person than King Vidor who directed the star in her latest production, "The Patsy," for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, now playing at the Arcade theater.

"We constantly hear talk about the Marion Davies type, the Norma Shearer type, the Lillian Gish type, etc., and, in my opinion, it is all foolishness," said the director. "A great artist cannot be a type because if he were he would not be a great artist.

"When Valentino died we heard constantly about who will succeed Valentino. The talk eventually died out because there could be no answer to it. Valentino was an artist and the screen will never find another like him. For the same reason, when Chaplin retires we will never find another, and the same is true of Miss Davies.

"Miss Davies could not possibly be called a type for she never plays two personalities of the same nature. Every characterization that she brings to the screen is new and entirely different from anything she ever did before. It is a far cry from the demure lady of 'Quality Street.'"

"Fleetwing" An Epic of Araby—At the Star

"Fleetwing," a thrilling story of Araby with an all star cast comes to the Star theater for a ten day run beginning today.

This picture, adapted from an original story by Elizabeth Pickett, tells of the struggle against tribal traditions of two young people, Jaafar, a sheik, and Thirka, a dancing girl. Much of the action centers on the capture of the Simoon, a beautiful Arabian horse which is the envy of all Arabs. The Simoon aids the young lovers to flee to safety, winning the gratitude of Jaafar. Seeking the safety of his father's camp, Jaafar discovers that he has jumped from the frying pan into the fire.

From that moment on the action became more and more intense, working up to a wholly unexpected climax. Ben Hard, noted for his ability to portray sinister characters, is cast as the "villain," with Robert Kortman as his aid. Barry Norton, Dorothy Janes, Neville Alderson, James Anderson and Robert Kortman complete the cast. Lambert Hillyer, co-author of the story, directed the picture for Fox Films.

VONCEIL VIKING, pretty blood equestrienne, rode horseback from New York to California to get a job in the movies and now she's playing leads in western films.

CANDY STRIPE FABRICS

PARIS (AP)—Candy stripes have a definite, if small, place in the new styles, appearing in velvet, taffeta and lame fabrics. The stripe is diagonal and made up of a group of cart-colored fine lines.
