"Watered Stock"

When the face value of the stock issued is greater than the property value represented by it at the time of its issue, it is called watered stock. It will not increase the property value of a corporation to increase its stock unless the same is exchanged for real value.

Kingston, Canada, has had no street car service since fire destroyed the rolling stock, and the city is being urged to re-establish it.

Famous Scottish Regiment

The tartan of the Black Watch is entirely military. In 1725, when General Wade was sent to Scotland to pacify the Highlanders, he gave orders that the six companies in existence adopt a uniform tartan. This was of a dark color and gave rise to the name of the Black Watch. In 1739 these six companies were formed into a regiment, and the history of the Black Watch began.

Solar Surgery

From the earliest time sunlight has been considered an important aid in the preservation of health. The ancient Greeks and Romans exposed their naked bodies to the sun in the open air to recruit mental and physical energy. Exposure to the sun's rays was also adopted by the physicians of those times as a remedy for many afflictions, "especially dropsy, inflammation of the kidneys and paralysis."

Fading Frowns

A downtown hotel has a sign on the assistant manager's desk—where all the guests rush up with their complaints — and it has worked splendidly. The sign says, "Nothing is half as important as you think it is." The irate guest who waits for a chance to scream about missing baggage or noise across the hall stands and stares at the sign and the assistant manager says he can stand in one side and watch the frown fade.—Detroit News.

Praise of Silence

Says Carlyle, "Silence is of superality. Thought will not work except in silence. Silence, the great empire of silence; higher than the stars, deeper than the kingdom of death! Silence and the great silent sea! A country that has none or few of these is in a bad way. It is like a forest that has no roots, which has all turned to leaves and boughs, which must soon wither and be no forest."

Thrill Without Action

Jud Tunkins says he would go up in an airplane just to show that he isn't scared if the way he felt about it appeared to make the slightest difference. So he just admits he is scared, stays where he is and gets a thrill just the same. —Washington Star.

Unfair Action

The term "propaganda" is variously defined. A thoughtful definition given by A. J. Montgomery of the A. A. A. is that "as now generally applied, the word 'propaganda' implies an attempt to use the press in order to create public sentiment in favor of a cause, while at the same time seeking to conceal some relevant facts that would be necessary to form a sound and fair judgment."

Africans In "Mamba" Made Real Black Friday

There was a real "Black Friday" at the Tiffany Studios during the filming of "Mamba." Four hundred colored men had been working in this story of the African jungles, and one of them started a stampede by declaring:

"Things is gone from bad to worse and the world am terrible. I jes got a letter from my brother postmarked 'Jerusalem' and I know he's dead and gone to heaven. Stocks is crashin' in Wall street, so we better get busy and collect our pay."

Whereupon, all of them, dressed in African costumes and carrying spears, rushed to ward the cashier's office. There was plenty of money on hand and it was pay-day, but the cashier thought he was being held up.

"Don't spend no money in Wall street," said the leader of the Africans "Pay us first." He did. They all departed smiling.

"Mamba" is the all-talking, all-Technicolor feature in which Jean Hersholt, Eleanor Boardman and Ralph Forbes are supplying an abundance of romantic drama at the State Theatre today and tomorrow.

REVEILLE BOY WINS $50,000 RACE JUNE 14

CHICAGO, June 16 (AP)—Reveille Boy won the $50,000 American Derby here Saturday afternoon; Gallan Knight was second and Xenofol third.

A pitiless sun beat down on a crowd of 35,000 racing fans who sweltered in the heat to witness the twenty second running of the American classic at a mile and a quarter.

The race was run under clear skies and over a lightning fast track. From an overnight field of fourteen, an even dozen accepted the challenge.
