UNSETTLED WEEK IN GRAIN MARKET

Wheat Firm on Less Favorable Prospects for North American Crop.

WASHINGTON, July 16—The grain market continued unsettled during the week ending July 13. Lower estimates for the United States winter wheat crop, together with reports of serious drouth damage to spring wheat both in the United States and Canada, were strengthening factors in the wheat market, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States bureau of Agricultural economics and last week's advance was mostly maintained. Rye was steady with wheat but better weather for corn and fairly liberal offerings weakened the market slightly for that grain. Oats, barley and flax held firm, influenced largely by unfavorable progress of the new crop.

A total domestic wheat crop of about 834,000,000 bushels or about 68,000,000 bushels smaller than last year, was in prospect at the first of July. This reduction may nearly offset the increase in carryover of old grain and supplies for the coming season may be little larger than last year. Hot winds in the hard winter wheat area, together with drouth conditions in the spring wheat states, are principally responsible for the reduction in this season's crop. About 60,756,000 acres remain for harvest this season compared with 55,941,000 acres harvested last year.

Canadian Crop Deteriorate

Wheat acreage in Canada was increased about 186,000 acres and was officially estimated July 1 at 24,305,000 acres, of which 23,408,000 acres were spring wheat. The condition of the crop was placed at 88 per cent of the average yield which would suggest an outturn around 175,000,000 bushels below last season's record crop. The crop deteriorated materially during June as a result of insufficient moisture and trade reports indicate considerable further deterioration since the first of July.

Crop conditions in Europe show little change from a week ago and although preliminary estimates are still subject to change with the progress of the season, it appears from such data as are available at present that decreases of around 60,000,000 bushels recently reported in the Danubian countries may be offset by larger harvests in other sections and that the final outturn may not differ greatly from that of last season. Trade reports of the German crop suggest that the wheat yield may equal that of 1928 but the rye yield may be moderately lower. Weather in the southern hemisphere remains dry and unfavorable for seeding with prospects that acreage will be materially reduced in Argentine.

World Supply Larger

World supplies of wheat at the first of July were materially larger than a year ago. Stocks of old wheat in the four principal exporting countries, including the United States, Canada, Argentina, and Australia, appear to be around 110,000,000 bushels greater than at this time last season with most of the increase accounted for in the United States where the estimates available indicate that the carryover of old wheat will be about 86,000,000 bushels larger than on July 1 a year ago, assuming that there will be no material change in the merchant mill stocks. Stocks of Canadian wheat in North America are around 20,000,000 bushels greater than on the same date last season and supplies in the southern hemisphere appear to be around 11,000,000 bushels more than a year ago, with a reduction of around 2,000,000 bushels in Australia is more than offset by the increase of around 12,000,000 bushels in Argentina. While an unusually large carryover is in prospect, present indications are that this season's increase compared with a year ago will be much more than offset by the reduction in this season's harvest.

World shipments of wheat continue large, shipments to date from the principal exporting areas total around 876,000,000 bushels and with weekly shipments averaging more than 19,000,000 bushels. It appears likely that more than 900,000,000 bushels of wheat will have been shipped out from these countries by the close of the crop year August 1. This compares with the preceding record shipment of 814,000,000 bushels in 1926-27. The relatively low world price of wheat, together with the shortage of feed grains in Europe, has stimulated the movement of last season's record supplies.

WINNIPEG PRICES SOAR

WINNIPEG, Man., July 16 (AP) —The bull forces gained control of the Winnipeg wheat market again today sending values soaring 2¼ to 7⅛c above Monday's closing marks.

New season high marks were recorded in all months at the opening. The July future was ⅝ to 7⅛ higher at $1.72 to $1.74. October 1⅝ to 2⅛ higher at $1.63⅛@$1.61⅛ and December 2⅛ to 4¼ higher at $1.58@$1.60.

The bulls used the continued dry weather over the west as their weapon to drive wheat prices higher this morning. Trading was extremely heavy.

Close Steady In Stock Exchange

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP) — High call money rates had a restraining effect on speculation in today's stock market but prices moved irregularly higher under the stimulus of pool operations. Call money renewed at 12 per cent, but there was relatively little calling of loans and the rate was not expected to work higher.

The market gathered strength in the last hour, several utilities selling up four points and more to new highs, including Western Union. Consolidated Gas, Standard Gas and Electric. New York Central rallied and regained its early loss and Lackawanna advanced 6 points.

Allis Chalmers mounted 12 points to equal its previous peak. American Telephone, however, sagged a couple of points. The close was steady. Total sales approximated 4,000,000 shares.

Naval Academy Curtain

Above the altar of the United State Naval Academy chapel is one of the most exquisite windows in America. It is of singular beauty in lines and coloring and portrays the Savior walking on the water. His figure being one of remarkable tenderness and majesty. One of the traditions of service in the chapel is that each official service shall end with the hymn, "Eternal Father, Strong to Save."

Crockery Wreckage Huge

More than 500,000 glasses were smashed in the last year on the restaurant cars of a German company which has about 600 cars in the international European traffic. The glasses smashed represent five times the normal number carried. One hundred thousand pieces of crockery are in use, but more than twice that number are broken annually. Only 27,000 beer glasses are in use, but 115,000 are broken each year.

Entertainment in Ant Hills

Scientists believe that, in addition to maintaining guests of usefulness in their homes, ants are fond of keeping pets, for tiny crickets often find shelter and abundant food in the home of an ant. Beetles, too, with a peculiar fragrance that makes them welcome are often fed and sheltered in the hospitable home of the ant.

Too Much Static

Little four-year-old Rosemary went to a nearby movie with her parents. The picture was showing a very exciting auto race and the audience was screaming and yelling, much to Rosemary's disgust. She said to her mother (with a finger pressed in each ear): "Mother, let's go home. I can't stand it. Too much static."

Graduation Age

The department of education says that the average age for graduating from universities in the United States is twenty-three years.

Chicago Wheat Suffers Cent Setback Today

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP) —Influenced by failure of Liverpool quotations to reflect fully price advances on this side of the Atlantic, early wheat values here underwent material setbacks today. Dispatches from Liverpool asserted belief that upturns had been too fast, and this promised heavy selling here, largely to realize profits. Opening at ⅛c to 1½c off, Chicago, wheat fluctuated rapidly, with an irregular downward trend. Corn, oats and provisions averaged lower also, corn starting unchanged to 1c up, and subsequently showing a decided drop.

Wheat closed unsettled 1 to 1¾ under yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅜ to ⅞c down, oats ⅞ to 1⅛c off and provisions varying from 2@5c decline to a rise of 20c.

Coste May Not Try Westward Flight

PARIS, July 16 (AP) —Dieudonne Coste probably will not make another attempt during this year to fly across the Atlantic. He has not abandoned his plan, but when asked when it might be carried out he replied laconically "there is no hurry."

In a signed article in Excelsior today Captain Coste said his Paris-to-New York flight was dependent entirely upon the presence of certain exceptional weather conditions. Although very rare he believed they would occur at some time. It is then he will make a fresh start.

He said he was convinced there does not exist another plane comparable to the Question Mark for the attempt.

Butter Market Easier Today; Cantaloupes Up

PORTLAND, Ore., July 16 (AP) —Influenced partly by a decline at Seattle and partly by larger supplies locally, the butter market was easier Tuesday. Extras were half a cent lower at 43½, standards a cent at 42½, prime firsts and firsts half a cent each at 42 cents.

Butterfat was quoted a cent lower at country points.

Eggs were holding steady despite the seasonal increase in receipts, which so far has not been sufficient to overbalance supply and demand.

Cantaloupes were higher at $2.75 and $4 per crate of 45. The Imperial valley shipments are about at a standstill, and no recession in quotations is expected until the Wasco and Delano fruit begins to arrive next week.

Danube water melons, regarded as the best were quoted at 2½ to 3 cents a pound. This price was expected to continue until northern California melons arrive. The Hermiston melons are due between August 10 and 20.

Celery was plentiful and cheap from 60 cents to $1 a dozen bunches.

Bananas were abundant at 6½ to 7 cents a pound.

Fraternity Houses Not Tax-Exempt

SALEM, Ore., July 16 (AP)—Legal non-payment of taxes on grounds that the property is a "benevolent, charitable, literary, and scientific society" does not apply to fraternity and sorority houses, according to an opinion of the supreme court today, affirming Judge L. H. McMahan of the lower court for Marion county in the case of Kappa Gamma Rho, appellant, against Marion county. The opinion was written by Chief Justice Coshow.

The fraternity is a Greek letter society of Willamette university students, and is incorporated.

Unworldliness

To know there is a world of truth without error, beauty without defect, goodness unsullied by self, love white as snow, pure as flame . . . to believe to the point of self-committal in that perfect world, to walk in it by faith and hope, to trust it, to find one true joy in it, to be remade by it—that is unworldliness.—A.
