Second Cousin Of J. Q. Adams Is Dead

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Oct. 8 (AP)—At the age of 102, James Lincoln, second cousin of John Quincy Adams, passed away in his sleep at the home of his son, Ben Lincoln in Klamath Falls.

Mr. Lincoln was in his late teens when Lincoln stumped the country in his fight against slavery. Although a slave holder himself, he always held that if Lincoln had not been assassinated, slave-holders would have been recompensed for their loss.

He served throughout the Civil war under General Lee.

HAMILTON SPEAKS AT FORUM LUNCH

financially substantial citizens to settle in Oregon.

During the last two years 3,500 families have come into the state. Oregon is sparsely settled in comparison to other states, Mr. Hamilton said. There are approximately five to eight people to a square mile in Oregon while in California there are about 20 to the square mile and about 14 in Washington.

Compares Two States

California does not have greater resources than does Oregon, but the reason for the great prosperity of California lies in her realization of the importance of land settlement, he said.

How to get man power into a state is one of the big problems with which the state chamber has to deal, he declared.

The county chambers are all parts of the state chamber, Mr. Hamilton said, so that the profit resulting to the state from the state chamber activities indirectly helps each individual community.

"The state chamber has been handicapped by lack of funds for the work. Portland grows only as her trade territory grows and each community grows only as its trade territory prospers. For that reason the Portland business men are realizing the need for helping to supply ample funds for settlement of communities throughout the state," he said.

In the local chambers each member derives benefit as he helps the community to prosper, Mr. Hamilton said.

Settlers coming into the state and inquiring of the state chamber at Portland concerning desirable locations, are advised of the benefits offered in a particular line by each community in the state. When the settler decides where he will go, the chamber of commerce secretary in that district is notified and assists the newcomer to get a proper start, by seeing that he is not charged an exhorbitant price and is not misinformed as to climatic and other coditions.

The Union county chamber of commerce this week is aiding in the national observation of fire prevention week. Due to the crowded condition of the luncheon program today the talk to have been given by Gerald Tucker, U. S. forest service, was postponed.

According to statistics compiled from official government sources, Oregon's share in the nation's fire waste for the year 1927 amounted to $5,036,065, which means that $13,797 in property values was consumed every day; $985 every hours and $16 every minute during the year and that every man, woman, and child in the state contributed an average of $5.02 to the building of this tremendous bonfire. This does not take into consideration the loss of employment in the industries destroyed, the loss of profits during the period of rebuilding nor the loss in taxes due to the removal of the destroyed properties from the assessment roll.

"The fire chiefs of the state are already schooled in what constitutes fire hazards and the care and precautions necessary for their elimination. But they can do little without the fullest cooperation and support of the people of their respective communities," it is said.

C. A. Sheedy, manager of the Pacific Light and Power company, of Bend, G. L. Dutton, of Portland, insurance man and former resident of La Grande, Mr. Dearborn, of Spokane, insurance man, and Miss Frances Cherry, La Grande Evening Observer staff member, were all introduced as guests.

in darkness hours after the shock. Telephone service was partially disabled.

Theater performances halted when the audience rushed to the streets. Later many returned and the performance was resumed.

The shock was so strong that it displaced needles of the seismographs and stopped clocks in the national observatory. It was announced that the tremors lasted 2½ minutes with the greatest force displayed during a period of four minutes and 20 seconds. The epicenter was estimated to have been in the district of Jamiltepec, state of Oaxaca.

CHECK ALDERSON'S ACCOUNTS

INSANITY TO BE FALLOWS' COURT PLEA

passed. F. B. Ricker, the third veniremen, was challenged by the prosecutor because he said that he had formed an opinion on the case.

During the morning and early afternoon many more veniremen were examined and of the first 12, seven were excused for cause, one of them having admitted that he was opposed to capital punishment.

By 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, with the crowd in the court room larger than during the morning session, a tentative list of jurymen had been drawn. Thereupon both the defense and prosecution exercised two preemptory challenges each, thus excusing four veniremen. At that time the jury was still incomplete, with indications that it might be formed this afternoon unless enough preemptory challenges were used up to necessitate the drawing of a special venire.

The defense had 19 and the prosecution four remaining preemptory challenges to exercise.

Obituary

CLAUDE W. WALDEN

Claude Westley Walden, a resident of La Grande for 41 years, passed on at the conclusion of a short illness. He will be buried in the Island City cemetery tomorrow afternoon following funeral services at the B. P. O. Elks temple at 2 o'clock with Snodgrass & Zimmerman mortuary in charge.

Mr. Walden was born in Cloud county, Kan., on July 25, 1885, and after coming to La Grande, was with the O.-W. railroad for a period of 22 years. He leaves his father and mother and two brothers, Ernest and Ralph.

HARLEY K. HUG

Harley Kenneth Hug, four years of age, died in Walla Walla last Saturday night and was laid to rest yesterday afternoon at Elgin, his former home. Snodgrass & Zimmerman mortuary was in charge.

LAURA BELL SUMMERS

Mrs. Laura Bell Summers, wife of W. C. Summers, of La Grande, died yesterday evening at Hot Lake. Mrs. Summers was born Oct. 25, 1875. She came to Oregon 26 years ago and has lived in La Grande and Baker during that time.

She is survived by her husband and three daughters and a son. They are: Elvin Ray Summers, of Baker; Mrs. Lois Hart, of Pocatello, Ida., Estelle Summers and Lucille Summers, both of La Grande.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Snodgrass & Zimmerman mortuary. Interment will be in the Masonic cemetery.

Del's SELF-SERVICE SHOES AND HOSIERY STORE
1204 Adams Ave.
HELPFUL HINTS FOR SERVING YOURSELF
We sold some dresses yesterday alright, and we got our 49c hosiery window in as we promised you we would. Be sure to come by and take a look at the numbers we offer you for 49c, in men's, women's, children's and infants hosiery. You'll be pleasantly surprised.
It comes to us that if you have never been in a self service store, a few helps on how to serve your self might be welcome to you.
In the first place, don't hesitate to tell us what you want or to ask us questions. Our store can be of advantage to you only when you know where to find things and how to get them, and we expect to help you get the lay of the land and a slant you in every way possible.
Then here are a few definite helps to serving your self. This is the way the shoes are grouped. Beginning with the racks on your left hand as you come in the door, and going around the room, there are three groups of ladies shoes, $1.79, $3.79 and $2.79, then the misses section, the children's section 8½ to 11, the children's section 5½ to 8, the infants, little gent's, youth's, boys' and two groups of men's, $3.79 and $1.79. In all of these groups, each up and down column is used for only one size and that size is marked on a card at the top of the column and the sizes arranged so they always read from the smallest size on the left hand to the largest size on the right hand, and all thru the stock, each pair of shoes has a ticket with the size and selling price marked on it. You will find seats all around the room and shoe horns and button hooks hung on the shoe racks, and you are welcome to sit down and try on any shoe you care to.
Across the aisle from the shoes on both sides of the room you will find hosiery segregated and hung on hooks, with the size and price marked on cards above each hook. To get them down it is only necessary to jerk the hose so that the thread it is hanging by breaks.
In the center of the room, the ladies cotton, rayon, wool mixture, and silk hosiery numbers are hung, with the size and price marked on a card above each hanger, and to get these down you need only to spring the clip that holds the pair you want.
The table goods are marked by little cards on the edge of the table, and the rain coats and sweaters have tickets with size and price plainly marked and are segregated and hung on racks so that you can look through them freely to make your selections.
The beauty of the whole thing is that it is not only interesting and pleasant for you, but by coming in and making your own selections you enable yourself to save money on everything you buy that way, for higher overhead expense has to be paid and you are the one who pays it when you buy where overhead is greater than ours. Come in and catch the spirit of what we are doing. You will find it great fun, and we can work together for the good of all concerned.
