Boxing Measure Not Expected To Pass Lawmakers

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 22 (AP)—Rumors that the legislature contrary of the American Legion in the state will sponsor the proposed bill for the creation of a state boxing commission before the legislature commission the state committee to engage enough the support being which members of the legion committee do not deny.

The bill to create the state commission with jurisdiction over all boxing matches in the state not contrary of all local organizations has been drafted for introduction at the instigation of members of the Portland legion post, who carried the plan to the state convention of the legion last August and secured its endorsement.

The proposed bill does not, however, meet with the approval of at least three of the members of the legislative committee of 1929 to which it was referred, and there are indications that the committee will unanimously vote for a change down to the proposition of a meeting to be held here Wednesday.

Members of the legion committee say they do not intend to insist a particular method may be followed and that the plan is acceptable to other committees in the state where boxing promoters are engaged in forbidding wrestling in the profession of the ring.

Stribling Wins 113th Fight By Knockout Route

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 22 (AP)—With his 113th successful record to his credit at the expense of Billy Montgomery, former Centre college football player, W. L. (Young) Stribling today was en route to New Orleans, scene of his last fight before his battle in Miami Feb. 27 with Jack Sharkey.

Young Stribling last night stayed with the heavy but fast Montgomery before he succeeded with a left hook to the chin that sent the Fort Worth boxer down for the count after less than a minute of fighting in the second round. Stribling floored his opponent for a count of nine a few seconds before the knockout.

Ralph Poole, heavyweight, will be the Georgian's opponent at New Orleans Friday night. Before leaving here the Macon fighter expressed confidence of an easy victory.

To Stribling, father-manager of the Georgian, said that Stribling would return to Macon after his New Orleans encounter and rest a couple of days before leaving for Miami. He said Young Stribling would leave Macon by airplane Jan. 30.

BOSTON BRAVES STILL A PUZZLE

Manager Top Busy Answering Questions to Worry Seven Clubs

By William R. Fox

Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Bewildered Boston Braves fans, victims of the Braves fancy, were doubtful today about the club they have. Is it a contender for the pennant or is it a cellar dweller?

The period disappointed, who short of the baseball world when he was Rogers Hornsby said that he intended to build a winner for this season, have for now based their hopes on 1929 being the year when the Braves will return to the Hornsby fold, the national league.

Starting the last five months when he should have been performing the performance there, Hornsby has been busy on the job organizing the Braves organization with the purpose of the Braves sports information and he intends to develop a winning baseball team from the Braves this coming.

Policy of Duty

Further in position—behind the Hornsby leadership, he is going to have plenty of competence starting the 1929 season of the Braves. Bill Hallahan, Kentucky southpaw, Jim Lindsey, Jackson, Miss., Ken Ford, Jackson, Miss., Ken Ford, Jackson, Miss., Ken Ford
