FOX MOVIE MEN INSPECT AREA

a logging train wreck, the heroine sob in the snowy hills, a backwoods town with a saloon, etc.

In connection with this, it will be necessary to find a location wherein it will be possible to transport the three-ton sound equipment without too great difficulties to overcome.

The three men were pleased with the possibilities in this locality, although until yesterday they were uncertain about the snow. Mr. Hunter, however, promised them plenty of snow during the remainder of the winter, assuring them that this was an unusually late fall.

Two Days Inspection

Saturday the men visited the Mt. Emily Lumber company holdings in the Elgard vicinity and yesterday they went into Wallowa county, inspecting the Bowman-Hicks Lumber company territory and the Bear creek region. Five inches of fresh snow in Wallowa county yesterday was welcome to the motion picture men, as snow will be a necessary factor in selecting any location.

Mr. Clark "shot" numerous pictures at the destitute elated, which will be forwarded to Los Angeles, along with the reports of Mr. Cragwell and Mr. Erickson, to aid in selecting of a site.

Selecting of a location is expected within the next few weeks, and it is believed that this locality is the only place in Eastern Oregon that is being considered. If this locality is selected, it would be necessary to bring in dog teams from Northern Idaho, tree-dumpers from Washington, and probably build a backwoods town.

Sending Lady Not Selected

Although Mr. O'Brien has been definitely signed to take the leading part in the proposed picture, the leading lady has not yet been selected. A cast of between 20 and 30 actors and actresses will be required for the picture.

It is believed locally that the fact to this section is mostly due to the filming of "Winds of Chance" in the Wallowa wonderland over a few years ago, the scenery in that picture making a distinct impression on the movie world.

GRAIN MARKET IS SOMEWHAT FIRMER

Prices Advance Sharply Early in Week, But Recede Towards Close.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Grain prices generally averaged slightly higher than a week ago at the close of the market Dec. 6, states the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States bureau of agricultural economics. Wheat steadily advanced early this week with moderate export buying, but demand and continued unfavorable reports of crop conditions in Argentina. Export sales declined sharply and domestic flour trade slackened during the latter half of the week, and wheat prices declined to a point only slightly higher than a week ago. Feed grains averaged a decidedly firmer tone with lighter offerings and good seasonable demand. Corn prices averaged higher.

World wheat and flour shipments decreased sharply to the most lower point for the season to date, and were less than half those of the corresponding figures for a year ago, totaling only 8,[illegible] bushels as against 22,[illegible] bushels for the same week of 1928. The reduction of around 2,000,000 bushels from the previous week was mostly accounted for by a decrease of over 2,000,000 bushels in North American shipments and around 1,000,000 bushels less from Argentina and Uruguay. On passage figures have also declined sharply during recent weeks and are now less than half those of the corresponding date a year ago, totaling only 28,[illegible] bushels as the first of December as against 63,[illegible] bushels last year. Arrivals in the United Kingdom continue heavy, notwithstanding the large stocks already in store in British markets, and for the last week of November were nearly 5,000,000 bushels greater than for the week preceding. Arrivals on the continent were also moderate—it shows those of a week ago, reflecting the better inquiry.

Foreign takings of wheat, however, continue to be restricted by milling regulations and high import duties. Germany has prolonged the present milling regulations for using 10 per cent native wheat until January 31, and French millers are required to use 17 per cent of native wheat. Native supplies in Spain are reported to be ample for current needs. Austria has recently purchased considerable wheat for mixing, while Greece has also been a moderate purchaser of foreign wheat.

Reports from the southern hemisphere continue unfavorable, although estimates of subscribers for various trade authorities show wide variations. Cutting is now beginning general and early reports indicate very irregular yields. In addition to the smaller total acreage, the quality of the harvested wheat appears to be greatly inferior to that of last year. First samples of wheat in Argentina tested only 60.8 pounds per bushel as against an average of 63.5 pounds last year. The quality of the new Australian crop is also much lower than that of 1928.

Light wheat receipts were in general met by sharp advances and stocks at the principal terminal markets were reduced thereby. Mill inquiry for hard winter wheat continued fair to good for the light to medium offerings. However, the higher prices early in the week effectively checked country buying. Export demand was the market feature at St. Louis. Premiums eased off slightly, but the demand continued fair.

Prices of spring wheat showed little change from a week ago. Mills were not active buyers at the high level reached about the middle of the week, but were reported taking liberal deliveries on December contracts. Premium positions were barely steady.

The Durum market continued strong with a fairly steady export demand, although the pace was somewhat less firm than a week ago. Eastern inquiry slackened somewhat at the higher prices.

Pacific coast markets held firm and prices advanced. Domestic mill demand was slack, but export inquiry early in the week was fair. However, the advance in prices tended to curtail further off-shore trade. Buying by exporters, millers and feeders was quite active. However, some export business was reported worked towards the close of November against limited stocks. Futures advanced at Portland to be 2½c and cash wheat was up 1c to 3c. Big Bend bluestem hard white was quoted at $1.[illegible], soft and western white, $1.[illegible] hard winter northern spring and western red, $1.2[illegible]. Early in the week export trade at around four cents to the United Kingdom and Continent to the Orient was reported, but demand towards the close of the week was slower. California markets were firm in strong with prices advancing 2c to 10c per 100 pounds. Excellent demand for feed wheat, together with the firmness in other markets, was the principal strengthening factor. Pacific Feeding interests throughout the state especially in the Pendleton section, were active buyers of feed wheat, reflecting the heavy feeding requirements as a result of the extended drought. In all sections west of the Rocky mountains less than one-fourth of the usual amount of precipitation has occurred in recent weeks and large areas during November and December to date have been practically rainless. This is not only true for this period, but holds also for the fall months. In fact, precipitation for the entire past year has been light. Milling wheat was in fair request at San Francisco with offerings marketed far high in comparison with local mills. Prices at Washington, Oregon and intermountain states wheat were higher than similar grades of local grain and correspondingly only small lots of milling wheat for special mixing purposes were bought. No. 1 hard white and No. 2 soft white were quoted at San Francisco at $2.[illegible] to $2.[illegible] per 100 pounds. The light receipts at Los Angeles were in good demand and prices advanced sharply. Milling wheat was quoted at that market at $2.[illegible] to $2.[illegible] and feed wheat at $2.[illegible] to $2.[illegible] per 100 pounds.

A Hot Ride!

Johnny Pudge, 13, Tacoma, Wash., didn't can't sleep on his back or sit down to his meals for some little time. He got caught in a rope behind a speeding car the other day and the auto went about a mile before the driver noticed Johnny's predicament. The 45-mile-an-hour ride was thrilling, though painful. Johnny's trousers were ruined.

Close Irregular In Stock Exchange

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—The rally in stock prices, which has continued with few interruptions since last Monday, was resumed today under the leadership of U. S. Steel common, but heavy profit-taking brought about sharp recessions in some of the recent leaders. Extreme gains in the active issues ranged from one to eight points, with Chrysler alone scoring an extreme gain of 10½. Trading was fairly heavy in volume, with the ticker running about half an hour behind the market in the early afternoon.

Profit taking came into the market in increasing volume in the last hour. U. S. Steel and other leaders lost substantial portions of their earlier gains. The close was irregular. Total sales approximated 4,700,000 shares.

Wheat Down Three Cents In Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (AP)—Much lower prices for wheat today followed announcement that the United States wheat visible supply had been reduced only [illegible] bushels for the week. This reduction was even less than for the week previous, which also had been a disappointment to trade at higher prices. On today's downturn the wheat market here fell to more than 3 cents a bushel below prices which were current less than a week ago.

Wheat closed nervous, [illegible] to [illegible] net lower.

HELPED AT CHANGE OF LIFE

MRS. CORA COLEMAN
215 E. Adams Ave., Grand Island, Nebr.

"I am going through the Change of Life. At times I would cry for hours. I got tired of going to the doctor so I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before I had taken the first bottle I began to get better. I have taken eight bottles now. I feel that it has saved my life, also doctor's bills. I work for a family of six, washing, cooking and do all my own work. People say I look like 25."—Mrs. Cora Coleman.

MRS. F. C. HILDING
422 E. Harrison St., Portland, Ore.

"Lydia E. Pinkham did for me what doctors failed to do. When the Change of Life began I was very poorly. Now at 55 I do all my own work, attend two dances a week and it is hard to make people believe I am over 40. I never see a woman in ill health but I advocate your medicine because I know its value. Every woman should take it, not just for a month or two but until they have passed the critical period."—Mrs. F. C. Hilding.

Lightning and Minerals

The lament of miners says that because lightning has struck often in the same place is an indication that there are mineral deposits there. There is a great difference in the conductivity in different locations. For instance, oak trees are considered good conductors of electricity and maple trees are considered poor conductors of electricity.

Fur Limit on Lying

Irish Judge (to litigant on witness stand)—Look here, sir, tell me in pure, unadulterated Irish English as your attorney advises you are necessary for the presentation of your fraudulent case I will have to, but if you tell me another unnecessary lie, I'll put you in the dock.—From "Old Ireland," by Rev. A. H. Sullivan.

Henry Clay's Wedding

Old records reveal that Clay was married in 1799 by the minister of the Christ Church (afterwards Episcopal) to Miss Lucretia Hart, daughter of Thomas Hart. The Harts lived at the corner of Second and Mill streets, Lexington, Ky., and were members of the above named church. The marriage took place at the Hart home, which is still standing.

Daily Thought

The test of friendship is its fidelity when every charm of fortune and environment has been swept away, and the bare, undressed character alone remains. If any still adore unsullied, and the joy of companionship survives in such an age, the friendship becomes a beautiful prophecy of immortality.—Minister Wright Hobbs.

World's Finest Marble

The Greeks were blessed with an almost inexhaustible supply of the finest and purest marble yet discovered on the island of Paros in the Aegean sea. This marble is called "Parian" and possesses a peculiar waxy attribute. The marble of Carrara was not generally put to use until later years. It is among the finest varieties in the world, but has gray streaks.

Begin New Year in April

The Bengali New Year, which occurs in April, is of some importance in that previous because merchants close their yearly accounts then. In modern India, the new year is celebrated in time with the Dewali festival and residences and offices are whitewashed, repaired and painted ready for the occasion.
