Entertain Friends At Turkey Dinner

By Mrs. C. M. Hale
(Observer Correspondent)

IMBLER, Ore. (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ruckman were host and hostess to a number of friends when they served a turkey dinner Thanksgiving day. The day was pleasantly spent in visiting and music both instrumental and vocal. Those who were entertained were Albert Bratz, Omar Ruckman, Lola Cantrel, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hayes and daughter, Eleanor, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Baros and two children, Leon and Annette, Dr. Harlan F. Ruckman, of Portland; Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Ruckman and Dorothy and Veytha Ruckman, of Enterprise; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gaskill, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Friswold, Mr. and Mrs. John Steinman, Manwel Steinman, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Peal and daughter, Virginia, of Joseph; W. W. Kirkhoff, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ruckman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McGoldrick and son, Eugene, and Walker Phillips.

A bountiful Thanksgiving dinner was enjoyed Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cleaver. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cleaver, Mr. and Mrs. John Cleaver and daughter, Barbara, of La Grande, Mr. and Mrs. Chick Cleaver and children, Marie and Wilfred, Ivan Bingaman and Lydia Cleaver beside the host and hostess.

Mrs. Eliza Long and her son-in-law and daughter and their two children of Enterprise, were dinner guests Friday of Mrs. I. Bingaman. They were on their way home from La Grande and stopped in Imbler for a supply of apples.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Watson and daughter, Donna, and Mr. and Mrs. James McKinnis were entertained Thursday at Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Donelson.

DARING TRIP IS A SUCCESS

plane at the pole to New York via a relay.

It was 153 days after Captain Robert E. Peary reached the North Pole on April 6, 1909, before he was able to reach the northernmost telegraph office at Indian Harbor, Labrador, to send a message announcing the fact.

Commander Byrd with a company of 77 and using three ships to transport his planes and supplies arrived at the edge of the great Antarctic ice barrier last December. In addition to a crew of pilots and mechanics for the planes, the party included radio operators and scientists with equipment for making and recording observations of conditions prevailing in the region.

After establishing a base which was named Little America and a series of emergency supply stations in the direction of the pole, the party made several exploration flights over the barrier. The existence of Scott island was confirmed and several uncharted mountain ranges in the region were discovered.

The long sunless winter on the Antarctic from March until October was spent at the base protecting themselves and their stores from the bitter cold and terrible storms of the region. Activity was resumed a few weeks ago and came to a climax in the historic flight over the South Pole which was begun Thanksgiving day and ended yesterday.

Bernt Balchen, who was a pilot on Commander Byrd's trans-Atlantic flight in June, 1927, piloted the huge tri-motored plane, Floyd Bennett, in which the flight was made.

Harold June, a navy pilot and petty officer, on leave for the expedition was the radio operator. Captain Ashley C. McKinley, an aerial photographer of St. Louis, was the fourth member of the party.

The sun compass, designed by Albert H. Bumstead, chief cartographer of the National Geographic society, which Commander Byrd was the first to use on his flight to the North Pole and which he gave much credit for the accuracy of his navigation was part of the equipment on the South Pole flight.

Beside Byrd and Amundsen only one other explorer has reached the South Pole. Captain Robert F. Scott, British explorer, reached the pole January 19, 1912, about a month after Amundsen. He and his party perished in a blizzard on their return trip about March 29 when within 155 miles of their base.

SENDS MESSAGE TO MOTHER

WINCHESTER, Va., Nov. 30 (AP)—Safe at his Anarctic base after a flight over the South Pole, Commander Richard Byrd hastened to relieve anxiety of relatives with a message of his safety and love to his mother, Mrs. Richard E. Byrd, Sr., through the New York Times.

"Back after a fine flight," his message read. "It was full of thrills. A world of love to you all."

Mrs. Byrd received the message at her home here about midnight.

in an open plane. His face and hands were frozen and he needed help to release the controls of his ship. His passengers were somewhat sheltered, but suffered severely from the cold.

Only two planes — those from Cincinnati and Bay City, Mich.— failed to complete their schedule yesterday.

EAST IN COLD WAVE

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP) — The entire east, for the first time this season, was in the grip of sub-freezing temperatures today.

In New York City the thermometer dropped to 29 degrees above zero last night, the coldest of the season. A 38-mile biting northwest wind added to the discomfort and lodging houses patronized by the unemployed were jammed to capacity.

One death was recorded, a woman in Staten Island freezing to death in her back yard after she apparently had fainted while taking out some ashes.

Below freezing temperatures were general throughout New York state, New England, New Jersey and sennsylvania.

Two inches of snow fell at Malone, N. Y., and the temperature dropped to 4 degrees above zero.

NOTRE DAME DOWNS ARMY

Cagle's pass exactly on the goal line. The sprinter halfback was away like a scared rabbit and raced to a touchdown down the side lines without a hostile hand being laid upon him.

Notre Dame started its second backfield, composed of Gebert, O'Conner, Schwartz and Savoldi, behind the first string line.

Colerick was at left end in place of Collins.

Army won the toss and elected to receive the kick off as the teams took the field.

A brisk wind blew from the southeast.

Hutchinson was at left half back for the Cadets instead of Glattly.

Cannon's first attempt to kick off squirted off at a tangent out of bounds, and he tried again. On the next try, Hutchinson took the ball and was tackled on the 21-yard line by Cannon.

Holds for Downs

Notre Dame took the ball on downs on its own 25-yard line. Schwartz and O'Conner knifed through for seven yards in two attempts.

But Savoldi was stopped and Schwartz punted out of bounds on Army's 33-yard line. The Army was offside on the play, however, and Notre Dame got first down on its 48-yard line.

Savoldi raced around left end but was thrown out of bounds by Murrel after a four-yard gain.

O'Conner and Savoldi bucked to within inches of another first down and the latter then made it an Army's 41-yard line. O'Conner broke through center for nine yards before being stopped by Murrel and Savoldi registered another first down on the 30-yard mark. The Irish were hitting with terrific power on straight line plays.

Cadets Rally

But the Cadets rallied and twice stopped Savoldi without a gain.

Murrel gained only three yards on two attempts then added two more at end. The Cadet fullback got off a fine punt that reeled to Notre Dame's 10-yard line, Gebert returning to his 24 yard mark.

Schwartz, on a spinner buck, dove through seven yards and made first down on the 34-yard line. The Soldiers stopped O'Conner's thrust at left guard but Schwartz smashed four yards on a reverse.

O'Connor plunged two more but Schwartz punted out of bounds on the next play to Army's 26-yard line. Cagle lost his headgear in a whirl around right end, gaining three yards.

Murrel got off a quick kick, which was downed on Notre Dame's 26-yard line.

Schwartz failed to gain on a wide end dash and O'Connor made barely a foot at center. The first period ended on this play, the ball in Notre Dame's possession on their 26-yard line.

Elder Scores

Cavanaugh was at center for Notre Dame instead of Nash. On an attempted end run, O'Connor was smeared by Cagle and Schwartz punted, the ball bounding backward so that Army took possession on Notre Dame's 41-yard line. The first string Irish backfield was rushed into the fray, Carideo, Elder, Brill and Mullens taking their places as the Cadets launched an attack. Murrel plunged five yards through the line, then catapaulted himself to the 24-yard line for a first down. Cagle dashed four yards around right end, but Notre Dame was off-side and Army took the extra yard.

Cagle took the ball on an end run but was stopped after gaining two yards by Donohue. Murrel failed to gain at guard and Cagle's diagonal pass then was intercepted by Jack Elder, who grabbed the ball exactly on the goal line and raced a hundred yards down the side lines for a spectacular touchdown. The Irish speed merchant hardly let a hand get within yards of him and was soon clear. Carideo kicked the extra point and the score was Notre Dame 7, Army 6.

Cannon, for Notre Dame, kicked off to Cagle, as the second half began, who took the ball on his goal line and ran it back 24 yards.

Murrel punted to Cardieo who returned to Notre Dame's 44-yard line.

Murrel plunged through left guard four yards and Cagle made a yard. On Murrel's punt, Carideo cleverly dodged back 12 yards to his 36-yard line.

Brill found a hole at right guard and went eight yards before he was tackled by Messinger. Savoldi made first down on his 48-yard line on a delayed buck and Savoldi circled right end to Army's 44-yard line.

Cadet Forwards Fighting

The Cadets forwards were fighting magnificently against the terrific attacking power in the Irish machine. Brill fumbled and Humber recovered for Army on the Cadet 37-yard line.

Cagle's pass was intercepted by Nash, Notre Dame center, and it was the Irish's ball on Army's 41-yard line. Carideo tried to kick out of bounds but failed, Army putting the ball in play on the 20-yard line.

The third period ended with the play, Notre Dame still leading 7 to 6.

Murrel punted on the first play but Carideo was alert and returned the ball to midfield. Elder broke loose and raced to the Army's 27-yard line on an end sweep. Elder threw a long pass to Colerick, who barely missed connection at the goal line. Mullins replaced Savoldi at fullback.

Murrel punted to Carideo who was thrown by Price on Army's 42-yard line. After an out of bounds play, Brill leaped over left guard for two yards. He was stopped cold on the next play, and Carideo punted out of bounds on the Cadet 22-yard mark. Cagle let loose a long pass but it was intercepted by Brill at the 10-yard line. Notre Dame was offside, however, on the play and Army had the ball on its 27-yard line.

Cagle squirmed through to the 31-yard line but was dropped by Cappon for a three-yard loss on the next play. Both teams were offside and the play was discounted. Murrel knifed through left guard to the 37-yard line. Then he punted and the ball was downed by Carlmark on Notre Dame's 22-yard line. Brill made eight yards through a gap at right tackle. Carideo gained a yard but Mullins was stopped by Price. Carideo punted to Cagle, who took the ball on his 20-yard line and raced 34 yards to Notre Dame's 26-yard line.

Caught From Behind

The redhead had a clear field after shaking off three tacklers, but was dropped from behind by Conley. Cagle passed to Hutchinson who fell in a vain effort to make the catch, missing the ball by inches. Notre Dame took the ball on downs on the 30-yard line.

Elder was smeared on a wide end run and Brill slipped, losing a yard. He barely got this distance back on the next play and Carideo went back to punt, kicking out of bounds on the Army's 35-yard line.

Cagle was spilled for a four-yard loss by Culver who had replaced Twomey at tackle for the Irish. Cagle passed on the run but it was incomplete. O'Conner replaced Brill for Notre Dame. Murrel punted and the ball rolled out of bounds on Notre Dame's 10-yard line. Carideo, playing for time, twice bucked center without gain until the final whistle blew before the next play, with Notre Dame the winner.

Butter Market Steady; Supply, Demand Balance

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 30 (AP) —The butter market was steady with supply and demand about evenly balanced.

The egg market was somewhat weaker, although unchanged, but lower prices would not be surprising.

According to the Portland bureau of the United States department of agriculture, the preliminary estimate of production of the nation's onion crop is about the same as the forecast of October 1, or slightly under 19,000,000 bushels. Converted into equivalent cars (using the number of bushels per car usually loaded in the individual states), the estimated production for 1929 is 40,597 cars, compared with 27,255 cars in 1928 and 29,429 cars in 1927.

Total stocks on hand November 1 (both farm and commercial storage) are estimated at 20,329 cars, compared with 11,626 cars last year and 13,624 cars in 1927. The 1929 stocks are about one-half of the total estimated production, or the same proportion as the 1927 stocks were of that year's high production. A large part of the stocks on hand November 1 appear to be in the hands of growers, more than one-half of total production being reported in the hands of growers in the states of Colorado, Michigan, Oregon and Wisconsin, and slightly less than one-half in Ohio and Minnesota.

Carlot shipments reported by the railroads to November 2, 1929, are about one-third of the total estimated production, or the same proportion as shipped of the 1927 crop to the same date. For the comparatively small crop of 1928, however, a larger part of the crop (47 per cent) had moved by rail or boat to the same date. The total season's movement as reported by the railroads was about two-thirds of the estimated production in 1927 and about four-fifths of the smaller crop of 1928.

OREGON DRIED PRUNES SENT INTO EUROPE

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 30 (AP) —A total of 18,900,852 pounds of Oregon dried prunes were loaded here for European ports during the month of November, figures released today by the Merchants Exchange indicated.

November was also a good month for flour exports, with 103,421 barrels sent down the river. The money value was $521,719.

Wheat, with 958,697 bushels worth $1,166,216 shipped, and lumber, with 33,000,000 feet loaded for export, showed only the average month's activities.

WHEAT MARKET BULLISH WITH TWO-CENT GAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Quick right about face action of the wheat market in the late dealings today hoisted prices to more than 2c a bushel above quotations current Tuesday. Earlier today the wheat market tended downward as a result largely of month-end liquidating sales. During the last part of the day, however, sellers of wheat became scarce, and with predictions going around that December deliveries here Monday would prove to be small, possibly not more than 500,000 bushels, the market rose rapidly.

Wheat closed strong, 2¼c to 2¾c net higher.

Corn closed ⅝c to 1⅛c up; oats at ⅝@⅞c to ⅞c advance, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

FREIGHTER IS ASHORE SOUTH OF HAWAIIANS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30 — (AP)—The Radio Marine corporation today announced receipt of a wireless message saying the British freighter Norwich City had gone ashore on Gardner island, one of the Phoenix group in the Pacific south of Hawaii.

The message, which reached here through radio stations at Tutuila, Samoa, and Honolulu, said:

"SOS. Ashore on Gardner island. Going fast."

The Norwich City is a freighter of 5,587 gross tons, oil burning, and was built in 1911 at Whirtlepool, England, for the Reardon Smith line.

The Norwich City was a "tramp" steamer with a crew of about 34 men. On her last voyage from this port she carried a cargo of wheat to the United Kingdom. From Honolulu, the Norwich City was to have sailed for Vancouver, B. C.
